NEWTON CLUB MINSTRELS

Amateur Talent Arouses a Great Deal of Enthusiasm

Enthusiastic applause, the noise of the cymbal, the bass drum, and the lusty chorus of twenty-eight male lungs, proved that the minstrel show of the Newton Club, given on Wednesday and Thursday evenings was a howling success. While the stage of the assembly hall was not built for such heavy weights as were on the ends of the conventional black-faced half circle, it was understood that a special foundation was prepared for Mr. Mann and Mr. Nagle, who held the honor positions, dressed in striking, and considering the weather Wednesday evening, decidedly, warm costumes. The other end men were in suitable negro minstrel attire, Mr. Hanna, with wide white ribbons in his glasses being particularly classy in appearance. All the numbers were encased, the "Jungle Moon" by the club quartet, Messrs. Herrington, Odell, Bankart and Mann, being deservedly so. The hit of the show was made by Mr. Mann with his song and dance, "That Skeleton Rag." The dance was some strenuous, and Mr. Mann went the limit in that respect notwithstanding the warmth of the evening. He generously responded to two encores, one being a "blanc mange ballet," and took the remainder of the evening to recuperate. Mr. Hanna had something new in a sing-song narrative, full of hits on members of the club, which he sang out of a large book, the leaves of which had various expressions turned towards the audience. Other numbers in the first part of the program were the opening chorus by the entire company, song by Mr. Howard L. Herrington, song by Mr. Austin W. Follett, ballad by Mr. A. F. Pickernell, and a second selection by the quartet.

Mrs. Herrington, noted on the program as the "Club's soprano," sang two songs which fully deserved the generous applause of the audience.

Miss M. Elsie Harrington and Mr. Harold O. Whitney gave the dancing lesson from the "Quaker Girl" in a most graceful manner.

A farce, in one act, entitled "Hypnotism," was then given by a cast including Dr. C. A. Boutelle, Mrs. W. O. Hunt, Mrs. Fred E. Mann, Mr. W. T. Halliday and Mr. E. H. Juddins. Mrs. Mann making the hit of the show in the character of an Irish "washlady."

The evening closed with a medley of the chorus hits of the program given by the entire minstrel troupe.

The interlocutor was Mr. Henry J. Nichols, the end men were Messrs. Fred E. Mann, Frank L. Nagle, Howard L. Herrington, Edward W. Hanna, William J. Follett, Austin W. Follett, Horton S. Allen, and Frederick A. Toole, and the chorus was composed of Messrs. W. D. Follett, G. N. Bankart, W. T. Halliday, L. V. N. Washburn, R. Carter, G. B. H. Macomber, F. S. Harrington, H. P. Rolfe, J. F. Dunleavy, R. E. Briggs, A. H. Wing, H. K. Ely, R. F. Hayden and W. I. Fearing.

Mr. A. H. Handley had charge of the musical program and the orchestra.

NURSES' MEMORIAL

The Massachusetts Department, Daughters of Veterans, is to erect a memorial to the Army Nurses of the Civil War and in raising funds for this purpose the Army Nurses Memorial Association, Miss Katharine R. A. Flood of Newton, president, has been incorporated and designated June 1st as "tag day" in Newton. This will be an all-day affair and representatives for the organization stationed in prominent parts of the city will distribute "tags," in return for a nominal sum of money which will be turned into the memorial fund.

FARLOW PARK

Another Suggestion to Increase Its Usefulness

To the Editor of the Newton Graphic:

Without much expense Farlow Park may easily be made the most interesting and attractive spot in Newton, a perpetual delight to those who live nearest, a pleasure every Sunday to the thousands who worship in the five adjacent churches, and at the same time a source of health and happiness, of instruction and inspiration, to the hundreds of young children in the Underwood and Bigelow schools who have now no safe or convenient playground.

As was suggested in your columns last week, a border of about twenty feet width might be separated from the interior by open wire netting and ornamented with taste and skill, all the rest of the space being given to the children. Of course there would be no need of such a protected margin on the side toward Centre street. The bridge in the centre of the interior, utterly useless hitherto, might easily serve, if widened at the top, for a music stand, where the coming Newton brass band or orchestra would charm future generations more fortunate than ours. The pretty polliwog pond, two feet deep, which on account of its steep sloping and slippery sides has always been dangerous to infants, though none have been drowned there yet, is already more than half filled with dirt, stone, and gravel. The doves and other birds that bathed and drank there, now are obliged to hop across the sidewalk to Vernon street, where the dripping hose that fills the water-carts furnishes a nice puddle and a shower bath to boot!

Seriously, that proposed border, laid out by a landscape gardener with flower beds in crescents, rings, crosses, etc., with a velvety strip of close-cropped grass next the sidewalk, might be made unspeakably beautiful. He might even, by proper selection, make such floral arrangement as should display the bloom appropriate to each consecutive month from March to October, taking hints from Perdita's exquisite description, in Shakespeare's Winter's Tale, next to Milton's in Lycidas the finest flower passage in all literature:

"daffodils,
That come before the swallow dares,
and take
The winds of March with beauty; violets dim,
But sweeter than the lids of Juno's eyes
Or Cytherea's breath; pale primroses, That die unmarried, ere they can behold Bright Phoebus in his strength; bold oxlips
and
The crown imperial; lilies of all kinds,
The flower-de-luce being one." etc.

"Let us forget," there should be, in addition, works more wholly of man's art;—statues; or, less costly, busts; or, still less expensive, tablets; or at least portraits under glass roofs and in protected frames, with features distinctly visible from the street. Near Elliot Church some memorial should tell of John Elliot, Newton's "Apostle to the Indians;" at the corner of Church and Eldredge, a reminder of George W. Shinn, originator of the Newton Hospital; founder of the Society of Shut-ins; joint author of the Actors' Church Alliance; central on Church street, the beloved Baptist poet, S. F. Smith, author of our finest national hymn,

"My Country, 'tis of thee"; central on Eldredge street, a statue of Farlow himself, the generous donor of the park and benefactor of the Free Public Library; at the corner of Eldredge and Vernon, the illustrious Newton-born Roger Sherman; midway on Vernon street, Horace Mann, who, among other distinguished services to education, established the first Normal school in America,

A TRAGIC DEATH

Newtonville Young Man Loses Life in Accident

Mr. Roland I. Lothrop, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Lothrop of Newtonville was accidentally killed at South Londonderry, Vermont, last Friday afternoon. Mr. Lothrop had taken the degree of Master of Forestry at Harvard, and six months ago went into the lumber business for himself at South Londonderry. On Friday he was in his saw-mill, and as he was passing by the machinery some belting caught his coat, he was thrown heavily against some timbers, and though a physician was soon brought he died without regaining consciousness in less than an hour.

Mr. Lothrop was a graduate of the Newton High School, of Harvard College, Class of 1909, and of the Harvard Graduate School of Forestry in 1911. He was also in the government forestry service in Colorado for a short time. His death at the very beginning of what promised to be an unusually successful business career was a terrible shock not only to his immediate family, but also to a large circle of friends. In the few months that he had been in Londonderry he had already made for himself a remarkable place in the esteem of the people. He had entered heartily into the civic and social and religious life of the community, and so deep was the impress he had made, that Sunday morning the Baptist Church he had attended held a memorial service in his honor.

The funeral services were at his late home, 36 Central avenue, Newtonville, Monday afternoon, and were conducted by the Rev. Harrie R. Chamberlin, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist Church, Newton, assisted by the Rev. Lucius Eastman from New Jersey. The burial was in Newton Cemetery.

Y. M. C. A.

The physical department is making the most of its new field this season. Mr. Macpherson, the director, has arranged a ball game next Saturday at 3 P. M. with the Quincy Y. M. C. A. with admission at ten cents. Mr. Macpherson is also arranging a series of outdoor athletic meets for the various classes, next Saturday will be for the juniors, on May 8, the intermediates will have their chance and on May 25, the seniors meet will be held.

On June 22, the largest Y. M. C. A. athletic event of New England will be held here when the Massachusetts and Rhode Island State Y. M. C. A. hold their championship meet.

The tennis courts will be ready for play next Saturday.

A new backstop has been erected near Oakland street.

briefly at West Newton, permanently elsewhere. Channing of the great heart and splendid intellect, the inspirer of Mann, should not be omitted; nor Clafin, nor Edmonds, Mallin, Hornbrook, Jones, Jewett, Charles Ward, Clara Barton, Mary Livermore, or Julia Ward Howe.

"The Greeks said grandly in their tragic verse,
'Let no man be called happy till his death,'"

and so the yet living benefactors of Newton must wait. Distant be the day when the death angel shall give permission to blazon their honored names.

Lovers of art, of beauty, of goodness would naturally linger to study such a collection; teachers would often take their classes to such an object lesson; passing autos would go slowly by; but perhaps most fortunate of all would be those whose dwellings front the scene.

HOMER B. SPRAGUE.
Newton, Mass., May 1, 1912.

TAFT HAS GOOD MAJORITY IN CITY

About 200 Taft Delegate Votes Lost by Defective Marking A Fair Vote Cast

Newton had its first experience on Tuesday with a direct vote for presidential electors and a preference vote for a president, the Republican and Democratic parties having separate ballots.

The Republicans polled 3475 votes and the Democrats, 349, the total being 65 per cent of the total registration.

The greatest interest centered, of course in the Taft-Roosevelt fight, for the preferential vote and for delegates, the latter being the more important. President Taft received 2021 preferential votes to 1200 for Roosevelt and 59 for La Follette. But on the important vote for delegates, the President suffered greatly thru the independent candidacy of Seiberlich. It was not the actual vote received by Seiberlich, but the marking of the ballot for nine delegates at large, all pledged to Taft, where eight only were to be elected made the ballot void. It is, of course impossible to figure this loss exactly, but a conservative estimate places the figures between 190 and 200. Senator Crane, the leading man on the Taft delegates received 1839 votes as against 2021 given the President on the preferential ballot, as against 2131 given ex-governor Long, the leading Taft alternate, against 2100 given Councillor Cushing, the Taft district delegate and 2013 the leading Taft district alternate. The average vote of all the Taft delegates at large is 1827, as compared with an average vote of 2113 for the Taft alternate delegates at large. It was also the first time the city had attempted the voting at grouped precincts, two voting precincts, in each of wards two, three and six being combined in order to save expense.

Baxter and Coleman were the leading Roosevelt delegates, with 1255 and 1257 votes respectively, as compared with 1839 received by Senator Crane and 1843 for Congressman Weeks, the leading Taft delegates. There was a long list of preferential votes for vice-president, including ballots for Woodrow Wilson, Mayor Hatfield, Thomas W. Lawson, Judge Hughes, Newton Newkirk, and several others for whom the factious voter exercised his inalienable rights as a citizen.

Our Newton citizens who were candidates for delegates, all ran ahead of their colleagues. Captain Weeks leading Senator Crane by 4 votes, Mr. James W. French, district delegate for Roosevelt having 13 more than Mr. Morrill, Alderman Miller, a Roosevelt alternate having 13 more than Dr. Abbott and Mr. James S. Cannon, a democratic district delegate having 58 more than Mr. Williams.

There was one unfortunate incident of the election in ward two, where Mr. Alfred S. Mawson of Cabot street lost his vote because someone else had previously voted on his name. It is thought that the first voter had a name which sounded similar to that of Mr. Mawson, and

MASON BUILDING, 70 KILBY STREET, BOSTON

S. T. EMERY NEWTON CENTRE

WE HAVE IN MIND a gentleman who was newly resident in Newton, but who kept his only bank account in another city.

During the first week—while at home settling his household—he was suddenly called upon for more cash than he had on his person.

He drew a check on his bank, but, being a stranger, found considerable difficulty and annoyance in cashing it.

He quickly learned the value of a local banking connection—and made one.

Each of our depositors fully realizes the convenience and satisfaction of relationship with us.

will be given tomorrow afternoon and general dancing in the evening.—The last meeting of the year of the Sewing Circle of the Methodist Church held their meeting at the home of Mr. A. R. Flanders of Langley road. A lot of sewing was accomplished for the Morgan Memorial of Boston.—The May party of Trinity church parish will be held tomorrow evening in the new parish house. Dances will be given under the direction of Miss Harrington, and there will be music
by Mr. Van Vleet, cellist, Mr. R. G.
Hemlinway, bass, and an orchestra.
Dancing will follow.—Mrs. Margaret R. Forsyth, the wife of Mr. Robert Forsyth, died last Wednesday at the Newton Hospital following an operation. Funeral services were held from her late home on the Walker estate, Montvale
road, yesterday afternoon, in charge of Rev. E. M. Noyes. The burial was at Newton Cemetery.—At the First Baptist Church next Sunday morning Rev. M. A. Levy will be assisted by Rev. A. J. Vining, D.
D., the brilliant representative of Baptist interests in Eastern Europe.
Dr. Vining is peculiarly equipped to speak authoritatively concerning the religious situation in Serbia, Roumania, Bulgaria, Hungary and European Russia.—Nearly 900 people attended the Vespers last Sunday at the First Baptist Church, and listened enthusiastically
to the musical program provided
by John Hermann Loud, F.A.G.O., a chorus of 40 male voices from the Highland Glee Club, under the direction of Mr. Edgar J. Smith, with Mrs.
Wilhelmina Wright Calvert as soloist, and Mr. Almon J. Fairbanks at the piano. The reception of this Vesper Service has led to the hope that it may be repeated next year, and if possible become an annual event.—Dr. Michael Chirurg of Ashton Park on his return from Washington, where he attended the Convention of the American Society of International Laws, entertained at dinner in the Touraine last Monday

A STEP BACKWARD

By WILLIS BEACH POTTER

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

A young clergyman fresh from a theological seminary entered a gambling den in Dead Man's Gulch and standing in the center of the room,
said in a sonorous voice:

"You are invited to attend a prayer meeting in Tompson's wood to commence at 5 o'clock. It is now a quarter to 4. I trust that every man present will be there."

Instead of every man showing a willingness to go to Tompson's wood every man proceeded with what he was doing, which was principally gambling.

The young clergyman—he might have been twenty-seven or twenty-eight years old—looked mildly upon this want of response, not in the least discourage, and was about to leave the saloon when his attention was attracted to a young girl who came in, approached a table where half a dozen men were playing poker, and putting her arms around the neck of one of the players, begged him to leave.

"Do come home, father," she said.
"Mother is sick and your being here worries her."

"After I've played a few hands more,
Effie, I've had a long run of bad luck,
which is sure to turn."

The clergyman from the moment the girl entered was visibly affected by her presence. Going to the table, he looked over the game for awhile, then said to her father, "If you go home I'll see what I can do to recover your losses." Every one looked up at the speaker surprised, especially the man addressed. He rose, leaving seven or eight dollars on the table, and telling his daughter to go home and say to her mother that he would be there soon, stood looking over the game.

His fellow gamblers were five stool pigeons and one card sharp. They had fleeced the man who had given up his place out of nearly all the money he possessed. The clergyman steadily won, but in small amounts, till he had increased the pile before him to several hundred dollars. Then the card sharp gave his stool pigeons a look and opened the next hand for a jack pot.

All stayed in for one round, then dropped out on the second, and on the third
the betting was left to the card sharp and the clergyman, who continued to raise each other till the pot resembled a miniature mountain.

By this time there were a number of lookers on, and the excitement waxed high. A clergyman playing against Dave Simpson, who was known for the sharpest card sharp at Dead Man's Gulch, was an interesting sight to see.

When the two men tired of raising
each other, Simpson "called" the cler-gyman. This by the rules of the game compelled the latter to show his hand
first, an evident disadvantage to him.

Playing with a light unguessed opponent who might increase his hand after knowing what the clergyman held.
The broad brim of the parson's clerical felt hat was pulled down over his eyes, and his cards were held close under them. "Presently he said mildly:

"I see four kings in my hand, and nothing will beat four kings except four aces. Since I've got an ace, too, there's no way for you to beat me except by introducing an ace from another pack, which would, to any the least, be irregular. I'm going to show my cards, and if you have that fifth ace I'd advise you to keep it dark."

The speaker seemed to be troubled by an itching at the back of his neck and put a hand up to scratch. When he withdrew his hand he held in it a knife eight inches long, which he held over his opponent. The latter retained his nerve, sitting motionless.

"You're no parson," he said. "Who are you?"

"I am a clergyman of the Methodist Episcopal church. My name is James Sykes, formerly a desperado and black-leg, but reformed."

Throwing his cards on the table, he told the man for whom he played to scoop in the pot.

Every one had heard of Jim Sykes,
and not a man among the gamblers dared to jackle him. He went home with the man he had befriended and
on arrival said:

"You people have forgotten me, but I haven't forgotten you. Once when a posse was after me to hang me this young lady, then a slip of a girl, hid me and saved my neck. These funds are a small token of my gratitude."

He took the girl's hand in his and looked into her eyes with his, which were full of gratitude.

"I remember," she said, "six or seven years ago a young man coming to our house and telling me that he was hunted for his life, but he could not possibly be you. He was a frightful looking object. You, on the contrary, are the personification of all that is good."

"And what made the change in me?"
The little girl who saved my life. I resolved that her effort should not be in vain. I determined to live for the good instead of the bad. I was converted by an evangelist and joined the Methodist church. Now I am a worker in the vineyard of the Lord."

And before he left he had secured a helpmeet to work with him in his new field. The couple worked exclusively among the roughest classes, for which labor on account of his experience with them the husband was eminently fitted. There are a number of these western towns which were once sinks
of iniquity that are now reputable places, made so by our hero and her-lance.

POINTERS FOR THE MOTORIST

How Tires Should Be Washed

At this season of the year when roads, in consequence of spring showers, are often muddy, most motor cars
are coming in for their share of washing.

Washing tires and washing a car
are two different propositions, says
the Michelin tire expert. Water alone should be used to wash tires and as little of it as necessary. After every run the envelope should be wiped clean with a damp sponge or well-wrung cloth.

A common mistake made by motorists is to mix kerosene with water.
This may be advisable when washing the body of a car to remove mud and dust from the varnish, but it should never be done when washing tires because kerosene eats rubber. This fact can be readily proved by immersing a small piece of rubber in kerosene and allowing it to soak. The rubber will soon swell and lose its elasticity. The reason for this is apparent. Kerosene is rich in fatty properties which remain after the evaporation of the gases. Every time
a tire is washed with a kerosene mixture the rubber is deprived of some of its strength.

When washing tires it is best simply to dampen a sponge with clean water, care being taken that the sponge is not soaked and dripping.
Then wipe the tires dry with a cloth
or handful of waste.

This, and many other phases of the tire question are fully covered in the "Books of Bibendum" sent free to motorists upon request by the Mich-
elin Tire Company, of Milltown, New Jersey.

Crawford
Ranges

One very remarkable fact in connection with Crawford Ranges is that
nobody ever willingly changes from a
Crawford to a range of any other make.

There must be a reason—we believe there are several. The Single Damper (patented,) the scientific Cup-Joint Oven Flues that heat the oven in every part alike; the Ash Hod (patented,) instead of the clumsy ash pan; these are some of the Crawford time and trouble savers.

If you will carefully examine and compare
the Crawford with any or all other cooking
ranges you will see why Crawford's do better work, with
more comfort for
the cook and less
waste of time and money. Send

ed pamphlet.

"The Stronger Tie" is a military play and this will be its first presentation. "The Black Bear" is an Indian play and met with great success when it was first produced last summer at a Garden Party at the Centenary Methodist Church. The proceeds are for the benefit of the Boys' Club of the Congregational Church and the Allen School Music Fund.

CROCKER-SMITH

The wedding of Miss Ethel May Smith the daughter of Mr. G. Pray Smith, of Newtonville, and Mr. Samuel S. Crocker Jr., of Newton, took place Tuesday afternoon at the home of the bride on Watertown street. The ceremony was performed at four o'clock by Rev. Jay T. Stocking, pastor of Central Church, with only relatives in attendance. The bride and groom were unattended, the bride wearing her travelling dress. Mr. and Mrs. Crocker will go to their summer home at Barnstable for the summer months.

POMROY HOME

Our thoughtful friends, who read the monthly list of gifts to our Home, have probably noticed how seldom furniture is received. Our children are very human and full of animal spirits which leave a lasting impression upon our limited supply of chairs. We have an urgent request to make of the good housekeepers of Newton, who at this time of year, are looking over their supply of household goods, if there are any articles, which seem superfluous, or out of date, they will kindly remember us.

MR. REID DIES SUDDENLY

Mr. Henry G. Reid, a well known resident of Newton, died suddenly Sunday night at his home on Church street from heart disease. While Mr. Reid has not been in good health for some time, he has attended to business as usual, and his death was a great shock to his many friends. He is survived by a widow, three sons, Donald, Robson and Clark Reid, and two daughters, Eleanor and Margaret Reid.

Mr. Reid was born in Hopewell, New Brunswick, July 4, 1866. He came to Boston in 1880. For many years he was Superintendent of the Sales Department of the Endicott Johnson Company, Shoe Manufacturers, Lincoln street, retiring from that position in 1906. Afterwards he became a member of the Brown, Fluke Leather Company. And later still he became manager and treasurer of the Reid, Conant Company, which has factories in several states. Mr. Reid was a member of the Dalhousie Lodge of Masons, Newton Royal Arch Chapter and Gethsemane Commandery, K. T., and had many social and fraternal connections. He was for years a member of the Standing Committee of the Immanuel Baptist Church. Above all he will be remembered as a man who through a busy life enjoyed and treasured his home and its interests. His presence will be deeply missed by a wide circle of friends.

Funeral services were held from his late home on Wednesday afternoon and the house was filled with his many friends, including delegations from the Masonic bodies and many business associates. There was a profusion of flowers. The services were in charge of Rev. H. R. Chamberlain of Immanuel Baptist church and Rev. Dr. George S. Butters of the Methodist church. The burial was in the Newton Cemetery.

MR. STUTSON ENTERTAINS

At the thirty-ninth annual reunion and banquet of the English High School Class of 1873, at Young's Hotel, Mr. Thomas E. Stutson of Newton was a prominent figure. In the afternoon there was an automobile ride of thirty miles through the suburbs at which Mr. Stutson officiated as lecturer. In passing a large field in Newton which had just been covered with fertilizer there were remarks about the strong odor coming from the field which brought from the lecturer the remark, "In the distance you see the Newton post office. Notice the odor from the dead letters." At the banquet Mr. Stutson presented a loving cup to Clarence H. Carter and spoke pleasantly of his relations to various members of the class, while his stories of Newton and its inhabitants were received with great applause.

After all, the crank keeps things moving whether in the machine shop or in society.

Legal Formalities and delays that may ensue

Legal formalities in connection with municipal permits to set poles and string wires sometimes involve delays of a month or more in completing orders for telephone service.

Don't wait until the last minute, therefore. Give your order without delay, so that these legal requirements may not inconvenience you when you want service.

Call Fort Hill 7600 and ask for the Contract Department. If possible, we shall complete the work in time to list your address in the next Boston Division Telephone Directory.

The next Telephone Directory will include not only Greater Boston, but also the North Shore and the South Shore. No other directory will be published this summer.

SUMMER RESORTS

Concise and helpful information for the man who is planning a summer vacation for himself and family is contained in the 1912 edition of the Manual of Summer Resorts, just issued by the Passenger Department of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company.

More than a thousand summering places in the most charming section of New England are mentioned in this book. It tells the vacation seeker how to reach these places. It gives the names and locations of the best hotels and boarding cottages, together with their rates, and it contains much other information that will prove helpful to the summer tourist.

The summer resorts reached by the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad offer manifold attractions to vacationists. It's the combination of mountain, seashore and country that makes Southern New England such a charming place for a summer vacation.

A copy of the Manual of Summer Resorts will be sent free by the Vacation Bureau, Room 893, South Station, Boston, Mass.

KIMBALL—WISE

Miss Edith Wise the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Wise, of West Newton, and Mr. James E. Kimball, of Troy, N. Y., were married Monday evening at the Wise residence, on Prince street. The ceremony took place at 7.30 o'clock. Rev. Albert Hammett of the Newtonville Universalist church officiating. The bride was in white satin, trimmed with Carickmacross point lace and pearl trimming and wore her mother's wedding veil. Her sister, Miss Ruth C. Wise, was the maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Helen G. Bates, of Cambridge, and Miss Helen Jewell of Newton. They were in gold colored satin, veiled with white chiffon and crystal trimmings. Mr. Charles MacArthur of Troy, N. Y., was the best man and the ushers were Messrs William M. and Russell P. Wise, brothers of the bride. An interesting feature of the wedding was the singing of the Lohengrin wedding march, by Miss Aline Power of Paris, Ky., Wellesley '11. A small reception followed until 9.30, the guests being relatives, neighbors, friends, and classmates of the bride who is a graduate of Wellesley '08, and of the groom, who graduated from Union college the same year. Mr. and Mrs. Kimball will make their home in Troy, N. Y.

FARCE COMEDY

Members of the Ladies' Aid Society scored a big success in the two-act comedy, "The Peak Sisters from Alaska," given Tuesday evening at the Lincoln Park Baptist Church. The Peak Sisters, who numbered nine, presented an intensely ludicrous appearance in their quaint costumes and manners, and there was a laugh in every line. Because of continued applause there were no weak voices and apparently no stage-fright, the performers being well drilled under the direction of Mrs. Gertrude Barnes. Miss Vera Chase had charge of the music. The cast included the following well-known ladies: Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. Henry K. Burrison, Mrs. Sprague, Mrs. Sawyer, Mrs. Sartwell, Mrs. Marcellus W. Chase, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Alfred Barbour, and Mrs. Gertrude Barnes.

FIRST BALL OF S. OF Y.

The first annual grand ball of J. Wiley Edmonds Camp, 31, Sons of Veterans was held last Thursday evening at Temple Hall, Newtonville.

A concert by the orchestra opened the festivities followed by dancing until midnight. The hall was prettily decorated with the national colors which greatly added to the attractiveness of the occasion. Among the guests were members of Charles Ward Post, G. A. R., and the Spanish War Veterans and J. R. Farrell, from Division headquarters. Mrs. D. B. Burnett, Mrs. J. H. Wentworth and Mrs. S. P. Putnam were the matrons.

The floor was under the direction of D. B. Burnett, assisted by J. H. Wentworth and the following aids, A. E. Dubois, L. T. Putnam, R. D. Groth, Charles Beckwith, G. F. James, Edwin Beal, E. P. Hunt, E. W. Robinson, E. A. Caldwell, and H. F. Fuller.

N. H. S.

The class of 1912 held its annual reception last Saturday evening in Temple Hall, Newtonville, which was decorated in the class colors of white and yellow in honor of the occasion. The matrons were Mrs. Enoch C. Adams, Mrs. Arthur J. Wellington and Mrs. H. H. Shunway. About two hundred were present.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

When "Seven Days" comes to the Castle Square on Monday it will bring with it an atmosphere of genuine amusement and wholesome hilarity. It is a farcical play of humorous incidents and entertaining characters, and from act to act it displays an abundance of variety and novelty.

The plot involves the quarantining of a gay party in the home of one of its members, and although all the acts are comic it is the second which is the most laughable. "Seven Days" is in fact a play that is made wholly for laughter, and it will offer the merriest of weeks at the Castle Square. Its only problem is to make its audiences happy, and its purpose is to give continuous pleasure.

The cast of the Castle Square will be carefully arranged in order to bring out its full humor, and with John Craig and Mary Young in the leading roles it promises to start off the spring season with flying colors.

THE THESPIANS

Gratifying success attended the performance in the parish house of the Universalist Church on Friday evening of the two sketches by The Thespians, "A Household Fairy or De Clifford's Legacy," with Mrs. Paul Roberts Knight and Mr. H. Stewart Boston in the cast, and "A Difference in Clocks," by Miss Marian Bassett and Mr. George M. Bridges, which were admirably presented, and well merited the enthusiastic applause and endorses of the large audience. Between the acts, Miss E. Gertrude Johnson favored the audience with a beautifully rendered vocal selection, "The Angels' Serenade," with violin obligato by Mr. Paul Revere Knight and piano accompaniment by Miss Anderson.

If the entertainment is a sample of what the future meetings will offer, the club may well feel confident of an ever increasing membership list, and its success is assured, not only as a dramatic club of a high order with many talented members, but also as a social factor. At this meeting it was voted to make an amendment in the By-Laws of the club, changing the membership list to an active and associate membership.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Mrs. H. Stewart Boston, president; Mrs. E. D. H. Jenkinson, vice president; Miss E. Gertrude Johnson, secretary, and Mr. Charles L. Hartshorne, treasurer.

The history of the average man is largely foot notes.

IN MEMORIAM

Resolutions of the Directors of the N. E. Shoe and Leather Association

On Saturday, April 20, 1912, there passed away, after a brief illness, in the person of Mr. John H. Noyes, one of the oldest and most respected members of the New England leather trade, at the age of 69.

Mr. Noyes was born in Candia, N. H., and on removal to Boston engaged in the leather business, and remained therein for an unbroken period of about 40 years. During 35 years of this time he resided in Newton Centre, where he had always been looked upon as one of that city's most upright and useful citizens.

Thoroughly unassuming in character, Mr. Noyes preferred to traverse the quieter pathways of business and social life; yet few men in his industry have been more sincerely interested in its welfare. Proof of this was shown by the fact that he had been for 11 years a member of the New England Shoe and Leather Association, gladly contributing to its financial support, but never seeking office, or even availing himself frequently of its services.

In his business dealings he was the soul of honor and integrity, and was looked upon by all of his associates as absolutely honest and reliable, and as a man, who to know was to greatly respect.

Funeral services were held at the late home of Mr. Noyes on Summer street, Newton Centre, Monday, April 22d, the body afterward being interred at Mount Auburn.

The New England Shoe and Leather Association, through its Board of Directors, hereby expresses its profound regret at the loss of this valuable member of our industry and desires to extend to his surviving relatives its sincere sympathy in their bereavement.

THE NEWTON HIGH SCHOOLS

The boys of the two upper classes of the High School voted on the presidential nomination candidates last Tuesday. The result was Taft, 70; Roosevelt, 56; Wilson, 3, and Clark 1.

Mr. Adams spoke to all the pupils on Wednesday morning about their conduct in the Clafin Field Stadium. Rehearsals are now being held for the senior play in the Classical High.

This play was written by two seniors and will soon be presented under the auspices of the English Club.

Newton white-washed Boston Latin last Friday in a fast game resulting in the score of 4 to 0.

Last Tuesday afternoon Newton completely overwhelmed Melrose by the score of 10 to 1.

The Sophomore and Junior classes assembled in the hall Wednesday morning and were entertained by the school orchestra. Mr. Palmer also spoke of several matters pertaining to school athletics.

The Seniors of room 109 and the faculty played a game of baseball Wednesday afternoon on Clafin field. To the surprise of everyone the faculty nine won by a score of 14-11.

EDITORIAL

It is a serious reflection on the intelligence of the Republican voters of this city that notwithstanding
many personal circulars and extensive advertising, over two hundred made their ballots void by voting for more than eight delegates at large.
Massachusetts has always prided itself on the excellence of its Australian ballot and on the intelligence
with which our electorate exercise their voting privileges. That pride must now take a tumble, and the President of the United States is the one who suffers from our own deficiencies. It is very evident that the voters of Massachusetts republicans, have there-
before each election.

There seems to be no doubt of the fact that a majority of the votes actually cast last Tuesday were for the renomination of President Taft, altho a technicality gives the Roosevelt delegates at large, a majority of the ballots actually counted. Col.
Roosevelt has met the situation in a manner which has made him many friends, altho the Roosevelt delegates at large, evidently do not intend to follow his advice. Under these circumstances it is clearly the duty of the Taft managers in this state to obtain all the facts and to make a contest for the seating of their delegates at Chicago.

There seems to be a general feeling that in refusing to elect the Taft delegates at large, or rather in apparently refusing to elect them,
Massachusetts republicans, have there-
by refused to endorse the re-election of Senator Crane, who headed the Taft list of delegates I do not believe that the recent presidential vote ought to be read in that light. Senator Crane has been too valuable a man for the state of Massachusetts
to lose and I am firmly of the opinion that a popular vote on his re-election would be largely in his favor.
Massachusetts needs men of Senator Crane's ability and will avail herself
of their services whenever and wherever possible.

The members of the Newton Printers' Board of Trade held their second banquet since its organization last January on Monday evening at the Woodland Park Hotel, Auburndale.
The toastmaster of the evening was John Temperley, the president, who introduced the speakers of the evening, who spoke on subjects interesting to the members. F. R. Cummings of the Bay State Paper Company and Henry L. Goodman of the John Carter Company spoke for the paper jobbers, John A. Rogers of the George H. Morrill Ink Company on inks and its uses, and Henry Heath of the Hansen Type Foundry on types, presses, etc.

SURPRISE PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hilton of Oakland avenue were entertained Monday evening by members of the Epworth League at the Centenary Methodist Church, the occasion being a celebration of the fourth anniversary of their marriage. The gathering was in the nature of a surprise and after a short address by Dr. Butters
the new pastor, the members adjourned to the parish house, where a miniature circus with its accompanying side shows, freaks and fortune tellers, was held. The parish house was very attractively decorated with red and white festoons and bells. The evening closed with refreshments, served under the direction of Miss Alice Sumner.

ALLOWS ONE HIT

Wilmot Whitney Pitches One Hit No-
Run Game Against Boston Latin.
Also Makes Good Showing With Stick

By the excellent pitching of Wilmot Whitney, the Newton High School baseball team was able to shut out
the strong Boston Latin School nine
last Saturday afternoon on Clafin Field, Newtonville, by the score of 4 to 0. The game after the first inning was interesting from a spectator's standpoint, the local team touching Dobson for three hits and the visitors were only successful in getting one hit off Whitney.

Tate was knocked out of the box
in the first inning and Dobson, who succeeded him, was wild, passing six, but the excellent support which he received kept the score down.

Hyatt started the batting first in the first inning with a free pass, advanced to second on Nash's single and both advanced on Beal's sacrifice.
On a well-directed single by Whitney,
both men crossed the plate and Wilmot scored the third run on Kyle's single to right.

Wholley, the only visitor to hit Whitney safely, Boles and McGinn played an excellent game for the visitors and Hyatt, Nash and Whitney excelled for the home team. The lineup:

Newton—Hyatt lf, Nash 1b, Beal
3b, Whitney p, Terrio cf, Tucker 2b, Tapley ss, Conroy c, Cullen rf, Kyle rf, Atkins rf.

Boston Latin—Graham ss, Wholley
3b, cf, McGinn c, Boles lf, Daly cf, rf, O'Keefe rf, Campbell 2b, Tate p, J.
Doherty 1b, Dobson p, Miller 3b,

ANNEX ANOTHER VICTORY

Melrose H. S. Defeated 10 to 1 by Local Team Last Tuesday. Whitney Receives Excellent Support

Melrose High were given a decisive beating by the Newton nine last Tuesday on Clafin Field to the tune of 10 to 1. The home team put the game on ice in the first inning, by scoring four runs, while the visitors scored its lone tally in the fifth on an error, stolen base and single by Capt. Chelssong.

Although both teams registered five hits apiece, the visitors' hits were kept well scattered, while the home team's came at opportune time and assisted by 8 errors brought the score to 10.

Ross was knocked out of the box
in the first inning and Wentzell, who succeeded him, pitched good ball until the fifth, when a liner caught him
on the wrist and his place was taken by Chelssong. The lineup:

Newton—Hyatt lf, Nash 1b, Beal
3b, Whitney p, Terrio cf, Tapley ss, Hyslop 2b, Conroy c, Kyle rf, Tucker rf.

Melrose—Chelssong 1b, p, Brady cf, Merrill c, Deiter 3b, Hall 2b, Wolley ss, Phillips lf, 1b, Wentzell p, Peabody rf, Ross p, Huski lf.

LOSE POOR GAME

Newton H. S. Team Defeated by Arlington H. S. Nine, 11 to 10
Yesterday. Game Marked by Poor Fielding and Batting

In one of the poorest and loosely played games on Clafin Field this season, in which the Newton H. S. team was defeated by the Arlington
H. S. nine, 11 to 10, was seen by a crowd of spectators yesterday afternoon. It must have been an off day for the home team, as they defeated
the Melrose High School team a few days ago 10 to 1 and the latter team defeated the conquerors of the Orange and Black 22 to 5 two weeks ago.

The home team used three pitchers
in yesterday's contest and all three looked the same to the heavy sick-
ers. Spalding who started the game lasted but three innings, being touched up for five hits and issued two free passes. Higgins was next to meet the slaughter of the opposing batsmen,
he being touched up for seven hits
and Wilmot Whitney, the first string pitcher of the squad finished the game, the visitors getting to him for two singles, a double and a triple.

The visitors clouted the ball for 15 hits with a total of 23 bases, while the home players made 11 singles and four errors which proved costly. Although the visitors made 9 errors,
several were registered when no
scoring could be done.

Wellman, formerly goal tender on the hockey team, caught his first
whole game for the home team,
catching a superb one, making several pretty throws to second and batted the ball for three singles. Capt.
Nash also contributed three singles
and made 13 put outs without an error. The lineup:

Arlington—Bowers ss, Blair cf,
Percy lf, Lowe 2b, Chaves p, Ross 3b,
Conseiler 1b, Higgins rf, Keycroft c.
Newton—Hyatt lf, Nash 1b, Beal 3b,
Whitney rf, p, Terrio cf, Tapley ss,
Hyslop 2b, Harris 2b, Wellman c,
Spalding p, Higgins p, Derusha.

WILL ATTEND BALL GAME

Mr. Frank Fell, the popular barber, wins the prize offered this week to the contestant for a season ticket to the American League ball games, who files the highest number of votes for the week. As there will be no game tomorrow, Mr. Fell will receive a ticket to the grandstand for next Thursday afternoon.

filed with the City Clerk today.

DISSOLUTION OF PARTNERSHIP

Messrs. Alfred W. Rees and Wilfred
J. Bernier announce that the partnership heretofore existing between them
for the purpose of conducting a retail grocery and provision business at No.
100 Centre Street, Newton, Mass., under the firm name of Rees and Bernier, has
this day dissolved and that Alfred W.
Rees will succeed to said business,
which will hereafter be conducted at the same place.

MAY PARTY

One of the prettiest affairs of the season was the dancing party given for the young people Saturday afternoon in the assembly hall of the Newton Club. It was participated in by about 75 children, whose graceful dancing and dainty costumes won the admiration of an audience of more than 100 parents and friends. There was a miscellaneous order of dances, under the direction of Miss West. An interesting feature was the fancy dances by the Misses Burns and Woodward of Boston, which were very cleverly executed.

Mrs. Knoll C. Adams and Mrs.
Alex. D. Salinger received the children and at the close of the dancing refreshments were served. The affair was arranged and successfully carried out by the Industrial Committee of the Newtonville Woman's Guild, of which Mrs. Carl M. Wheaton is chairman. The proceeds which amounted to $45.00 are for the benefit of the Guild.

Newtonville

—Miss Deane of Broadway left this week for a trip to Honolulu.

—Mrs. Francis D. Hall was taken seriously ill yesterday at her home on Washington park.

—Mrs. Caroline R. Tucker of New York is having a two-story bungalow built on Kimball terrace.

—Mrs. William F. Hawley of Lowell avenue has opened her summer residence at North Falmouth.

—Mrs. Edwin E. Wakefield entertained at an informal tea on Wednesday afternoon at her residence on Highland avenue.

—Court Genoa, Daughters of Isabella held a very successful whist and dancing party last evening in Dennison hall.

—In a straw vote taken at the Clafin School yesterday, Taft won with 44 votes, Roosevelt second, with 38 votes, and Wilson third, with 2 votes, Clark and LaFollette 1 each.

—Mr. Emory B. Fisher celebrated his birthday Tuesday at his residence on Austin street and his friends showered him with bouquets and birthday cards, the cards far exceeding the number of years in his age.

—The funeral of Mr. Charles Leonard Cotton who died Saturday at his home on Dexter road was held Monday afternoon. The interment was in Brookdale Cemetery, Dedham, where services were conducted at 2 o'clock in the chapel, by Rev. Joseph Sea-bury of Wellesley.

—Mr. Charles E. E. Strout, for many years engaged in the grocery business in this village with his brother,
died last night at his home on Highland avenue after an illness of two months. Mr. Strout was born in Braintree, Mass., and was 63 years of age. He is survived by his mother, a brother, Mr. George A. Strout, and a sister, Miss Jennie Strout. Funeral services will be held from his late residence, 20 Highland avenue, Sunday afternoon at three o'clock.

—There was the usual large attendance last evening at the regular monthly supper and entertainment in the vestry of the Methodist Church.
An excellent program was furnished for the entertainment consisting of tableaux by Mrs. Harry D. McIntosh, Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. Gilman, the Misses Mabel Rand, Daisy Pittman, Alice Soden, Nina Coombs, Grace Riley and Helen Brant, with readings by Rev.
James Watson, Campbell, Master
"worth Blanchard, the boy soprano (certained the audience with some nearly rendered vocal selections. Supper was served under the direction of Mrs. William T. Rich and Mrs. arry D. McIntosh.

Upper Falls

—Mr. Ralph Hamilton and family of Richardson road have removed to Ellis street.

—The Stone Home will hold its annual reception for the public tomorrow afternoon.

—An entertainment will be given by the Ralph Waldo Emerson School
in the school hall on May 9.

—Mr. and Mrs. George Duke of Elliot street are receiving congratulations
on the birth of a son.

On the playgrounds last Saturday
Upper Falls defeated the Emerson A.
C. of East Boston, 9 to 4. The features of the game were the battery
work of Hurd and Ryan and the all-round hitting of the home team. Tomorrow the Athletics of Somerville
will be the opponents of the home team.

—St. Mary's baseball club gave a successful whist party and dance in Wade School Hall on Tuesday evening. The following were the prize
winners: Ladies, Miss Margaret William, Mrs. Cunningham, Miss Colla Callahan; gents, Mr. Frank McCarthy,
Mr. Charles Cobb, Mr. Moubrey Truax.

—The Cold Spring Grove Boat-house
which has been run for the past few years by Mr. James B. Lester, was purchased last week by the Saco-Petee Machine Works. It is the intention of the company to still store
and let canoes, but the dance hall will be changed into a club room for their employees.

—A large and appreciative audience welcomed the Lynn Mixed Quartet at the Methodist Church last evening. The concert was in charge of the Wesley Bible Class and consisted of a quartet "Faust Waltz," Gounod; Duet, I Feel Thine Angels' Spirit,
Hoffmann, by Myra Safford Goodwin, soprano and Bernard L. Durgin, baritone; solo, "Spirito Gentile," Donni-zetti, Herbert E. Bishop, tenor; monologues, "At the Station," "Job Slickleton," Anna Spencer Frost; songs,
"Viele Traume," Sliding, "Break Into Song," Mallinson, Edith B. Swift, contralto; quartet, "May 1st," Gaul;
monologue, "A Mother's Morning Hour," Anna Spencer Frost. The last part of the program was a song cycle
by Orlando Morgan, "In Fairyland."

BULLFIGHTS IN PORTUGAL.

The Battles Are Bloodless and the Contestants Rarely Hurt.

The distressingly cruel treatment of animals so common in the Latin countries is almost entirely absent among the Portuguese, and for this reason their great national sport, the bull-fight, is really an enjoyable spectacle to an American, writes Mrs. C. R. Miller in Leslie's Weekly.

In the Portuguese version the bull is never killed. The horrible goring of horses—a feature of the Spanish fight—
does not occur, for if a horse is injured in a Portuguese performance the rider would be lissed from the ring
and very likely mobbed afterward.
The men taking part are rarely hurt,
although the skill displayed is much greater than that shown in the Castilian style of the sport.

Occasionally they have a burlesque Spanish bullfight in Lisbon with the cruelty eliminated. The horses ridden by the pleader are armored and cannot be gored, and when the bull is to be killed the matador strikes him at the particular spot on the back of his neck, which in Spain means almost instant death to the animal. Instead of killing the bull, however, the Portuguese matador's sword doubles up after the fashion of the ones used by the sword swallowers in our sideshows, and a red mark appears where it has touched the animal's skin, thus showing the audience that the madador has been successful. The horses and bull then run out of the ring uninjured.

THE TEREDO.

Curious and Destructive Worm That Digs Tunnels in Wood.

It was in 1731 that Holland narrowly escaped inundation along its coast because the timbers of the sea
dikes in many parts were discovered to be quite unsound. The timely discovery of the real condition of the dikes saved the country from an awful catastrophe, the full extent of which was comprehended by only a few Dutchmen.

The timbers had been honeycombed
by the teredo, or shipworm. This creature burrows into any wood immersed in sea water. It makes an entrance when young and digs cham-pels along the grain of the wood, living and often dying in the timber. The worm grows in some localities to a length of twelve inches, its girth being one and a half inches, and the curious thing about its whiplike body is its exceeding tenderness. It cannot bear its own weight. It will break if subjected to any strain.

It will burrow straight along the grain of the wood unless turned aside
by a knot or nail, and no matter how many of these worms may be burrowing in the same piece of wood, they never run their channels into one another. By some marvelous instinct
they keep clear of each other's preserves. We have seen a cross section of a log eighteen inches in diameter,
and we counted no fewer than 800
distinct burrows.—Exchange.

His Wrong Lead.

Some forty years ago at Aldershot
the camp was commanded by Sir James Yorke Scarlett, a Crimean veteran. On the occasion in question he was directing some sham fighting. In a manner then usual he was leading a line of skirmishers of one force against another many yards in front, as in earlier times he had led the heavy brigade at Balclutha against three times its numbers. To a soldier of the younger school it seemed a preposterous proceeding, and Sir Evelyn ventured to criticize it.

Sir James replied: "Young man, have I not ordered you twice to hold your tongue? If I like to lead my skirmishers, what the — is that to you?"
Sir Evelyn replied, "Ten thousand respect, sir, but it is the enemy's line
in retreat you have been leading for the last ten minutes." He was shortsighted and did not wear glasses, so was unable to see the distinguishing mark,
a sprig of hawthorn worn in the shako
of the troops he was attacking.—
Westminster Gazette.

Keeping on the Safe Side.

"Here," she said when they met
after the judge had granted the decree
for which she had prayed, "is the engagement ring you gave me. You may wish to use it again some time. Perhaps you would like my wedding ring also. It, too, may come in handy in the future."

"No; keep them," he replied. "I am afraid to accept them."

"Afraid! Why should you be afraid?"
"If I took them back I should not have to buy rings for the next lady,
and the courts may find me guilty of combining in unreasonable restraint
of trade."—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Phenologist Right.

"This large bump running across the back of your head means that you are inclined to be curious to the point of recklessness."

"Right you are. I got that by sticking my head into an elevator shaft to see if the elevator was coming up, and it was coming down."—Houston Post.

Game For Her.

Mr. Knox—You don't want to meet
Mrs. Gaybird, you say? Mrs. Knox:
No; I pick my friends. Mr. Knox:
Well, she's just the sort of woman you and your friends would like to pick-to pieces.—Catholic Standard and Times.

MOUNT IDA SCHOOL

The Mount Ida students never had a more beautiful day for their May Day Festival than Wednesday of this week when they crowned their Queen.

The celebration was on the lawn of the school, and was in charge of the gymnasium teacher, Miss Brine, of the Sargent School of Gymnastics.
The students dressed as roses, violets and daisies formed a flower garden about the throne of a queen and Dawn, who is Miss Pearl Shackleton
of Springfield, Mass., comes dancing among the sleeping flowers. She dances in and about three groups of flowers, the violets, roses and pansies, and they begin to sway and nod
their heads, then they rise and dance
about the throne where the May Queen has her seat, with four attendants dressed in white. Miss Jeanne Alexander of Lynchburg, Virginia, was the May Queen. She wore a beautiful white satin gown with train.
The fairies sing a chorus from Bar-carolle and then Dawn crowns the Queen; after that each flower group dances before the Queen in turn. At the end of the letters "M. I. S." and they sing their last chorus "Mornrise."

The students then dance and wind
the May Pole. Punch and crackers were served on the lawn to students and their friends. The whole affair was very beautiful.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Miss Grace M. Burt, Editor.

Next week will see practically the close of the club season. At the Newton Federation annual meeting there is a fine opportunity to review the work of the Newton clubs in the reports submitted by their respective presidents. Many of the clubs are starting out the new year with new officers and upon them in large measure depends the success of the coming season. If these officers have been carefully chosen, there will be no question as to the future, but if the nominating committees have done their work without the most careful consideration, then it is up to the club members to see to it that the efficiency of the club does not suffer. This leads the Club Editor to comment upon the various methods of securing nominations. Much is to be said on all sides of the matter. Many favor direct nominations as being democratic, but these so-called democratic methods have been proved to be unsatisfactory in that the unscrupulous may use them to meet private ambitions. An eminent parliamentary authority has said that a carefully chosen nominating committee is safer. Yet the results from this way are not always satisfactory. A thing which should be taken into consideration by such a committee and one that is sometimes overlooked is that faithful service in one capacity merits recognition upon the official slate. Occasionally the committee starts out in a haphazard fashion thinking only to accomplish its work and not taking into consideration all the fine points which should govern them in their selections. If the work of one year's nominating committee has not been generally satisfactory, then look out for it next year.

Annual Meeting of Massachusetts State Federation

Notices are just out for the annual meeting of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs the dates of which have already been announced. By invitation of the Wellington Club of Templeton, it will be held in the First Parish Church of that town on Tuesday and Wednesday, June 4 and 5. There will be morning and afternoon sessions on both days at 10 A. M., and 2 P. M. As it will be impossible to reach Templeton from Boston in time for the morning session on Tuesday it is hoped that delegates will plan to reach there on Monday evening. That evening will be given up to informal sociability and consultation while the plans for Tuesday evening are in the hands of the hostess club. Applications for accommodations at Templeton Inn should be made to Miss Grace E. Blodgett, Templeton, Mass. Rates including room and board, $3.00 a day and upwards. The official train leaves Boston for Gardner at 4 P. M. on Monday. Regular fare, $1.55, mileage rates $1.30. Trolley from Gardner to Templeton.

Newton Federation Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Newton Federation will be held at the New Church parlors, Newtonville, on Tuesday morning, May 7, at 10.30. Regular business of the annual meeting, reports and election of officers during the morning. Luncheon at one o'clock. The afternoon's entertainment will be given by the Newton Highlands Monday Club, being a presentation of "The Melting Pot." Admission will necessarily be by club membership ticket or member's visiting club bearing name of club, owing to the limited seating capacity.

Do not fail to see the original play, "The Philanthropist" at Players' Hall, West Newton, on Saturday evening, May 18, at 8 o'clock. Tickets may be secured from the presidents of the various clubs of the Newton Federation. The proceeds will go to the Bureau of Newton Activities. This play was written by three members of the Auburndale Review Club and was presented at Lasell Seminary gymnasium to large and enthusiastic audiences on two successive evenings early in the spring. It is being repeated by special request of the Newton Federation and deserves the cordial support of Newton people.

Local Announcements

The Social Science Club will entertain the "club husbands" at the home of Mrs. Charles H. Breck, of Fairmont avenue on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Herbert O. Stetson of Pine Ridge road will be the hostess for the annual meeting of the Waban Woman's Club on Monday afternoon, May 6th.

The Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. will hold its annual meeting with Mrs. George Q. Hills of Holliston on May 6.

The Newton Mothers' Club holds its annual meeting with Mrs. Henry Whitmore of Sterling street, West Newton next Monday afternoon.

Local Happenings

The annual meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club was held on Friday, April 26th, at the Woodland Park Hotel, Auburndale, Mass. Thomas M. Elwell, the President, presiding. The annual reports were read by the recording secretary, Mrs. Walter A. Beedle; the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Harry S. Wells; the treasurer, Mrs. Maurice Beardsley; and also by the chairman of the various standing committees; all giving a splendid record of the year's work. One important achievement of the educational committee was the establishment of a scholarship fund. After the business was transacted, the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Everett S. Jones; vice presidents, Mrs. Susan B. Dimond, Mrs. Fred B. Young, Mrs. Bernard Early, Mrs. Samuel Eaton; recording secretary, Mrs. Walter A. Beedle; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Harry S. Wells; treasurer, Mrs. Maurice Beardsley; auditor, Mrs. F. C. Graves; directors serving unexpired terms, Mrs. C. E. Quinn, Mrs. Sidney B. Sargent, Mrs. C. E. A. Ross; directors whose terms expire in 1915, Mrs. Chas. A. Anderson, Mrs. W. J. Furbush, Mrs. Geo. St. Amant, and Mrs. Henry Young.

Luncheon was served at one o'clock, Mrs. George H. Wilkins of the Newton Federation, Mrs. Mary R. Martin and Mrs. George G. Phipps being the guests of honor. During the luncheon quotations were given from the works of Dickens, "The Ivy Green" was sung by Mrs. Patterson, and papers were read on "The Ives of Dickens," "The Women of Dickens," and "The Life and Works of Dickens." The characters in the little sketch were taken as follows: Mrs. Nickleby, Mrs. Walter Beedle; Kate Nickleby, Mrs. Sidney Sargent; Mrs. Chivery, Mrs. C. E. Conant; Mrs. Micawber, Mrs. F. E. Nowers; Mrs. Wilfer, Mrs. Arthur B. Munroe; Lavinia Wilfer, Miss Ethel Morgan; Mrs. General, Mrs. C. D. Byfield; Mrs. Bayham, Badger, Mrs. Maurice Beardsley; Sally Brass, Mrs. Harry Wells; The Marchioness, Mrs. E. F. Robinson; and Sairey Camp, Mrs. Ella F. Mason. Speeches were made by Mrs. Thomas M. Elwell, and also by Mrs. Geo. H. Wilkins. At the close Mrs. Alvin H. Clifford presented a beautiful picture of the Sittie Madonna to Mrs. Elwell, the retiring president. The new president, Mrs. Jones, was presented with carnations, and after a few appropriate words the club adjourned until the autumn.

On Monday, April 29th, the C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands met at the residence of Mrs. Hanson E. Rogers, Newton. The program of the afternoon took the form of original articles for the club magazine entitled "Mr. Pilgrim." The articles were signed with non-de-plumes. After they had been read aloud there was a pleasurable excitement in guessing the names of the authors.

The subjects of the editorials and contributed articles were of local and general interest. They embraced the woman's department, children's sayings, book reviews and limericks. There was also a poem on Charles River, and poems of a lighter vein.

The opening contribution was a reminiscence of Newton Highlands over thirty years ago. This was followed by a romance, philosophical article, reminiscences of authors, travels and other varied and interesting articles. There were also cards of appreciation of what the C. L. S. C. meant to its members.

The magazine was edited by Mrs. Laura M. Cobb; Assistant Editor, Miss Ruth E. Abbott.

MY GARDEN'S TRINITY

By Warwick James Price

My quiet garden lured my guest;
Fair flowers he held all else above;
Yet: "This I know not," he confessed,
"This crimsoned warmth from sunset's west."

Then I: "Tis 'Love!'"

"And see this splendid bloom," he said,
"Yellow as gold without alloy;
Laughing up at us from its bed
As if mere living turned its head?"

Then I: "That's 'Joy!'"

"And look," he said; "That blossom there,
As white as snow or bleached
fleece;
Fit for the purest maid to wear,
Or for some pale Madonna's hair."

Then I: "Tis 'Peace!'"

"Thrice fortunate!" he said, "The Fates
Have open-handed dealt with thee!
Most men rejoice if their estates
Hold one of these; within thy gates Thou hast all three."

Deafness can seldom be cured, yet many a man is given his hearing in the police court.

The Monday Club of Newton Highlands closed its year's work with the annual meeting on Monday afternoon. The reports were highly satisfactory. The sum of $10 was voted from the treasury to be added to the amount already collected for the Endowment Fund of the General Federation.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. S. Arthur Thompson; vice-presidents, Mrs. Grace B. Williams, Mrs. Teresa Marshall; recording secretary, Mrs. Florence L. B. Robbins; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Mabel B. Armstrong; treasurer, Mrs. Ellen H. Ogden; auditor, Miss Amanda Webster, directors for two years Mrs. Charles T. Bartlett, Mrs. C. S. Luitweller. Flowers were given Mrs. Bartlett, the retiring president, and piano selections enlivened the afternoon. The meeting closed with the singing of "Blest be the Tie that Binds."

On Wednesday morning the Social Science Club held a business meeting with the new president, Mrs. L. S. Drake, in the chair. The newly appointed committees were read and confirmed by the club. A letter from the Indian student at Hampton Institute, the recipient of the club's scholarship, was read and this gave the members opportunity of meeting the boy during a recent visit at Hampton. An article from a current magazine written by Dr. H. B. Frisell of the Institute entitled "The American Indian in old and new Environments" was read by Mrs. J. W. McIntyre.

The Pierian Club of Upper Falls held its annual meeting on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. Locke of Boylston street. A delicious and dainty luncheon was served by the hostess after which followed the business of the day. Among things done by the club this year is a gift of $50 for a victrola for the Emerson school. In June there will be a lawn party for the benefit of the Bureau of Newton Activities. These officers were elected for next year: President, Mrs. C. F. Rogers, Jr.; vice-president, Mrs. C. A. Chadwick; secretary, Mrs. H. E. Locke; treasurer, Mrs. W. E. Willard.

75TH ANNIVERSARY

In October of this year Mount Holyoke College will celebrate its seventy-fifth anniversary. Already plans are well under way for the observance and will include special exercises for the alumnae, an out-door pageant, commemorative exercises for the intercollegiate representatives and altogether will be an impressive affair. In commemoration of this event the college trustees, faculty, undergraduates and alumnae are uniting to secure an endowment adequate to the needs of the college, the sum aimed at being $500,000. There have been two grants of $100,000 each provided the full amount is secured, one from the General Education Board and the other from Mrs. John S. Kennedy of New York City. It has been arranged that a sum not exceeding $100,000 of the amount may be used for buildings. In this way a fund for a Student Alumnae Building for which both students and alumnae have been working for several years past may be counted. No stone is being left unturned that the amount may be forthcoming when the time comes. While October first is the date when all edges must be secured, they may be redeemed at any time before December, 1916. The college authorities feel that the pledges should be in hand by June, since the summer is not a favorable time for raising money. There still remains a little more than $100,000 to be secured.

The alumnae of the college in the vicinity of Boston have been using various means to aid in the movement. The latest method is organ recitals by Prof. William C. Hammond, head of the Music department of Mount Holyoke, assisted by Miss Julia B. Dickinson, soprano, Miss Rebecca Wilder Holmes, violinist, Miss Marion Wheeler, pianist and Mr. Arnold Janzer, cellist, also members of the music department, to be given at Jordan Hall on Saturday afternoon, May 11, at three o'clock.

The list of patronesses for the affair includes Miss Mary E. Woolley, president of Mount Holyoke, Miss Ellen F. Pendleton, president of Wellesley, Miss Sarah Louise Arnold, dean of Simmons, Miss Mary Coes, dean of Radcliffe, Mrs. Eugene N. Foss, and among the others are the following Newton women: Mrs. Enoch C. Adams, Miss Fanny B. Allen, Mrs. Louis W. Arnold, Miss Grace M. Burt, Mrs. Frank A. Day, Mrs. Henry B. Day, Miss Lucy J. Ellis, Mrs. William C. Gordon, Mrs. Joseph B. Jamieson, Mrs. Julian C. Jaynes, Mrs. Herbert S. Kimball, Mrs. John D. Lamond, Miss Margaret McGill, Mrs. Orlando Mason, Mrs. Benjamin S. Palmer, Mrs. J. Edgar Park, Mrs. George G. Phipps, Mrs. Robert F. Raymond, Miss Lillie L. Sherman, Mrs. Francis E. Stanley, Mrs. Freeland O. Stanley, Mrs. Frank W. Stearns, and Miss Esther F. Wilder. The committee of arrangements are also from this number.

With so many Newton women interested it is hoped that there will be a generous patronage from Newton people.

Anyone desiring tickets may obtain them from Miss Grace M. Burt, 94 Charlesbank Road, Newton.

VALUE OF A SMILE

The thing that goes the farthest toward making life worth while. That costs the least and does the most, is just a pleasant smile. The smile that bubbles from the heart that loves its fellow-men. Will drive away the clouds of gloom and coax the sun again. It's full of worth and goodness, too, with many kindness bent; it's worth a million dollars, and it doesn't cost a cent.

There is no room for sadness when we see a cheery smile; it always has the same good look; it's never out of style; it nerves us on to try again, when failure makes us blue; The dimples of encouragement are good for me and you. It pays the highest interest—for it is merely lent— it's worth a million dollars, and it doesn't cost a cent.

A smile comes very easy—you can wrinkle up with cheer. A hundred times before you can squeeze out a salty tear; It ripples out, moreover, to the heart-strings that will tug. And always leaves an echo that is very like a hug. So, smile away! Folks understand what by a smile is meant— it's worth a million dollars, and it doesn't cost a cent.

CAMP UTOPIA

Boyhood days must pass away. Years of work must follow play. But in the years that are to be Our hearts, Utopia, will turn to thee.

Chorus:
Utopia, Utopia, thy sons in legion sing;
Utopia, Utopia, long shall thy praises ring.
At thy fair name our hearts shall beat,
Utopia, that knowest not defeat.

See, now beneath thy banner old, Thy sons are forming true and bold, And come what may on land or sea, Our hearts, Utopia, will turn to thee. And when we face life's bitter fight, And when around us is the night, Then thy fair banner ever bright, And thou, Utopia, shall be our light.

Lower Falls

—Mrs. Marshall Spring is in Washington on a brief trip.

—Miss Elizabeth Baury has returned to her home after spending the winter in Boston.

—The Lower Falls A. A. defeated the Riverides of Allston by a score of 7 to 3 on last Saturday.

—A woman and child were rescued from a serious accident, perhaps from death, by the quick work of Officer John Purcell one day last week as they were about to take a car at the Newton Hospital. An automobile was rushing down the hill and would certainly have struck them had the officer not jumped and pushed them out of its path.

—A successful whist and dance, the third of the series of the Lower Falls A. A. was held on the evening of April 26th. The first gentleman's prize, a silk umbrella, was taken by Benj. Murphy and the second, a pair of gold cuff links, by George Putnam. The lady's first prize, also a fine silk umbrella, was won by Miss Rose Leehan. Dancing was enjoyed till midnight.

—The Community Club and the Hamilton Club held a joint meeting in the school hall last Thursday. About eighty members were present. Whist was enjoyed by some, while others spent a delightful evening playing various games and amusing themselves in many ways. The refreshment committee furnished its share in making the evening a pleasant one for everyone.

DANCING PARTY

Miss Comerals farewell dancing party to her pupils, which was held Saturday evening in Norumbega hall was a brilliant success. There was an unusually large attendance and from the opening march until the well arranged order had been danced through, there was no intermission to the enjoyment of those participating.

The fancy dancing was especially fine and reflected much credit on both pupils and teacher. The fourth on the order, a May Pole dance, was cleverly performed by, Maud Gordon, Evelyn Hunt, Hilda Lawrence, Gladys Knight, Muriel Matterson, Anna Grantham, Lois Bostwick and Ruth Stickney. The Huguonot Polka, by Muriel Matterson was very pretty and graceful and deserved special mention, as was also the Flag Drill and the Sailor Hornpipe, by the following: Raymond Robbins, Carl Smith, Jack Grantham, Asa Hall, Gerald Donovan, Philip Stowell, Allard Valentine and Philip Grantham. Earl Conn as soloist in the horn-pipe was especially fine. Then came an Irish jig by Ethel Hunt, who danced exceedingly well. A tarantella was gracefully and cleverly executed by the following young ladies: Mildred Allen, Eunice Clark, Katherine Donovan, Maud Rockefeller, Covenna Otterson, Athalia Hill, Helen Rodgers, Heloise Kennedy, Emily Howard, Lucile Robbins, Adrienne Smith and Helen Baker. The Pink Lady Waltz, by Miss Esther Smith and Master Robert Stowell and the Dream of Autumn, by Miss Ruth Allen, were both very pretty and danced in a charming manner. Miss Adrienne Smith and Mr. Kendall Burbank, led the fancy marching. A fine program of dance-music was furnished by Miss Nettie S. Fox. The following ladies were matrons: Mrs. Conn, Mrs. Sisk, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Stowell and Mrs. Young. The ushers were: Messrs Sisk, Conn, Smith, Page, Jacobs and Young.

At the close of the dancing, Miss Fox was presented in behalf of the class, with a handsome pendant, and Miss Comerals, with a large travelling-bag.

Classes will re-open on or about Oct. 15th.

THE PHILANTHROPIST

On Saturday evening, May 18, an original play entitled "The Philanthropist," will be given in Players' hall, West Newton, under the auspices of the Newton Federation of Women's clubs. It was produced by the Auburndale Review club at Lasell Academy, where it attracted the attention of many of the most prominent residents. The play has unusual merit, and the club women of Newton are justly proud of its authors who are active club women.

"The Philanthropist" was written by Mrs. Arthur C. Farley, of Wellesley, Mrs. Theodore W. Gore and Mrs. Guy M. Winslow, of Auburndale.

N. H. S. BALL GAMES

In reply to the criticisms expressed in our last issue, Dr. A. D. Browne, the athletic director of the Newton High school sends the following information.

23 games are scheduled to be played on Claffin Field. 12 games the admission is 15 cents. 11 games the admission is 25 cents.

The admission is 15 cents to games on school days. Games on Saturdays and legal holidays 25 cents is charged.

Season tickets are sold for $2.00 each admitting to all the games with the exception of two League games and two games away from home. This leaves 19 games for which the small sum of ten and a fraction cents per game is charged.

Season tickets are transferable and may be bought by anybody at $2.00 each.

25 cents have not been charged for games on school days.

The Athletic Association has experimented with the situation many times by charging 10 and 15 cents to games and the attendance has not been increased.

High School's athletics is a business proposition conducted to clear expenses only.

Expenses on Saturdays and holidays are much more than on school days. Officials' salaries and visiting teams' guarantees are 50 to 100 per cent higher than on school days.

Dr. A. D. Browne, the Athletic Director, is present at all games on Claffin Field and will be glad to interview any citizen wanting information.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The committee work at the State House is practically completed, the only committee with a docket being Ways and Means. While there are many important matters on the calendar, there is some hope expressed that the session may end with the present month.

The Metropolitan Affairs committee has closed its docket and has reported a "pork barrel" bill of one million dollars for various improvements throughout the district. The largest item in this bill, by the way is $150,000 for the purchase of Hammond pond at Chestnut Hill and Lost pond in Brookline. This bill is now before the Ways and Means committee. The Metropolitan Affairs committee has also reported a bill to continue the Metropolitan Planning commission another year, or rather a new commission of five members, to include the three members of the commission which reported the remarkable Plan Commission bill, which has been ridiculed in these columns. So long as the Legislature restricts its planning commissions to preliminary work, Newton can find little fault, although there is liable to be a hereafter, one of these fine days.

The bill to require school committees to furnish free meals for school children has been amended as to make it permissive instead of mandatory, and as amended will probably pass.

All three of our representatives voted against the bill to require assignment of counsel for persons indicted for certain crimes, and against the bill to provide for the taxation of transfers of stock.

The bill to authorize the city of Boston to widen Avery street has been passed and signed by the Governor, although an amendment of Mr. Ellis to provide for more extended assessment was defeated and the Boston Chamber of Commerce, in consequence, urged Governor Foss to send in a veto.

J. C. Brimblecom.

ANNUAL RECEPTION

The Annual Reception of the Newton Home for Aged People will be held at the Home, 277 Elliott street, Newton Upper Falls, on Saturday, May 4th, from three to five P. M.

MRS. FRISBIE DEAD

Mrs. Harriett M. Frisbie, the wife of Dr. Jesse F. Frisbie, died last Saturday at her home on Centre street, Newton, after several months of failing health. Mrs. Frisbie was a native of Brunswick, Me., and was nearly 75 years of age. Funeral services were held from her late home on Monday afternoon, in charge of Rev. Laurens MacLure, rector of Grace church, assisted by Rev. Harry Lutz, of Channing church. The burial was at Mt. Auburn.

—Mrs. Francis Davis of Windsor road is to take part in the Smith College prize play, "Purple and Fine Linen," to be presented in Jordan Hall tomorrow.

—The Young People's League held a very enjoyable meeting on Sunday afternoon at the home of Miss Marion Miller. Vocal solos were given by Mr. Holcomb and violin solos by Miss Grace Miller.

—The annual May Sale of the Women's Guild of the Church of the Good Shepherd is being held in Waban Hall this afternoon and evening and is being well patronized. The various tables are prettily decorated and are in charge of the following ladies: fancy table, Mrs. Lewis H. Bacon; cake table, Mrs. L. B. Folsom; 5 and 10 cent table, Mrs. W. W. T. Knott; ice cream table, Mrs. Bertram Tupper; apron table, Mrs. W. H. Oakes; candy table, Mrs. Champin; bag table, Mrs. G. V. Phillips; grab table, Mrs. David Ambrose; tea table, Mrs. George Heald; flower table, Mrs. John Preston True. Dancing will be enjoyed this evening.

There will be also a number of special nights. The first one will be on Wednesday evening, May 15th, when Amherst will take a large, considerable part of the floor tables.

Mr. Strube has put on his program for the first week a number of the old favorites, and some new favorites.

Waban

—Mrs. W. F. Lamont and children of Alban road are at Leominster for a few weeks' stay with relatives.

—Mr. O. R. Rice of Waban avenue left yesterday for a two months' trip through Western and Southern states.

—While riding on Quinobegun road in company with Mrs. Angier and Mr. F. S. Smith yesterday morning, Mr. George Angier fell from his horse and suffered a broken arm which was attended to at the Newton Hospital by Dr. Sherman.

—Mr. Harrison Annable of Neholoden road met with a painful accident on Tuesday, when he was struck by an iron switch stick carried by a conductor of the Boston Elevated and suffered a broken nose.

POP CONCERTS

The 27th season of "Pop" concerts will open in Symphony Hall on next Monday evening, May 6th. The season will continue for eight weeks, ending on Saturday evening, June 29.

As has been the case in the last two years the work of conducting the concerts will be divided between Mr. Gustave Strube and Mr. Andre Maquarrie both of whom are very popular with "Pop" patrons. Mr. Strube will hold the post for the first four weeks and Mr. Maquarrie for the last four.

There will be also a number of special nights. The first one will be on Wednesday evening, May 15th, when Amherst will take a large, considerable part of the floor tables.

Mr. Strube has put on his program for the first week a number of the old favorites, and some new favorites.

award of the prize to the winner of the contest, and will be good for 48 games beginning May 27, 1912.

MOTHER NATURE'S CHILDREN

Pupils of the Fifth Grade Score

Success

More than 300 parents and friends

assembled in the hall of the Claffin

School, Tuesday afternoon to witness

the performance of the two-act play

Mother Nature's Children, which was admirably presented by the pupils of the fifth grade. The show was one of the prettiest ever contributed

by children in Newton and the young participants were showered with congratulations and applause. Much credit for the success of the play is due Miss Kent of the Emerson School of Oratory, who conducted the rehearsals. One of the most interesting features of the play was the Rose

Dance from Mendelssohn's Spring

Song, by Miss Brenda Carroll Briggs

who is a remarkably talented young dancer and delighted the audience

with her graceful and clever dancing.

She looked charming in a costume of rose-pink and green, trimmed with pink roses, and received a large share of applause. All of the children played excellently the parts allotted

them and merited the enthusiastic applause they received. Included in the cast were the following: The Earth Children, were Margaret Hicks,

Dorothy Hooper, Ralph Washburn

and Sidney Bowen. Sunbeams, were

Florence Malcom, Marion McKeon,

Mabel Simonds and Helen Shelton.

The Raindrops, were Francis McBride,

Callum Coughley, James Collier and

Wallace Richmond. The East Wind,

was Read Colgan; South Wind,

Irving Hobbs and West Wind, Harrison

Fairfield. The Flowers were Brenda

Briggs, Rose; Edith Geran, Butter-

cup; Katherine Tucker, Violet; Florence Luther, Poppy; Eleanor Lyon,

Sweet Pea; Rose Sandella, Daisy;

Nellie Sandella, Pansy; Mary

Bourque, Daffodil; Elsie Rayfus, Forget-me-not and Helen Early, Lily.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Colonel and Mrs. Henry L. Kin-

caide of Quincy, gave a party on Saturday evening. A large number of the society people of the younger set were present. Colonel Kincaide and his wife have a reputation for entertaining royally, and the guests always anticipate novelties. This time the surprise was the announcement of the engagement of Colonel Kincaide's niece, Miss Grace E. Perry

to Mr. Frederick A. Cole, M. L. T.
'08. Miss Perry is one of Newton's popular teachers and Mr. Cole is contracting engineer for the firm of J. M. Moore and Co., Boston.
Miss Perry and Mr. Cole have a large circle of friends in Quincy and Newton and congratulations are being showered upon them.

ALCOHOL CHAT

If you buy from your Druggist an 8, 16, or 32 ounce flask of Graves'
Grain Alcohol with the signature, Chester H. Graves & Sons, on a strip label over the cork, you can rely on getting the best value in Alcohol that is obtainable. Ounce for ounce, it's just as cheap as the cheap kind.
Don't take a substitute. Insist on having 'Graves' Grain Alcohol.
It is the best.

A Dollar a Week Put into the Bank is a Good Investment.

"It is mighty hard," said an unfortunate workman some time ago to the writer, "to save up a thousand dollars by laying aside a dollar or two a week and then to take it out of the savings bank and lose it to a get rich quick swindler, as I have just done." The poor fellow could work and save, but he had not had even a kindergarten education in finance, else his story would have been different. He had never given a thought to interest and so was absolutely ignorant of growth through compound interest and, of course, had never heard of that wonderful process of accumulation known as "progressive compound interest."

One dollar deposited in a savings bank that pays 4 per cent will amount to $2.19 in twenty years. This is simple compound interest. Now, if you deposit $1 every year for twenty years, or $20 in all, the sum to your credit will have grown to $30.07.

Any wage earner can put by $1 a week. That money deposited in a savings bank for twenty years will have increased to $1,012. A deposit of $5 a week will have grown to $8,000, and this at 4 per cent will be $320 a year. There is no secret, no mystery, about this. It is as clear as the cloudless sun, and the method is just as clean and honest.—Christian Herald.

CAN'T READ THEIR LIPS.

When Actors Do Not Face the Audience It Bothers the Deaf.

"Time and time again we're asked to have our actors face the audience squarely when speaking lines that are of great importance," a theatrical manager said recently. "The explanation for the request is generally the same—that deaf people in the audience who depend on lip reading rather than hearing lose the run of the play if some important lines are spoken by a person whose lips can't be read. An actor or actress who's stuck on posing in profile is always the despair of the deaf people in the audience, as they say it's almost impossible to read lips in profile."

"Out ticket agent hears another side of the same question. People tell him when buying tickets that some one in the party is stone deaf and must read the lips of the actors in order to follow the play. Then they ask him on which side of the theater these particular seats should be located to make this lip reading the most satisfactory. Of course the stage setting decides which way the actors must face, and if a deaf person gets on the wrong side of the house the play is practically lost."—New York Sun.

Too Late.

Mr. B. drove up in a hansom and entered the jeweler's shop accompanied by his valet, who carried an oblong box of steel. Mr. B. asked for a private interview, and on being shown into the office he opened the box, exposing a splendid array of diamond and pearl necklaces, earrings, tiaras and rings.

"Mrs. B.," he said, "is now abroad. Before she returns I want you to extract these stones and replace them with good imitations, selling the real jewels and giving me the money. This, of course, is to be a confidential transaction. Mrs. B. is to know nothing of it."

"My dear sir," said the jeweler, "I should be glad to do as you ask, but it is impossible. Two years ago Mrs. B. called here on the same errand that now brings you, and this errand in her case was successful. The paste jewels that you offer me are worth little more than the hire of the hansom awaiting you outside."—London Tit-Bits.

Thackeray and Colonel Newcome.

Mr. Louis Melville tells a characteristic story of Thackeray's fondness for his greatest hero. "It was outside 'Evans'," he writes, "that Lowell, being on a visit to London, met the novelist looking so haggard and worn that he asked if he were ill. 'Come inside, and I'll tell you all about it,' said the latter. 'I have killed the colonel.'"

At a table in a quiet corner Thackeray took the manuscript from his pocket and read the chapter that records the death of Colonel Newcome. When he came to the end the tears that had been swelling his lids trickled down his face, and the last word was almost an inarticulate sob.—London Chronicle.

Pretty High Hills.

A distinguished astronomer once took the trouble to measure in several paintings the size of the moon and to deduce from it the height of the mountains shown in the same picture. He found that the average height of the hills was about forty-three miles, while one giant peak raised its head more than a hundred miles above sea level. Turner, who was one of the greatest masters of landscape composition and coloring, frequently exaggerates the height of his hills with the intention of conferring upon them a majesty which otherwise they would not possess.

Happiness.

That all who are happy are equally happy is not true. A peasant and a philosopher may be equally satisfied, but not equally happy. Happiness consists in the multiplicity of agreeable consciousness. A peasant has not capacity for having equal happiness with a philosopher.—Johnson.

The bread of life is love; the salt of life is work; the sweetness of life, poetry; the water of life, faith.—Mrs. Jameson.

PILLMAKING CRABS.

Queer Way These Tiny Creatures Get Their Food From the Sand.

Curious little crabs, mostly about the size of a pea, are found in abundance on the shores of the Malay peninsula. They are usually first perceived on the beaches after the going down of the tide, when they give the beach the appearance of being covered with loose, powdery sand and holes of various sizes. Upon looking more closely it is perceived that little radiating paths converge among the litter of sand to each hole and that the sand itself is in minute balls.

At the approach of an observer these immediately become apparent a peculiar "tinkle," which is nothing else than the simultaneous and rapid retreat of a multitude of the tiny crabs into their holes.

Should one who is watching these curious little creatures take up his position by one of their holes and remain perfectly motionless they will in time come out, when he will be enabled to see them at work.

Coming cautiously to the mouth of the hole, the crab will reconnoiter a bit, and when satisfied that no enemy is near it will venture about its own length from its lurking place. Then, rapidly taking up particles of sand in its claws, it will deposit them in a groove beneath the thorax.

As it does so a little ball of sand is rapidly projected as through its mouth. This it seizes with one claw and deposits on one side, proceeding in this manner until the smooth beach is covered with little pellets or pills corresponding in size to its own dimensions. This is evidently its method of extracting particles of food from the sand.—Harper's Weekly.

AN IRISH LEGEND.

The Foxes Mourn When a Head of the Gormanston Family Dies.

"Among the oldest families in Ireland are the Gormanstons. It is said that when the head of the house dies and for some days before the foxes leave all the neighboring coverts and collect at the door of the castle. This strange phenomenon," writes E. T. Humphries in the National Review, "occurred when the twelfth Viscount Gormanston died in 1860 and again in 1876, when the thirteenth viscount shook off this mortal coil. The fourteenth holder of the title died in 1907. Inquiry was then made to test the truth or otherwise of the weird legend."

"The son, in a letter published in the New Irish Review, stated that when in the chapel watching his father's remains prior to burial he heard noises outside as of a dog sniffing at the door. Upon opening it there was a full grown fox close to the steps and several more around the church. The conclusion concerns the presence of the foxes; so does another family tradition."

"The daughter of the thirteenth successor wrote saying that upon the illness of her father the foxes sat in pairs under the bedroom windows, howling and barking all night, and if driven away returned."

"The family crest is a running fox, and a fox is one of the supporters of the family arms."

His Thoughtful Wife.

"I hate to boast," said a Cleveland lawyer, "but my wife is one of the most economical women in the world. The other day she told me she needed a new suit. I said she ought to have it, by all means, but asked her not to spend a big bunch of money without letting me know about it. Well, the next day she said: 'The tailor said he couldn't make that suit for less than $150. I thought it was too much, but told him to go ahead.'"

"Well, I suppose it is all right," I said, "but why didn't you consult me first?"

"Why, dearie, I didn't want to spend car fare for two visits."

"I tell you, it's these little economies that count, eh?"—Cleveland Press.

Pay of French Ministers.

Ministers in France are not so well paid as in England. All members of the French cabinet receive the same salary, £2,400 a year, and as they have to forfeit the allowance of £600 which they receive as senators or deputies their net annual gain through taking office is only £1,800. It is true they are provided with official residences, furnished, heated and lighted at the public expense. Their tenure of office is, however, so precarious that they can never venture to let their private residences, so they save nothing under the head of rent.—London Chronicle.

The Oxidization of Brass.

Brass when immersed in a hot solution consisting of one-half ounce of golden sulphur of antimony and four ounces of caustic soda in each gallon of water becomes oxidized with a pleasing brown shade. The shade becomes darker if the metal is immersed in a dilute solution of sulphate of copper, used cold, about four to eight ounces to the gallon. Several immersions in the same manner give deeper brown tones.

Felt So Small.

Boggs—Did you get in all right last night? Woggs—Oh, yes. Boggs—Then the doors weren't locked, as you feared? Woggs—Indeed they were, but my wife yelled at me as I was coming up the steps, so I crawled in through the letter slot.—Puck.

He who has truth in his heart need never fear the want of persuasion on his tongue.—Ruskin.

NEWTONVILLE M. E. CHURCH

Mothers' Day to Be Observed Next Sunday

What custom could be more appropriate and beautiful than that of observing one Sunday of the year as Mothers' Day? It is a debt of gratitude the world owes to the sacred name and relation of Mother. It is a debt that every man owes to the woman who brought him into the world and cared for him in his childhood. The Newtonville Methodist Church has dedicated a service to this object on the second Sunday in May for several years. It always attracts a crowd. Next Sunday evening the custom will be continued. The Children's Choir will assist in the service together with the regular Chorus and Quartet. Mr. Campbell will preach from the text: "The Crown where-with his mother crowned him." A member of the church who greatly appreciates the good mother he had will continue his custom of presenting every attendant at the church with a Carnation which is to be worn in honor of mother during the service and carried home.

At a recent meeting of the Newtonville ministers it was decided to take a religious census of the town the last of May or the first of June. Plans are being matured and particulars will be given out definitely in a week or two. The need of such a census will be apparent when it is recalled that the population of our city has been growing rapidly for two or three years and many have come among us who have not found a church home. A census will give these and others a chance to express a preference for church relations and will make an opening for closer neighborhood acquaintanceship. It will be a good thing for new comers and for older residents.

Sunday School picnics are now in the air. The Methodists will bring one of them down and land it at Forest Grove along the Charles River above Waltham on Saturday, June 8. No pains will be spared to make it worth talking about for another year.

A telephone will be installed in the church at once. As soon as the number is given it will be printed on the Weekly Calendar.

The Boy Scouts after a "hike" to Spring Grove Park beyond Wellesley a few weeks ago are planning on another tramp to Walden Pond near Concord. Fifteen of the boys listened with great interest and profit last Tuesday night to a talk by Dr. P. B. Howard of Newtonville on First Aid to the Injured. The doctor gave the valuable information as to how to bandage broken or bruised limbs and how to care for themselves and others in cases of emergency or accident. He received a standing vote of thanks from his audience.

THE PLAYERS

The Players for their third series for the year, on May 6th, 7th and 8th, presented George Ade's "Father and the Boys." The cast included Mrs. Bancroft and Mrs. Brown and Misses Frost, Macomber, Stinson and Tapley, and Messrs. Burrage, Carter, Chase, Condit, Kempton, Gammons, Locke, Pulsifer and Whiting. Mr. Hosmer was stage manager and Mayor Hatfield was the head usher.

HONOR NEWTON MAN

Mr. Will C. Eddy Is Grand Chancellor K. P.

Mr. Will C. Eddy of 48 Woodbine street, Auburndale has been recently chosen as Grand Chancellor of the Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias of Massachusetts. Mr. Eddy has been a member of the Order for 17 years and has a high reputation for faithful and efficient service. He has just become a resident of this city, but has already placed the Newton lodge among the most active and progressive lodges of the state.

Mr. Eddy has taken a prominent part in historical work since he came to Boston and the present high standing of the Medford Historical Society was largely due to his efforts during the six years of his presidency. He says that he has no time to join any other order except the K. of P. He and his family are members of the Auburndale Congregational Church. He is taking an active part in "affairs public" that tend to improve the social, moral and political conditions in Newton, and especially as far as Auburndale is concerned.

Mr. Eddy has been invited to give the Newton Historical Society the benefit of his experience in that line of work and if he takes a helping hand there is no doubt but he can put that organization on the active list. His years of experience put the Bay State Historical League in its present prominence, where he has served three years as President and since a member of the executive committee. He and his family are a valuable and welcome acquisition to Auburndale society.

BANQUET

The second annual banquet of the Norumbega Bowling Club, which is composed of eight clubs from churches in Newton, West Newton, Watertown and Waltham, was held on Monday evening at Immanuel Baptist church. Rev. H. Grant Person of Elliot Church was toast-master and there were several addresses by other clergymen, and also by the managers and captains of the teams. Mr. H. D. McLean, captain of the bowling team of the Elliot Co-operative Club, delivered a highly interesting address on "What to Do and How to Do It." A pleasing program of music was furnished by an orchestra of five pieces. The first prize was awarded to the Immanuel Baptist team; the second to Grant team of Watertown and the third to Baraca A. of West Newton. The evening closed with an elaborate collation served by Whittemore of Boston.

GIVES TO LIBRARY

Dr. Jesse F. Fribley of this city has presented the public library of the city of Rochester, N. H., with an interesting and valuable collection of curiosities. There are three swords, one of which has been used in the American Revolution, the War of 1812, the Mexican War, the Civil War and in several Indian wars. There is also a large collection of rare and beautiful shells and minerals collected by Dr. Fribley all over the globe, and 200 volumes for the library. Dr. Fribley is a native of Rochester.

291 TAFT VOTES LOST

Recount of Votes Cast at Recent Primary

The registrars of voters on Saturday night recounted the ballots cast last week Tuesday for Taft delegates to the Republican national convention. The recount was asked for the purpose of determining definitely the exact number of ballots invalidated by the voters marking for nine delegates, instead of eight. Mr. J. West on Allen represented the Taft interests at the recount.

It took about three hours to do the work, and the net result was a loss of about ten votes on an average for the Taft delegates, the exact losses and final figures for each delegate being as follows:—

	Loss	Final
Seiberlich,	10	58
Crane,	10	58
Bates,	16	1821
Tuttle,	10	1823
Weeks,	7	1836
Capeen,	10	1821
Elder,	7	1820
Cavanaugh,	13	1802
Cote,	15	1770

While the registrars of voters refused to count the invalidated ballots, Mr. Allen checked them up and found that 291 Taft ballots were thrown out on account of checking nine names. The detail by precincts follows:—

Ward 1, Pre. 2,	19
Ward 2, Pres. 1 and 2,	49
Ward 2, Pre. 3,	5
Ward 3, Pres. 1 and 2,	52
Ward 4, Pre. 1,	16
Ward 4, Pre. 2,	5
Ward 5, Pre. 1,	26
Ward 5, Pre. 2,	35
Ward 5, Pre. 3,	10
Ward 6, Pres. 1 and 2,	34
Ward 6, Pre. 3,	1
Ward 7,	34

CITY HALL

The selectmen and street commissioner of Bar Harbor, Me., were interested visitors here last Saturday and inspected our dust laying processes under the direction of Deputy Commissioner Stuart.

The commission appointed last fall to revise the building ordinances reported today to Mayor Hatfield.

Bids were opened Wednesday on painting the City Hall, patrol stable and police headquarters, as follows: City Hall, Thomas H. Davis, $678; Temperley & Hurley, $810; Hough and Jones Co., $501. Patrol stable, Davis, $148; Temperley & Hurley, $150; Hough and Jones, $225. Police headquarters, Davis, $445; Temperley & Hurley, $468; Hough and Jones, $605. The awards were made to the lowest bidder in each case.

PROF. JOHN DUXBURY

The noted English elocutionist arrived in Boston on April 6th, 1912, for an extended tour of the United States and Canada. Those who have heard Prof. Duxbury will be glad to know that he will again recite in our vicinity on Sunday afternoon, May 19th, when he is to be at the Central Church, Newtonville. At this service Mr. Duxbury will read from the Book of Revelations and selections from the story of "Jean Val Jean" in Hugo's "Les Miserables." The service at Central Church will begin at four o'clock and be open to all.

NEWTON OPERA HOUSE

Will Open Next Tuesday with High Grade Program

The Newton Opera House which will open its doors to the public next Tuesday night is a splendid example of the faith which keen business men feel towards the future growth of our city. The building is located on the site of the Robinson house, corner of Centre and Pearl streets, within a stone's throw of Nonantum square, and conveniently situated to attract a large patronage. It is a substantial structure of brick and is said to be one of the best constructed and equipped theatres in New England, outside of Boston. The first impression of the interior with its tasteful decorations is most pleasing and Newton residents should feel proud of this recent addition to its public buildings.

The performances will consist of high class moving pictures and refined vaudeville. There will be two performances every week-day evening at 7.30 and 9.15, and matinees every Wednesday and Saturday at 2.30. For the entire orchestra the price will be 10 cents, while the balcony seats will be 15 and 25. On Wednesday and Saturday afternoons the price for children will be 5 cents.

MORE CORRESPONDENCE

Editor of Newton Graphic: Doctor Brown's nice letter read last week with interest.

There were two or three items it did not cover.

First. Why is it with Newton's population of 39,543, the charge for the "school day" base ball games have to be even 15 cents, and Waltham with 27,834 people charge 10 cents, and the small children pay 5 cents, and they pay expenses over there too?

Second. Why are the expenses on Saturdays more than on other days when a 25 cents admission is in vogue? Perhaps there were more police hired, but one man could have taken care of the small crowd so far.

Third. Does the management know that one can see the professional games in Boston for 25 cents and any man knows which is the best.

Fourth. It was stated a season ticket is sold for $2.00 for a certain number of games making the cost per game very low. When are the games nulled by rain, there being one now, ever played?

"Crank."

BIDS ON LIBRARY

Proposals for making alterations and additions to the main library building according to plans of Mr. Lewis H. Bacon, architect, were opened on Monday by Public Buildings Commissioner Forbush at City Hall.

Four bids were received on the general contract, the C. E. Currier Co. with $24,400 being the lowest. Other bids were from H. P. Converse Co., $26,765; J. W. Duff, $27,072; and Hurley Bros., $25,971. There were four bids on the heating, Henry Bros. Co., with $2377 being the lowest, and Pierce & Cox, $2857; McLean and Cousens Co., $2841; and Walter B. Ross $2675. The lowest bid for plumbing was from H. W. Orr Co. with $344, the other bidders being C. W. Thompson, $1137; Pierce and Cox, $954; and Gallagher Bros. $995.

NEWTON Y. M. C. A.

First Annual Meeting in the New Building a Great Success

The Annual Meeting of the Association was held in the Auditorium of the new Young Men's Christian Association Building on Monday evening, May 6th. The meeting was called to order by the President, Mr. Allan C. Emery. Prayer was offered by Mr. James H. Gilkey. The minutes of the last Annual Meeting were read and approved.

The Nominating Committee presented names of five Directors to serve for three years. The following gentlemen were elected: Messrs. Wm. E. Litchfield, D. F. Barber, J. W. Blaisdell, John A. Gardner and S. M. Sayford.

Mr. Emery then called for the report of the General Secretary which was given by throwing pictures upon the screen. This report was of special interest because it told of the first six months' work in the new building.

The first picture thrown on the screen was that of the President, Mr. Allan C. Emery and everyone recognized at once the debt which the members owed to Mr. Emery for his efficient service as president of the Association and he received generous applause.

The next picture was that of Mr. Frank A. Day, the Chairman of the Trustees and Building Committee. All the members present realized what they owed to Mr. Day for his splendid leadership in the Building Campaign and in planning the erection of the building.

The Secretary called the attention of the members to the fact that the Association was a world-wide organization and that a young man might at the present time go into almost any city of North America and be received at the local Y. M. C. A. with a friendly greeting and a desire to help him get acquainted in his new environment, secure employment for him if necessary, give him a home if he had no place to stay and in many other ways show him the attention which means so much to a young man coming into a strange city. Numerous cases were mentioned of young men who had left Newton to go into the West and the South where they lived in Association buildings and found friends among the paid officers and members.

Some interesting figures were given in regard to the membership. May 1st, 1912 there were 796 men and 364 boys, making a total of 1160 members in the Newton Association. These members used the building during the past six months at the rate of 125 men and 85 boys daily, making a total of 210. The aggregate attendance for six months was 38,430. It was also reported that during the inspection of the building last fall 1,860 were in attendance and at the reception to the General Secretary 350 people attended.

It has been the aim of the Social Committee to see that everyone received a welcome when he came into the building. Twenty-five men agreed to be in the lobby one evening during the month to greet strangers and to help to make everyone feel at home.

The social and recreative features of the building have been used very freely this winter. There have been 8753 strings bowled and 8420 games of billiards and pool played. The prices of bowling and pool are placed within the reach of everyone and although the number using these privileges has been large yet the income has only a little more than paid for the actual cost of maintenance.

During the year six Entertainments have been given with a total attendance of 785. The chairman of the Entertainment Committee, Mr. M. Sinclair Williams, and his fellow members deserve credit for the excellent course which they offered.

There was a Fellowship Club of twenty members which met for supper every Monday night. Good speaking and good fellowship were enjoyed by the members. Membership in this club is open to any young man who would like to join.

A number of pictures were thrown on the screen relating to the Foreign work of the Newton Association. Pictures which had been received from Mr. Geldart showing scenes which took place during the revolution and also later photographs of people and places in the famine region of China proved exceedingly interesting. The importance of each member having a part in supporting our Foreign Secretary, Mr. Geldart, was urged. No matter how small the gift it would be acceptable and it would make it possible to say that the sun would never set on the work of the Newton Y. M. C. A. $400.00 has been pledged toward this work this year.

During the year dormitory rooms were furnished as memorials by Mrs. Anna M. Pickford and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. R. Sherman, Mrs. George C. Dunne, Mrs. George S. Harwood, Mrs. A. A. Sweet and Mrs. Harry R. Bliss, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. S. Ensign, Jr. The ladies of the Woman's Auxiliary also furnished five of the dormitory rooms. Fifty-five different men have lived in the dormitory during the past year and at the present time 29 of the 34 rooms are in use. Members are urged to tell their friends of the advantages to be derived from living in the Y. M. C. A. and enjoying the indoor and outdoor privileges.

There have been several series of talks during the past year, most notable of which was given by Dr. F. N. Seerley on Sex Hygiene. He gave one talk to mothers where 125 were present, to High School boys where 200 were present, to 60 grammar school boys, 92 men and on Sunday afternoon 127 men and older boys listened to a wonderful address. A total of 604 heard Dr. Seerley during his visit of two days. An announcement was made that through the kindness of Mr. Day that Dr. Winfred Scott Hall of Chicago would deliver a series of talks on the same subject next January.

Ample provision has been made in the new building for the physical work of the Association and the work as conducted under the Physical Directors Messrs. Macpherson and Loomis has been of great value and of a high standard during the past six months. The number of men using the physical department privileges during the six months was 288, the number of boys 328, total 614. Number in regular gymnasium classes, 150 men and 285 boys, total 435. Total attendance at all gymnasium classes was 3730 men and 6357 boys, making a total of 10,087. Many who enjoyed the physical department privileges did not enroll in regular class work but used the handball court, boxing and wrestling rooms and swimming pool. The total number who used all the indoor privileges was 7730 men.

Why We Grow

This bank is growing steadily, and we attribute our progress mainly to these reasons:

Sound and progressive business methods in the bank's management; the active participation and co-operation of well-known business men in the conduct of its affairs; prompt and courteous attention to the wants of customers and a desire to satisfy them.

We intend to keep right on growing by giving the same kind of service.

There was a large appreciative audience present and the different numbers were frequently encored.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The most important event of the week was the report of the railroad committee on the proposed merger of the New Haven and Boston and Maine companies, including as it does electrification within five years in the metropolitan district, not only of these railroads, but the Boston and Albany as well, the construction of railroad tunnels connecting the North and South stations and various other important railroad matters. The report of the committee was based on the report of its sub-committee, of which Mr. Ellis was a prominent member. The passage of this bill thru the Legislature will be watched with great interest by all.

Newspaper men had heart disease last week Thursday, when the House by a large majority, passed an amendment which prohibited political advertising in newspapers, but were greatly relieved when the amendment was finally killed and reconsideration, on Friday was refused. All three of the Newton representatives voted for this amendment. All three voted against the bill for classification of laborers by the civil service commission, which was defeated by a vote of 96 to 98. Mr. White voted with a majority in passing the bill relative to promotion of call firemen of Taunton, over the veto of the Governor, while Mr. Bothfield and Mr. Ellis voted to sustain the veto. All three voted for the bill to establish the salaries of certain judges of probate, including Middlesex. Mr. White was one of the 26 members who opposed the proposed amendment to the constitution to permit special taxation of wild or forest lands.

The Senate has killed the bill to allow preferential voting for United States senator on the official ballot next fall. It has also killed the bill to authorize free meals for school children.

Coal in Winter - Gas in Summer

Crawford Ranges

You need a coal range in Winter for kitchen warmth and for continuous hot water supply, but in Summer when you want a cool kitchen and less hot water a Gas range is the thing. You get both in the Crawford Combination Range and you get the best of each.

The Crawford Gas Ovens are safe; explosions are impossible. No dangerous pilot light; the oven door has to open before gas can be lighted and the Damper opens automatically with the oven door. In the End Ovens there is an extra set of burners at the top for broiling, which save the cook much stooping.

No coal range equals the Crawford with its money and labor saving improvements;—Single Damper (patented)—Scientific Oven heating flues—Ash Hod (patented), etc.

Crawford Ranges are Sold by Progressive Dealers.

THEATRES

BOSTON THEATRE.—Everybody is talking about the wonderful success of Julian Eltinge in "The Fascinating Widow" at the Boston Theatre. To display Eltinge's artistry to its best effect, "The Fascinating Widow" could not be improved upon as a vehicle. It permits the famous A. H. Woods' star to introduce his delightful specialties, and at the same time demonstrate his cleverness as a straight light comedian of the William Collier type in the early scenes. The supporting cast is remarkably good and too much cannot be said of the excellent efforts of Winona Winter, Edward Garvie, James Spottwood, Carrie Perkins, James Sullivan, Gilbert Douglas, June Mathis and Louise Orth. A word must be said of Eltinge's "widow" gowns. They are without doubt the most beautiful products of the modiste's art ever exhibited and well worth going great distance to see.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE.—Zelda Sears, the late star of "The Nest Egg," Harriet Burt, the prima donna of "The Time, The Place, and The Girl," Trovato, the Filipino violinist, and the Charles Ahearn Troupe of cyclists, will be among the principal features of a great all-star bill announced for next week at B. F. Keith's Theatre. For her vaudeville engagement Miss Sears has secured one of the funniest and most original comedies ever written. It is entitled "The Wardrobe Woman," and deals with life behind the scenes in a small one-night stand theatre in the far West. Harriet Burt has not appeared in Boston in several years. She brings a number of new and novel songs and dances. Trovato, the crazy violinist, will be another great feature. Aside from his marvelous playing, Trovato is the greatest of them all when it comes to selecting a repertoire. He plays everything from grand opera to ragtime. The Charles Ahearn troupe have a most amusing burlesque on a six day bicycle race; the Aeroplane Ladies is a stunning aerial novelty; J. Waldo Connolly and Margaret Webb will present their surprise finish, "A Stormy Hour"; "The Fashion Plate Entertainers," and Sampson and Reilly are known as

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.—The public has taken to "Seven Days," and consequently John Craig announces it for a second and positively last week at the Castle Square, beginning next Monday. There is no doubt of its persistent humor. Audience after audience has laughed at it during the past week, and still there is a greater and greater demand to see it. The playgoer who enjoys it once is certain to want to see it and its hilarious scenes again. For three acts "Seven Days" continues its series of unbroken comic events. All of its scenes are filled to overflowing with humor and wholesome comicality, and the critic who said that "Seven Days" is the funniest farce ever written was not far from the mark.

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE.—Frances Starr has added to her glory as an actress and David Belasco to his fame as a producer by the new play, "The Case of Becky," which will open its last week at the Hollis Monday night, May 13. Mr. Belasco has certainly found a play different from

 and Glass.

anything he has produced, and Miss Starr a role that few actresses would dare attempt. That Miss Starr has scored a sensational success in Boston in this difficult part is an evidence of her lasting claim to be one of the greatest emotional actresses. She endows the chief role in "The Case of Becky" with great charm and girlishness, and with wonderful artistry. Her's is the difficult task of representing two different characters embodied in one person—a role of dual personality. Mr. Belasco has seen to it that Miss Starr has distinguished support in Charles Dalton, Albert Bruning, Mary Lawton, Hugh Dillman, Harry C. Browne and John P. Brown. The final matinee will be played on Wednesday and Saturday.

Lower Falls

—Mothers' Day will be observed at the Methodist Church at the Sunday morning service by sermon and song. A cordial invitation is extended the mothers to be present. The pastor, Rev. G. W. Jones, will present each mother with a white carnation.

—Rev. Fr. P. H. Callanan, for twenty-two years pastor of St. John's Church, has been transferred to St. Peter's Church in Cambridge. Rev. Fr. Leo J. Knappe, D.C.S., from St. Stephen's Church in the North End, has been appointed pastor to fill Father Callanan's place.

—The Community Club held its first annual dance in Early Hall last Friday evening. The hall was prettily decorated with flowers of the club color—yellow. Every club girl wore a daffodil and the aids carried yellow wands. A most attractive dance program was arranged and the novelty dances were very pretty. The matrons were Mrs. Ellen Brewer, Mrs. Charles French, and Mrs. Jesse K. Bancroft.

CONCERT

Members of the Christian Endeavor Orchestra assisted by the Knights of King Arthur, gave a very successful and enjoyable concert Tuesday evening at the Congregational Church, Auburndale. An exceptionally fine program was presented, consisting of vocal and instrumental music. A piano solo was played excellently by Mr. Raymond Sikes; selections for violin and cello were admirably rendered by Miss Miriam Herron and Mr. Ralph Keyes, violin, and Miss Margaret Ruggles, cellist, and were received with great enthusiasm by the large audience. Miss Kane sang with excellent effect several selections, after which was the singing by the Knights of King Arthur of the Castle hymn, which was written by Mr. Harold Brown. Refreshments were served under the direction of Mrs. Gordon, Mrs. Fiske, Mrs. Draper and Mrs. Frost, assisted by Messrs. Leonard Nason, Addison Knapp, Jack Draper, Edwin Aiken, George Fiske and Albert Henrikus. The proceeds are for the furnishing of the new Castle hall.

CLAFIN CLUB

The vestry of the Newtonville M. E. Church was well filled Wednesday evening at the closing entertainment of the Clafin Club. It was arranged by Mr. E. F. Pillman and Mr. H. D. McIntosh and afforded much pleasure.

It would be hard to obtain a better combination of talent than presented by Miss Iva Roberts, in the four-scene monologue, "Betsey of Baltimore," with the Lafayette Male Quartet and the trio of young ladies known as the Van Cleave Orchestra, Miss Antoinette Van Cleave, violin; Miss Mildred Ridley, cellist; Miss Pearl Seiler, pianist.

Miss Roberts is a member of the Leland Powers School faculty. Her selection gave opportunity to display her charming southern accent and the picture of Jerome Bonaparte's courtship of Miss Betsey Patterson was most pleasingly presented. The quartet, Messrs. Faulkner and Meredith, tenors, Blum and Brown, basses, was one of the best. Each a soloist, their voices blended as one with precision and delicacy of light and shade. They were repeatedly encored. Much credit is due the trio of musicians who rendered music of the highest class in most acceptable manner. The Club closes a most successful season of entertainments and faces the coming season with much promise.

MAY PARTY

A very successful May Party under the auspices of the Men's Club of Trinity Church, Newton Centre, was held Saturday evening in the new parish house. There was a very large attendance, not only of members of Trinity parish, but also from the other churches. An exceptionally fine program was furnished for the entertainment, which consisted of orchestra music, finely rendered cello selections by Mr. Leon Van Vleet of Boston, and vocal selections by Mr. Russell G. Hemmaway. The dancing was under the direction of Miss Lillian F. Harrington. The Flower Dance by a group of little girls of the Sunday School, and the Shadow Dance by Miss Harrington, were very pretty and graceful, as was also the waltz duet by the Misses Elsie and Lillian Harrington. An especially interesting feature of the evening was the auction sale by Mr. Cram, of the hand-painted posters, some of which sold for $3.00. The festivities closed with dancing, and an elaborate menu was served.

LODGES

Palestine Chapter, O. E. S., 114, will give a dance and whist Wednesday evening, May 22 in Temple Hall, Newtonville. Music by Atwood Symphony Orchestra. Dancing 8 to 12.

EDITORIAL

There is considerable truth in the warning given by Alderman Murphy last Monday night, that unless conditions are made more nearly equal as regards wages and working hours, the various municipal employees affected, will create a strong influence in favor of annexation to Boston. Results in Hyde Park and present conditions in Watertown lend color to this statement.

It is to be hoped that the rancor of political prejudice in the republican party will soon yield to the good of the whole. It really matters but little to the average citizen, who holds the office of president of these United States, just stop a moment and consider how this question really affects you personally, and don't let your present prejudices lead you to take a position from which it would be difficult to retreat next November.

The results shown by the recount of the Taft ballots, that 291 republicans in this city about 16 per cent of the Taft vote, made their ballot void, by voting for nine delegates instead of eight, is not at all creditable to a city that prides itself on its civic interest and intelligence on public affairs.

THE NEWTON HIGH SCHOOLS

The Senior Class of the High School will present "The Unexpectedness of Dlantha," an original play by Miss McCarroll and Miss MacLure of the senior class, on Friday evening, May 24, at eight o'clock. After the play there will be dancing in the gymnasium.

The annual concert of the chorus, glee club, and orchestra, assisted by graduates of the Newton High School will be held in the assembly hall, Friday evening, May 17. The proceeds of the concert will be for the library.

Newton won from Mechanics Art last Saturday by a score of 3 to 3. They whitewashed Quincy High on Tuesday by a score of 10 to 0.

A cross country run will be held about the middle of May between the Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors of both High Schools. The course will be the usual High School course and numerals will be awarded.

The Senior reception, which was to be given by the Juniors of the Technical High on April 26, has been cancelled.

After two innings had been played in the pouring rain and an intermission of five minutes between the innings in the hopes that the clouds would pass over, the game scheduled for yesterday afternoon between the Newton High School baseball team and the Milton H. S. nine was called off. Each team had annexed one run when the game was called and both pitchers were going a fast pace, Higgin pitching for the Orange and Black and Carson for the visitors. Manager Theron Walker was unable to arrange another game between the teams for this season as both schedules were filled.

The annual business meeting of the Newton High School Commercial Alumni Association was held Friday evening in the Technical High School Library. The meeting consisted of reading of yearly reports and election of officers. Retiring president Thomas Burns, president, Manager F. W. Gause of the Columbia Life Insurance Company was a guest and spoke on "The Benefits of Insurance." Dancing and refreshments followed in the library. The new officers are Thomas J. L. Noone, president; Marguerite Whelan, vice-president; Robert Howley, treasurer; Josephine Mullen, secretary; and trustee for three years, Leroy Hurd.

ANNUAL RECEPTION

The annual reception of the Stone Institute and Newton Home for Aged People was held at the home in Newton Upper Falls, last Saturday afternoon from three to five o'clock. There was a large attendance of friends of the Home and of the fifteen inmates, including Mr. J. W. Byers, Mrs. James E. Clark, Mrs. George Hutchinson, Miss Abbie Spear, Mrs. Morton E. Cobb, Mrs. H. E. Cobb, and Mrs. John A. Gould of the board of trustees.

While the President, Mr. Charles E. Riley is in the South on business the flowers which decorated the various rooms were a gift from him. Refreshments were served in the dining room, with Mrs. A. F. Hayward and Mrs. Charles E. Gibson, pouring, and assisted by a number of young ladies.

HISTORICAL PAGEANT

The idea of having an historical pageant on the Newton Centre Playground is to be given a full discussion at the Mason School next Tuesday evening, May 14th, at eight o'clock.

The possibilities of open air pageants will be explained by Prof. George P. Baker, of Harvard, the leading authority on the subject in this country, and there will be other invited speakers, and open discussion of the plan.

The Playground would be an exceptional place for pageantry, and our local history offers many suggestions for tableaux.

If such a plan could be carried out in June, 1913, with the co-operation of the Playground League, the Woman's Club, and the Improvement Society, it could undoubtedly be assured of a great success.

S. E. K. SOCIETY DANCE A BIG SUCCESS

Members of the S. E. K. Society scored another brilliant ballroom success Saturday evening at Norumbega hall. It was the largest and best affair given by the society and was participated in by about forty couples. The gowns worn were unusually handsome and all present enjoyed themselves immensely and voted the evening one of the most successful of the season. There was a well arranged order of twenty dances, and a delightful program of music was furnished by Lutz orchestra. At the close of the evening an elaborate collation was served. The committee in charge were the Misses Julia Pickard, Marian Knowlton and Mildred Dame. The matrons were Mrs. Charles D. Pickard, Mrs. William A. Knowlton and Mrs. Warren S. Dame.

CHOIR MINSTRELS

The choir of Grace Church gave a largely attended Minstrel Show last evening at the Hunnewell Club. The program included a sketch in two scenes, in which the leading parts were taken by Mr. H. P. Curtiss, Azel Collins, Fay Roope, Elmer Bennett, Harold Bennett, Bradford Story, Howard Armstrong and Warren Blue. There were solos by Harold Bennett, Fay Roope, Albert F. Pickernell, Warren Blue, H. P. Curtiss, Kenneth Tucker and Azel Collins, which were greatly enjoyed by all. The conductor was Mr. Charles N. Sladen and Mr. W. G. Hambleton was the pianist. Howard Armstrong was the interlocutor and over thirty boys were in the circle.

NEWTON OPERA HOUSE

CENTRE and PEARL STS., NEWTON

Tuesday Eve., May 14, 1912

At 7.30 o'clock

The Newton Opera House is a beautiful new structure, fire-proof, and equipped throughout with electric fans and a perfect system of ventilation. No expense has been spared to make the house one of the most up-to-date, sanitary and attractive in New England.

The seats are especially comfortable and roomy and the color effects and decorations are wonderfully pleasing to the eye.

It is the ambition of the management to give a performance well worthy of a Newton audience, and as everything about the equipment of the theatre is the best that could be had, so its program will offer only attractions of distinct merit in the way of refined amusement.

We propose to win the support of the people of Newton and vicinity by putting on shows that are worthy of their patronage.

The seating capacity of the theatre is 950.

Program includes the latest most approved moving pictures and high class vaudeville

10,989 boys, making a grand total of 18,719.

The record of the baseball team was next thrown on the screen. John Hines was the Captain last year and the record was 15 games won and 5 games lost. In basketball the first team won 15 games and lost 5 games. William Cady was Captain of the team. The second basketball team won 12 and lost 3 games, Mark Lucas, Captain.

The swimming pool was used by an average of 60 men and boys daily. The aggregate number using the pool 157 days was 9,420. More than 50 men and boys were taught to swim. Many exhibitions and meets were held which attracted unusual interest. The swimming pool will probably be used more during the warm weather than it was during the winter. This pool is one of the finest that can be made. The water is filtered daily and the sanitary conditions are as good as can be made. The pool will be open for the use of men on Saturday afternoons and on other days after 5 o'clock.

The work of the Boys' Department shows the efficiency with which it has been conducted by our Boys' Secretary, Mr. Bissell. The boys have fine quarters separate from the men, and certainly used them this year. The boys' team won 2nd place in the bowling tournament and two game meets with the Cambridge Y. M. C. A. were won. The boys also won two shields in game meets in which the Boston, Somerville, Cambridge and Newton Associations participated. A fine Camera Club has been organized and the members of this club are now studying photography and using the splendid dark room. The Dramatic Club of twenty members gave a play during the winter which attracted an attendance of 375 people. Perhaps the most important work of the Boys' Department has been the educational talks and Bible Study; a list of the talks are given below:

Lumbering Camps in Northern Michigan, by Mr. Elliot Smith of Harvard University.

Fall of Port Arthur, by Mr. Greene, Associated Charities, Boston.

Tramps I Have Known, by Mr. Warren, Boston.

Custer Massacre, by Capt. Ryan, West Newton.

Panama and the Canal, by H. C. Jennings, Newton.

Through Switzerland and up the Rhine, by Mr. McCarroll, Newtonville.

Experiences in the Civil War, by Harry E. Howard, Stoddard, N. H.

Experiences of an Aviator, by Mr. Alcazar, Porto Rico.

The series of eight Sunday Meetings at which there was an average attendance of 59 boys and a total attendance of 1,477 was also a splendid feature. Eleven Boys' Bible Classes were also conducted, enrolling 68 boys. The number of lessons taught was 130 and the average attendance was 46, the total attendance 547. The classes were divided into two groups, the older boys being taught by young business men and the younger group by young high school boys.

A large number of slides showing camp life at Becket and Durrell, the Y. M. C. A. State Camps, were shown. Any boy who is a member of the Newton Association can take advantage of the camping privileges offered at these two camps at reasonable rates. It is not necessary for any boy to go to the expense of a private camp in order to enjoy camping under the best of auspices. Newton has always had a number of boys at both of these camps and a good many have already enrolled for this season.

The Woman's Auxiliary have been unusually active this year co-operating with the Association in its work for boys and also contributing $300 toward the salary of the Boys' Secretary. Five dormitory rooms have been furnished by them and in many other ways they have helped. Several splendid talks to large groups of mothers have been given under their auspices. The retiring president, Mrs. J. Elliot Trowbridge, the other officers and those who held important places on committees deserve the thanks of all members of the Association for their efficient work.

In closing a word of tribute was paid to the late Mr. J. R. W. Shapleigh who, from the beginning of the Association, held positions of responsibility and did much both in the Association and in his own church to help young men. Each member was urged to follow Mr. Shapleigh's example of service to those about him.

President Emory then called upon Mr. Macpherson, who spoke of the need of loyalty by Association members as a keynote to Association success. Mr. Bissell spoke briefly of the future plans for the boys' work. Among other things he mentioned the fact that the Association was planning to invite groups of boys from Boston who have not the advantages of good sunlight and open air to spend a day as the guests of the Newton Association to enjoy the athletic field and the swimming pool. Mr. D. Fletcher Barber said that 29 of the 34 dormitories were already rented and he made an appeal to the members to tell their friends of the opportunities for young men living away from home. Mr. Arthur Kendrick, one of the new members of the Board of Directors, said that during the coming year friendliness was to be the keynote of the work of the Social Committee. Mr. James H. Gilkey, another new member of the Board of Directors and chairman of the Committee on Membership, made an appeal for the co-operation of every member to build up the membership of the Association. Mr. J. W. Blaisdell, the Treasurer of the Association, spoke of the various ways in which the income of the Association was to be raised. He mentioned the fact that this was the first year and no one could tell just the exact cost of operating the plant and the income which would be derived from different sources. Here, again, an appeal was made for the co-operation of the younger members of the Association in the use of the privileges offered and the necessity for them to interest their friends in all departments of

MISS GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

The annual meeting of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs on Tuesday was more than ordinarily interesting. The reports of the chairmen of committees, which are given below, show better than any words of the Club Editor how much is being done so quietly, and yet effectively, that it is not realized until it is all brought together at this annual meeting. The clubs, too, are to be congratulated upon the hearty way in which they have co-operated in everything which the Federation has proposed. They seem not to have set aside any of their own particular interests and yet have added whatever else has been suggested to them. Certainly the Federation has done much toward unifying the women of the city and those who have been following the Federation work for a number of years cannot but be impressed with the spirit of "togetherness" which is so evident at the present time. Long live the Federation and may all its efforts prosper.

The last Home Circle meeting of the season will be held on Thursday, May 16, in G. A. R. Hall, Newtonville, at 2 P. M. Following the business meeting there will be a musical and literary entertainment and a social tea.

With the annual meeting on May 6, at the home of Mrs. Herbert O. Stetson, the Waban Woman's Club completed a year of exceptional interest and activity. After the usual reports of officers slight changes were made in the constitution, the most important of which being the increasing of the membership limit from 95 to 125. By unanimous vote war is to be waged against the house-fly under the leadership of Miss Grace Miller. At the close of the business of the afternoon, Mrs. Helen LeClear sang most artistically several songs, accompanied by Mrs. Annie Hill, after which Mrs. Hill rendered a piano solo. These officers were elected for the season of 1912-1913: President, Mrs. Janet H. Putnam; vice-president, Mrs. Isabel Parker; recording secretary, Mrs. Edith Virtue; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Emma G. Angier; treasurer, Mrs. Anna I. Webster; director, Mrs. Grace E. Andrews; entertainment committee, Mrs. Florence P. Kimball; nominating committee, Mrs. Harriet A. Harlow, Mrs. Carrie G. Johnson, Mrs. Sarah R. Lane. The retiring president, Mrs. Harriet Andrews gracefully welcomed her successor, Mrs. Putnam, who responded in a few well chosen words.

On Monday afternoon the Newton Mothers' Club held its annual meeting with usual business and reports. The election resulted as follows: President, Mrs. F. T. Walsh; vice-president, Mrs. Hubert L. Carter; secretary, Mrs. L. E. Kent; treasurer, Mrs. W. F. Bartholomew; program committee, Mrs. Albert P. Carter.

After an informal reception during which the guests were greeted by the hostess, Mrs. Breck, and the past and present president, Miss Weston and Mrs. Drake, the company was entertained with cello solos by Mrs. Truman Edmund Fassett, songs by Mrs. Carlton L. Ellison and by Mr. Albert F. Pickernell and a sketch by "Irish Players," being a setting forth of the glories of the "Sociable Science Club" by two of the club husbands after "Mr. Dooley." The sketch was exceedingly bright and much appreciated by all, particularly by the members upon whom none of the "grinds" were lost. At the close of the program the guests found a delicious spread in the dining room served under the direction of Miss Eleanor T. Hooper. The affair was in charge of the social committee, Mrs. Curtis Nye Smith, chairman.

NEWTON FEDERATION

Annual Meeting

An unusually large number of members of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs were on hand at the opening of the annual business meeting at the New Church parlors on Tuesday morning, May 7. Mrs. George H. Wilkins, who has acted as president since the resignation of Mrs. Pillsbury in January, was in the chair. The usual annual reports of officers were followed by those of the chairmen of standing committees, Mrs. Woodward of the social committee, Mrs. B. E. Taylor of the Social Service and Mrs. L. S. Drake of the Education committee. Mrs. A. P. Felton, chairman of the Nominating committee, presented the following list of nominations for the coming year, which was unanimously elected: President, Mrs. George H. Wilkins; vice-presidents, Mrs. George M. Fiske, Mrs. Charles T. Bartlett, Mrs. Charles A. Andrews; recording secretary, Mrs. J. W. McInerney; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Bernard Early; treasurer, Miss Lilla A. Rider; auditor, Miss Minnie R. Wheeler. After the election came the reports of the various clubs. Mrs. Joseph R. Draper spoke for the Auburndale Review Club, Mrs. Harriet R. Glazier for the Home Circle, Mrs. J. J. Mitchell for the Mothers' Club, Mrs. James I. Wingate for the Parliamentary Law Club, Miss Grace Weston for the Social Science Club, Mrs. W. E. Shedd for the Newton Centre Woman's Club, Mrs. Charles T. Bartlett for the Monday Club, Miss Alberta J. Crombie for the Shakespeare Club, Mrs. H. E. Child for the Pierian Club, Mrs. Enoch C. Adams for the Newtonville Woman's Guild, Mrs. Charles A. Andrews for the Waban Woman's Club, and Mrs. T. M. Elwell for the West Newton Women's Educational Club.

There was discussion of a regular day on which to hold the fall and mid-winter meetings of the Federation, that members and clubs may plan for them ahead with the hope of securing larger attendance and interest in them. The matter was left to the Executive Board.

Plans for the Historic Pete or Pageant were presented, June 13 and 15, Thursday and Saturday afternoons, have been selected as the time and the field behind the Technical High School as the place for holding it. The scenes have been laid out and the different clubs have already chosen and everything promises to go on with enthusiasm. After a vote of thanks to retiring officers the meeting adjourned.

Luncheon was served under the direction of the social committee with two representatives from each club acting as waitresses. At a large round table in the center were seated the officers and past presidents, while each of the other tables was presided over by the president of the respective clubs. More than one hundred sat down.

The afternoon program attracted a large number besides those who had been present for the morning and was most enjoyable. The members of the Newton Highlands Monday Club repeated the dramatic reading of Israel Zangwill's "Melting Pot," which they gave for their club a few weeks ago. The parts were all well taken and it would be difficult to discriminate. It is a strong play and a difficult one for amateurs, but it was given with eminent satisfaction to all present. Mrs. L. E. Moore rendered a group of songs most charmingly before the play and another after the second act. Miss Grace Manning gave piano selections between the other two acts and Miss Emily Mercer, incidental violin music. The cast included Mrs. Charlton D. Miller, Mrs. H. W. Kimball, Mrs. J. H. Turnbull, Mrs. C. H. Keeler, Mrs. F. A. MacCullum, Mrs. W. C. B. Robbins, Mrs. C. G. Wetherbee, Mrs. G. W. Barker, Mrs. Henry E. Williams.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN

Hear Complaints of Congestion in Nonantum Square

The aldermen listened to various petitioners and remonstrants last Monday evening for over an hour before getting down to actual business. The hearings were marked with considerable objection to the requests of the Edison and street railway companies for poles and track locations.

The Edison petition for poles on Richardson street was favored by Mr. Gould of that company, who said that there were three applicants for service, and by Mr. D. F. Keever and Mr. A. L. Babbitt who desired that service. Dr. E. R. Utley spoke in remonstrance, and suggested that the applicants might be reached on telephone poles in the rear of the property.

The Edison petition for poles on Pelham street was favored by Mr. Walter H. Thorpe who wanted the service and opposed by Miss Walker, Miss Caroline L. Hill, Miss Coffin and Mr. Brooks who objected to having the poles on their side of the street.

No one appeared on Edison petitions for poles on Washington park, and Cabot street, on Telephone conduits on Boylston street, and on petitions to keep gasoline by Harry C. Wiggin, Marlboro street, George Deffen, 289 Park street, and Marion Raymond, Otis street.

No one appeared also on the orders for widening Margin and Chestnut streets, under the betterment act.

Mr. F. O. Stanley was the only remonstrant on petitions of the Boston Elevated and Middlesex and Boston Street Railway Companies to make a physical connection of their tracks in Nonantum square. Mr. Stanley stated that during the 20 years he had lived in Newton this square had changed considerably in the matter of traffic and present conditions were dangerous. He believed that when the city had spent one and a quarter millions for widening Washington street, it was unjust and unreasonable to allow street railway to use such a congested place as Nonantum square as a car barn. He urged the aldermen to get a price for any further franchises, that price to be the removal of standing cars in Nonantum square. He predicted a change in traveling conditions now that the Cambridge subway had been opened and gave figures he had gathered as to the running time to Park street, Boston, from Nonantum square in both directions. The figures being an average time of 30 minutes in and 22 minutes out by way of Cambridge and 36 minutes in and 36 minutes out by way of Oak square. He would have the companies move their cars to a vacant space near the old armory, after discharging passengers in the square. He thought there was no objection to giving the street railways all the privileges which belong to them as they are building up our city, but the board has no right to congest that street so that citizens cannot use it.

Alderman Cox, who is acting general manager for the M. & B. St. Rwy. Co., spoke for the petitioners in the way of asking questions of Mr. Stanley, but got decidedly the worst of it. At the close of the hearing Alderman Heard raised the question of the right of any alderman to act on a matter involving his own interests, and suggested that this matter ought to be referred to either the Public Works or the Finance Committee instead of the Public Franchise Committee of which Alderman Cox was a member. Alderman Moore thought the Franchise Committee was competent to handle the question, saying that six members of the committee would be able to serve. Alderman Cox stated that he had entered a protest early in the year to his assignment to the Franchise Committee, but it had been ignored. He stated that he had no intention of acting on any matter where his personal interests were involved and stood ready to immediately resign as a member of the committee if desired.

Mayor Hatfield sent in the figures received by the Public Buildings Commissioner for enlarging the Newton Free Library building, amounting to $41,047.

The board of health sent in a remonstrance against cesspool of Dr. Blake on Central terrace.

These petitions were granted, — Daniel P. Lynch, wagon license, N. A. Ross, wagon license, A. D. Dowd, S. W. Tucker, E. A. Robinson, auctioneer licenses, Jeffry N. Marchant, as dealer in second hand articles, and of John Prior, for soldiers' relief.

These petitions were also received, — Norumbega Park Co. for special grade for sewer in Commonwealth avenue, P. R. Hayward for sewer in Centre street, Mrs. F. H. Putnam for sewer in Upland road, Josephine S. Frost for sewer in Cypress street, Edison Co. to remove 21 poles on Concord street, John Beal, to sell second hand articles, Peter Jones for wagon license, Teresa Harrington, intelligence office license, H. Melman for junk license, claim Lillian J. Sabine for personal injuries, Anne E. Murphy to extend sewer payments Cemetery avenue, Mrs. O. T. Pettee for abatement sewer assessment Waldorf road, M. B. Jones for sewer, Ledges road, Edison Co. for attachments Richardson street, Telephone Co. for attachments Florence street, and James Dangelo for personal injuries.

Hearings on June 3 were ordered on petitions to keep gasoline from H. C. Little, Webster street, C. H. Dwinell, Berkeley street, Martha A. Sawyer, Grove street.

Petition of the N. & W. Gas Light Co. to open various streets was granted.

On recommendations of committees $3416.66 additional was voted for garbage collection, $700 for work on tuberculosis by the health department, $400 for erection of a drill tower for the fire department in West Newton, $200 for study of plans for widening Margin and Chestnut streets, making grant of $20,902.89 for certain city expenses, authorizing a sewer in Cook street, authorizing concrete sidewalks under betterment act on Beacon street, assigning hearing May 20 on laying out of Dunster road under betterment act, authorizing sprinkling on various streets, with three cents a foot assessment, granting the Telephone Company pole location on Bowers street, and attachments on Eastside Parkway, Sylvan avenue, and Suffolk road, and voting $1650 for work on Brooks avenue. Licenses were also granted Lewis Baker, wagon, Bomenico Guzzi, wagon, I. H. Stewart, wagon, Newton Woman's Exchange, intelligence office, Morris Greenwald, junk, Abram Trackman, junk, and to Masten and Wells Fireworks Co. to discharge fireworks for trial purposes on Needham street land.

Ordinances relating to stationery used by city departments and relating to method of notification of hearings were passed to be ordained.

Alderman Murphy introduced an order granting all city laborers a half holiday Saturdays in June, July and August, provided 45 hours' work was done during the week. Mr. Murphy said this order would affect about 350 men. Many cities and towns now grant this privilege and only 8 do not grant the half holiday, while 10 allow pay for holidays and only two pay less than $2.25 per day. Mr. Murphy saw no reason why Newton could not afford to grant this privilege as well as any other municipality. He warned the board that while Newton was opposed to annexation to Boston, continued refusal to grant requests of this nature, would result in the building up of a powerful organization in this city by city laborers, firemen and policemen, who will vote and work for annexation because Boston pays higher wages and grants more liberal conditions than Newton. It was good policy, he thought to make conditions more equal than at present. The order was referred to the Finance Committee.

The board adjourned at 9.35 o'clock.

BASEBALL

NEWTON FREE LIBRARY

Proposed Alterations and Enlargement to Cost $41,000

We are indebted to the architect, Mr. Lewis H. Bacon, for the following description of the changes and enlargement of the Newton Free Library building, for which bids were recently received at City Hall. The cost of these changes is estimated at $41,047. The C. E. Currier Co. were the lowest bidder on the general con-

The space occupied by the present heating apparatus will be converted into two public toilet rooms and a much needed general work room for the library attendants. The new addition is designed to accommodate 115,000 books, and there will be distributed in the various rooms of the old building 25,000

tract, and will probably be awarded the contract when the necessary appropriation has been made by the board of aldermen. The proposed changes consist in the erection of a new fireproof addition 49x56 feet at the rear of the present building, and a general rearrangement of the rooms in the present building with improvements therein necessitated by the relocation of the various departments of the library.

The new addition is designed to be of fireproof construction in every particular, separated from the present building with fire walls and automatic closing fire doors, and will contain a new heating plant, storage for a year's supply of coal, a basement store room 33x36 feet and two entire floors for new book stacks, with opportunity in a high top story for an additional gallery to meet the needs of future growth of the library.

The front entrance and vestibule will be entirely reconstructed to improve the approaches to both stories of the building. The different departments of the library will be relocated as follows. The entire front part of the building will be used as the general reading room, having reference books at one end and newspapers and magazines at the opposite end; the lighting of the room being greatly improved by large skylights in the center of the room.

The present stack room will be converted into a delivery room, approached through a wide opening into the front part of the building, and will contain the delivery desks, card catalogue, new metal book stacks for the art, music and recent fiction departments, as well as a number of tables and chairs for the use of the patrons, who are thereby given an opportunity to refer directly to about 11,000 books.

The present newspaper and magazine room in the first story will be used as the children's reading room, and will contain book stacks accommodating about 10,000 volumes, so arranged that the books may be examined and selected from the shelves.

The room at the front of the building now used by the children, will be converted into a Lecture Hall with a new outside entrance and will accommodate about 175 people.

books, making a total of 140,000 without using the room in the basement, which may be used in future years to store 20,000 books seldom used.

The capacity of the present book shelves is from 60,000 to 65,000 volumes, and there are probably 8,000 to 10,000 volumes now stored on floors, on temporary shelving in window openings and stored on tops of the present cases entirely out of reach except by the use of step ladders.

It is the intention of the Trustees to furnish book cases for two floors of the new stack room, which will accommodate about 100,000 books, providing ample shelving for more open spacing of the present books, and allowing for several years' increase.

When these cases have been filled, the cases of the new gallery floor may be installed, providing for about eight years' increase, after which the basement room may be used accommodating five years' further increase.

It is estimated that the proposed additions will provide for the normal increase in the growth of the library for a period of about twenty years. This building will be used for the general store house of the entire city, from which will be supplied the books to the various branch libraries, and special attention has been given to arrangements for collecting and shipping the books necessary to supply the different branches.

It is expected that the policy of the Trustees in permitting the public to have access to a considerable number of the book cases, will greatly increase the use of the reading rooms, besides making it very much more convenient to patrons in selecting books to be taken out on the library cards.

New furniture will replace some that has been in use for twenty or thirty years, and the rest will be refinished to correspond with the new color scheme of the rooms. The interior of present building will be entirely renovated and repainted and when alterations are completed, the people of Newton will have a convenient, attractive library building which will be sufficient for all requirements for many years to come.

Whether a miss is as good as a mile depends upon the miss.

SCHOOL MEET

Grammar School Boys to Compete in Track Events

At the last meeting of the Newton Grammar School Athletic Association it was voted to hold the 4th annual track meet of the Grammar school pupils on the morning of Saturday, May 25, at 9.30 o'clock on the Newton Y. M. C. A. athletic field on Church street, Newton. This meet will take in contestants from each grammar school in the city and prizes will be awarded the winners.

The program for the Athletic Meet is an interesting one, arranged under the direction of A. D. Browne, of the High School by whom all entries have been received. The events will be as follows:

DIVISIONS

Juniors—Under 18 Years and Less Than 4 Feet 10 Inches in Height

25 yards dash, each school limited to five entries.
100 yards dash, each school limited to five entries.
Running High Jump, each school limited to three entries.
Running Broad Jump, each school limited to three entries.

Intermediates—Boys Under 15 Years and not over 5 Feet 3 1/2 Inches in Height

50 yards dash, each school limited to five entries.
220 yards dash, each school limited to five entries.
Running High Jump, each school limited to three entries.
Running Broad Jump, each school limited to three entries.

Seniors—Under 17 Years, Any Height

100 yards dash, each school limited to five entries.
440 yards dash, each school limited to five entries.
Running High Jump, each school limited to three entries.
Putting 8 pound shot, each school limited to three entries.
In all heats 1st and 2d places qualify for finals.
In finals, 1st, 2d and 3d qualify for points—1st, 5 points, 2d, 3 points, 3d, 1 point.

A contestant is not allowed to enter more than one division or class. Example—If an intermediate is a good shot putter and enters the senior putting event he cannot enter the intermediate class in those events.

Relay Race. A team from each school, made up with four boys, each boy to run one lap of 440 yards.

Points are not given for relay race. A shield will be given to the school winning the most points.

For further information address A. D. Browne, residence telephone Newton North 522-M.

RECITAL

The first grade of the Young Musicians' Class entertained their parents and friends with an exhibition of their class work on Thursday afternoon at the residence of their teacher, Miss Helen Douglas of Foster street. A chart containing various musical terms and signs, meter marks, metronome marks, signatures, different value notes, rests, etc., was placed before the class and the pupils explained the meaning of each.

This was followed by a drill of the Major and Minor scales, after which a scale was played by each pupil. There was also an interesting discourse on the lives of the famous composers. Interspersed with the drills were pianoforte selections by the pupils, who not only played the pieces in the keys in which they were written, but also transposed them to other keys. The recital was a very successful affair, and thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

ANOTHER VETERAN GONE

Death of Henry Haynie, Adjutant of Charles Ward Post

Mr. (James) Henry Haynie, a resident of this city for the past seven years, died Tuesday night at his home on Devon terrace, Newton Centre, following an illness of several weeks.

Mr. Haynie was born at Winchester, Ill., July 19, 1841, and was 71 years of age. He enlisted at the first call for volunteers by President Lincoln, April 15, 1861, as a private in what was subsequently designated as Co. C, 19th Illinois Infantry he named as corporal. He served for over three years, being mustered out July 9, 1864. He saw considerable service in the Civil War being in the battles of Stony River, where he was wounded, at Murfreesboro, Franklin, the Chickamauga campaign, Missionary Ridge, and the Atlanta campaign. He was captured by the enemy and taken to Libby Prison, and subsequently exchanged, and recuperated at the Annapolis hospital. Later he rejoined his regiment and served until the close of the war. He joined Post 10, G. A. R., at Peoria, Ill., in 1866. He joined Charles Ward Post 62 of this city in 1903 and has served in various offices, being commander in 1906, and was the present historian of the Post. He was a delegate to the national G. A. R. Encampment in 1907 and was an aide on the staff of the national commander-in-chief of that year.

He entered into newspaper work as a reporter on a Chicago paper in 1864. He was foreign editor of the New York Times from 1875 to 1877, in the latter year going to Paris as correspondent for several American newspapers, among which were the New York Herald, Boston Herald and New Orleans Picayune. He was offered a commission as lieutenant colonel in the Egyptian Army under the Khedive, but declined.

Mr. Haynie's last newspaper work, except at long intervals, was in 1896, when he was sent by the Herald into the Far West to write up the political mining, agricultural, social and scenic interests of that great region. Since that time he had been engaged in literary work only.

He was decorated with the Cross of the Legion of Honor by the President of the French Republic in 1893 for services in promoting the literary, artistic and social relations and interests between France and the United States, and was also made a Knight of the Royal Order of Our Saviour by King George of Greece for distinguished services in the cause of peace and progress. He was the author of several books, including one on Paris, Past and Present. On his return to this country in 1895 he married Miss Mary H. Bright of Waltham, who survives him, with two daughters, Hylda and Helen Haynie.

Mr. Haynie was a member of Trinity Church, Newton Centre, of the Episcopal Club, the Commonwealth Club, and was for two years president of the Playgoers Club of Boston.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 2.15 o'clock at Trinity Church, Newton Centre.

For anniversary and Wedding Gifts, a pair of Androns, Fire Set and Spark Guard, as shown by McKenney & Waterbury Co., No. 181 Franklin St., corner Congress, make a lasting remembrance. The largest line of these goods to be found in the country in their show rooms.

THE SILENT CITY

First of a Series of Articles on the Newton Cemetery

One of the most venerable and tender sentiments of the human heart, is that which expresses itself in the devotion to the memory of kith and kin who have passed over the river of Life. From the most remote epoch of the world's history, we learn that the dead have always been treated with respect, not to say worshipped.

The most picturesque cemeteries are those of the Turks, and from them, undoubtedly, came the first ideas of modern cemeteries, with ornamental trees and shrubs. Around Constantinople, the cemeteries are in large tracts of cypress woods. A grave is never reopened, a new place being found for each body. A tomb-

for a natural sentiment leads savage as well as civilized man to pay the last tribute of affection to the bodies of those for whom he once felt affection, esteem or fear. This feeling has been incorporated into many forms of religion, and while, probably at first, was merely a sanitary precaution, has for many centuries become a part of our religious life.

From the early records it appears that Babylon was the first civilized nation to establish, what we now call cemeteries, laid out with streets and avenues, and the clearer conception of the after life in its material aspect, held by the Egyptians, made them develop more fully, what is found only in the germ at Babylon. The Egyptians embalmed their dead and placed them in magnificent tombs, of which the pyramids, one of the seven wonders of the world, remain to this day.

The Hebrews with their belief in the immortality of the soul were most careful of their dead, and denied it to none, even to their enemies.

The earliest cemeteries were caves, grottoes and fissures in the earth, and were usually without the walls of inhabited cities, the Greeks being most particular in this respect, making exceptions, only in the case of popular heroes.

In the fourth century, the ceremonies of burial were entirely in the hands of the clergy, and at that time, it became customary to attach the cemeteries to the churches, and in the Middle Ages, this led to the custom of making burials within the church edifice itself, a custom which is still continued most notably in the case of the royal family and persons of note at Westminster Cathedral. It was believed that the proximity to places of prayer would benefit the souls of the departed, and that the emanations from the bodies of the saints would warm the hearts of the faithful. We can find many evidences of this custom in New England, one being in our own city at St. Mary's Church, Newton Lower Falls.

stone of marble is erected on each grave, surmounted by a carved turban for a man or a carved palm branch for a woman. A cypress is usually planted beside the grave, as its odors are supposed to neutralize the emanations from the ground.

But it is in the United States that the possible beauty of a cemetery, has been developed, and it is in this very city, that possibly, the highest ideal has been realized. The Newton Cemetery, while not the largest, is certainly one of the most beautiful in the country.

Modern cemeteries have been developing more and more towards a more natural style of beauty. Efforts are being made in the older cemeteries to abolish the hideous iron fences and the granite boundaries which hitherto have enclosed the individual lots. There has also been a tendency to restrict the number and size of tombstones with a result that the cemetery is becoming more and more parklike and natural.

The Newton Cemetery has advanced rapidly in these directions, and today stands easily at the head. It has a prestige, which is not confined to the state, or to New England, but is really national in its character.

The one hundred and fifteen acres of the Newton Cemetery are located in the heart of the city, touching Walnut street, Beacon street, Homer street and Commonwealth avenue. The main entrance is on Walnut

ETERNITY

I saw eternity the other night
Like a great ring of pure and endless light.
All calm, as it was bright—
And round beneath it, time, in hours, days, years,
Driven by the spheres,
Like a vast shadow moved, in which the world
And all her train were hurled.
—H. Vaughan.

ALL SORTS

Bridget and Pat were seated in a hammock, reading an article on "The Law of Compensation." "Just fancy!" exclaimed Bridget, "accordin' to this, with a mon loses wan av 'is sinces, another gits more developed. For instance, a blind mon gits more shuse av hearin' an' touch an'— 'Sure, an' it's quite true," interrupted Pat. "O'ye noticed it myself. When a mon has one leg shorter than the other, begorra, the other's longer."—National Monthly.
A Scotch class was examined in Scripture. "Can any boy or girl here tell me how Noah would be likely to use his time while on the ark?" asked the inspector. One boy timidly showed his hand and replied, "Please sir, he wad fish." "Well, yes, he might," admitted the inspector. Another little fellow waved his hand, excitedly, and said, "Please, he couldna fish vera lang." "What makes you think so, my little man?" "Be cause there were only twa worms in the ark."—Christian Commonwealth.

Utopia, Utopia, long shall thy praises ring.
At thy fair name our hearts shall beat,
Utopia, that knowest not defeat.

See, now beneath thy banner old,
Thy sons are forming true and bold,
And come what may on land or sea,
Our hearts, Utopia, will turn to thee.
And when we face life's bitter fight,
And when around us is the night,
Then thy fair banner ever bright,
And thou, Utopia, shall be our light.

MR. BARBOUR DEAD

Prominent Citizen of West Newton for Many Years

Mr. Alfred L. Barbour, one of the best known residents of West Newton, died Monday night at his home on Perkins street following an attack of bronchitis.

Alfred Loring Barbour was born
April 24, 1837, at Cambridgeport,
Mass., the son of John N. and Susan (Sargent) Barbour, both of whom

the Lincoln Park Baptist Church of West Newton.

Mr. Barbour resided in Cambridge until 1875 and held the office of overseer of the poor during 1872, 1873 and 1874. He removed to Auburndale in 1875, and has resided in that village and in West Newton ever since.

Mr. Barbour was twice married, his first wife being Miss Mary N. Crosby of Newton, by whom he had three children, Loring Crosby, Walter F.
and Robert A. Barbour. His second wife was Miss Josephine M. Smith, and her children are Mary S., Ethel S. Barbour and Grace J., the wife of

THE LATE ALFRED L. BARBOUR

were natives of Boston. He received his education in the public schools of Cambridge, and studied for Harvard College, but did not enter on account of ill health.

Mr. Barbour engaged in various kinds of business and manufacturing
until 1869, when he accepted the office
of assistant assessor and deputy collector of internal revenue for Cambridge, in the service of the United States, a post he held until 1873. He then became secretary and manager
of the Cambridge Mutual Fire Insurance Company, a position which he held for many years. Mr. Barbour has been also the secretary and treasurer of the Massachusetts Fire Insurance Union, president of the Columbian Co-operative Bank of Cambridge; president of the United States
Electric Signal Company of West
Newton; a director in the First National Bank of West Newton; and a trustee and clerk of the West Newton Savings Bank since its incorporation.

Mr. Barbour was well known in religious circles. He was vice-president of the Boston Baptist Social Union; for many years treasurer of the Baptist Vineyard Association;
trustee of the Baptist Home at Cambridge; clerk of the Lamson Home, Cambridge; and the clerk and chairman of the executive committee of

John C. Davis of St. Louis, Mo.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at the Lincoln Park Baptist Church, which was filled with the many friends of the deceased, including representatives of the National, Savings and Co-operative banks of West Newton, the Boston Baptist Social Union, the Cambridge Baptist Home, the Royal Arcanum, the Massachusetts Mutual Fire Insurance Union and many other insurance houses, in several of which Mr. Barbour held interests.

Rev. Robert W. Van Kirk, the pastor, conducted the service and eulogized Mr. Barbour's activity in church work and his value to the community
as a citizen. The Mendelssohn Quartet sang "Passing Out of the Shadow," "One Sweetly Solemn Thought," and "Still, Still with Thee." The body was taken to Cambridge Cemetery for burial in the family lot.

The pallbearers included three deacons of the church, Samuel N. Waters, Charles E. A. Peck and Samuel Putnam; T. W. Travis, who was Mr.
Barbour's partner; Mayor Charles E.
Hatfield, representing the First National Bank of West Newton; George
P. Bullard, president of the West Newton Savings Bank; Lewis E. Collin, chairman of the board of assessors; Edwin M. Tucke, representing the Traders' and Mechanics' Mutual Insurance Company of Lowell.

ternational Red Cross Convention.

—Several members of the First Baptist Church will attend the meetings of the Northern Baptist Convention to be held May 22-29 in Des Moines, Iowa.

—The Sunday Schools of the Methodist and Baptist churches are preparing plans for a union picnic
next month. Much speculation is abroad as to which team will win the baseball game, the honors having gone to the Baptist School in past years.

—The men of the First Baptist Church are looking forward to the banquet planned for Thursday, May 24th. The speaker of the evening will be the Rev. Harry E. Fosdick of Montclair, N. J., who is pre-eminently popular on such occasions. He will be recalled by many as the author of the striking article in the November "Atlantic Monthly" entitled "Heckling
the Churches."

—The Y. P. S. C. E. of the First Baptist Church will hold a joint meeting with the Judson Mission Band in the Chapel at 6:30 P. M. next Sunday. An interesting program will be presented under the direction of Miss Mary F. Colburn. The service will close in season to permit all to attend the Union Peace Meeting in the Methodist Church. Beginning May 26th, the Y. P. S. C. E. meetings will be held at 7 P. M., taking the place of the evening services.

HOSPITAL AID

The annual meeting of the Newton
Hospital Aid Association was held Tuesday morning at the Newton Club
and was very largely attended. Mrs.
Frances M. Greene, M. D., gave a discourse on "Sex Hygiene," which was both interesting and instructive.
Mrs. Greene being an acknowledged authority on the subject in this country and in Europe. The address was followed by an animated discussion.
The following officers were re-elected for the ensuing year. Mrs. Henry H.
Carter, president; Mrs. Howard P.
Bellows, vice-president; Mrs. Samuel Ward, secretary; Mrs. William H.
Gould, treasurer.

ORGAN RECITAL

One of the most interesting musical events of the week was the organ recital at the Auburndale Congregational Church Thursday evening by Miss Marian Chapin, assisted by Mr. Raymond Hodge, tenor, and a member of the quartet in the Second Congregational Church of Westfield, and Miss Julia Pickard, violinist. The capacity of the church was taxed by the large audience and the utmost enthusiasm was shown. Miss Chapin showed her entire mastery of the organ by the rendering of a most varied program.
Mr. Hodge delighted the audience with his rendition of several tenor songs and Miss Pickard performed admirably on the violin.

THE NEWTON HIGH SCHOOLS

The last meeting of the French Club for this school year was held in the library last Friday afternoon.

The girls are practising for an outdoor interclass meet which will be held in Clafin Field about the first of June.

Twelve girls of the High School are playing off the tennis match which was not finished last fall.

Entries are now being received for a boys' tennis tournament which will begin May 21.

A concert will be given this evening in the assembly hall of the Classical High School, by the High school chorus, orchestra and glee club, assisted by Miss Elizabeth Upham.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.—
"Nobody's Widow," which comes to the Castle Square next week is a brilliant American comedy written by Avery Hopwood. It was first produced by David Belasco with Miss Blanche Bates in the title role. It has now been secured by John Craig
for one of the final plays of his current season at the Castle Square, and it promises a week of exceptional diversity of humor and romantic comedy. An effective cast at the Castle Square will give "Nobody's Widow"
an unusually satisfactory production.
Mary Young will appear in the title role, and John Craig will play the part of the deserted husband. Others in the cast will be George Hassell, Donald Meek and Mabel Colcord.

Crawford Ranges

One very remarkable fact in connection with Crawford Ranges is that
nobody ever willingly changes from a
Crawford to a range of any other make.

There must be a reason—we believe there are several. The Single Damper (patented,) the
scientific Cup-Joint Oven Flues that heat the oven in every part alike; the Ash Hod (patented.)
instead of the clumsy ash pan; these are some of the Crawford time and trouble savers.

If you will carefully examine and compare
the Crawford with any or all other cooking
ranges you will see why Crawford's do better work, with
more comfort for
the cook and less
waste of time and money. Send for the illustrated pamphlet.

street, with a possible entrance from Commonwealth avenue in the future. The land is of a rolling nature and the five ponds have been treated in such a manner as to add greatly to the natural beauty. One unique feature of the cemetery is the flowering shrubbery which forms the boundary and completely encloses the place. Within the cemetery are many trees, including as fine a plantation of oaks and maples as can be found anywhere.

Newton is indeed fortunate in respect to its cemetery and can heartily endorse the following words of Chief Justice Story, who said:

"Let us erect the memorials of our love, our gratitude and our glory. Here let the brave repose, who have died in the cause of their country. Here let the statesman rest, who has achieved the victories of peace, not less renowned than war. Here let genius find a home, that has sung the immortal strains, or has instructed with still diviner eloquence. Here let learning and science, the votaries of inventive art and the teachers of the philosophy of nature come. Here let youth and beauty, blighted by premature decay, drop like blossoms into the virgin earth, and here let age retire, ripened for the harvest. Above all, here let the benefactors of mankind, the good, the merciful, the meek, the pure in heart be congregated, for to them belongs a song of praise. And let us take comfort, may let us rejoice, that in future ages, long after we are gathered to the generations of other days, thousands of kindling hearts will here repeat the sublime declarations. Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord, for they rest from their labors and their works do follow them."

Mr. Andrew Lang once asked Mr. Israel Zangwill to give his services for a charity bazaar. Zangwill replied in a note, "If A. Lang will, I, Zangwill".

SOME TIME

Some time we're going to do a kindly deed.
 Or speak a helpful word to some lone heart.
 Some time we're going to plant the living seed
 In soil where it will thrive and do its part.
 Some time we'll stoop to help a wearied soul
 That staggers underneath a heavy load.
 Some time we'll pause, while rushing toward the goal,
 To aid a brother on the rocky road.
 Some time we're going to stop the ceaseless grind—
 This everlasting hurry-life we live,
 And be more loving, tender, true and kind;
 More thoughtful and more ready to forgive.
 Some time we'll only see the good in men,
 Be blind to all the worthless and the bad,
 And recollect our own weak faults,
 and then
 Just strive to make the whole world bright and glad.

MOUNT IDA SCHOOL

Dr. King, president of Oberlin College, Ohio, conducted chapel exercises at Mount Ida School Saturday morning, and gave an inspiring address to which the students and faculty listened with deep interest. Mr. G. W. Merriam conducted the chapel exercises Thursday morning.

The senior class was delightfully entertained by the junior class Wednesday afternoon on a sail down the harbor. There were sixty-five students in the party, and luncheon was served on the boat.

Miss Mary White of Lenoxville, Canada, who was a junior at the school last year, was a recent guest of her cousin, Miss Daisy White, and was warmly greeted by her many friends at the school. Miss White will be married early in June.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

Two Newton men were honored this week by Governor Foss in the list of appointments sent to the Executive Council on Wednesday. Mr. Thomas W. Procter of Chestnut Hill was appointed a member of the commission to investigate the matter of water supply for the cities of Salem and Beverly and certain towns in that vicinity, and Dr. Thomas Morton Gallagher of Newton was appointed associate medical examiner for this district in place of Dr. Hinchey of Waltham, who has recently resigned.

The important measures are being rapidly reported, the latest being a bill from the Railroad committee to allow the Grand Trunk Railway to enter Boston. The redistricting bill to provide for the sixteen congressional districts in this state was passed by the House on Tuesday as reported by the special committee, by a vote of 132 to 100. Mr. Ellis voting with the majority and Mr. Bothfeld and Mr. White voting with the minority. The real contest was on an amendment offered by Mr. Ellis of Malden, on which the vote was 110 to 121. Mr. Ellis voting with the majority on this measure. Of the 110 affirmative votes, it is said that 104 were Republicans. The "Insurgent" Republicans who believed that the special committee bill gave the Democratic party greater advantages than present conditions warranted.

The milk situation will evidently remain as it is, for both the Ellis and Meaney bills were refused adoption Wednesday by the House by substantial majorities. There can be no question as to the merits of the Ellis bill which is entirely in the interests of the consumers, and which Dr. Wiley has favorably commented upon, but the agricultural interests are too well organized, and they fear that the proposed Milk commission, will establish some regulation to which they may object, and so the consumer, as usual, is left at the mercy of the changing whims of various local boards of health.

All three of our representatives voted to sustain the veto of the governor on the bill to allow the Boston City Hall annex to exceed the limit as to height, but it was easily passed over the veto. All three gentlemen also voted against the incorporation of the Boynton Single Rail Company, which was lost by a small margin, and all three voted in favor of the amendment to the constitution relative to the authority of the General Court to impose taxes, which was defeated by a large majority. Mr. Bothfeld and Mr. White voted for the optometry bill and Mr. Ellis was not recorded.

The Senate has furnished some close votes the past week, the governor's veto of the Spanish Veteran exemption bill being sustained by one vote, cast by President Greenwood, and the same vote took place on a reconsideration the next day. The Senate has also killed the bill to provide for a new state prison, Senator Mulligan voting with the majority.

Governor Foss has sent in a message criticizing the Senate for refusing to pass the bill to allow preferential voting for United States senators at the state election next November, and it has aroused considerable feeling. With the passage by the national Congress of an amendment to the constitution to provide for the direct election of Senators, the message appears to be unnecessary. It is said that the Massachusetts legislature will be the first to act on the proposed national amendment.

The House is having great fun these days in overturning committee reports. Wednesday it refused to refer to the next General Court, a bill to establish a metropolitan bathhouse at Waltham, the margin being close, and on the same day it refused to reject a bill to provide for a statue to General Butler, by an equally close vote.

MAY SOCIAL

The closing social for the season was held last week Thursday evening in the vestry of the Newtonville Methodist Church and the large gathering which was present attested the popularity of these events and regret that they were drawing to a close. The picture entertainment was a great success; the program showed a variety in the subjects selected for presentation and was interspersed with several finely rendered piano solos by Miss Marian Freese, and Master Ellsworth Blanchard, the boy soprano, sang with excellent effect several groups of songs. The tableaux, "Maid of All Nations," included the Misses Brant, Riley, Bailey, Rand, Purdy, Stowell, Preston, Pili-man, Edith and Alice Soden, and Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. McIntosh, Mrs. Gliman, Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. Taylor, with readings by Rev. James Watson Campbell.

Refreshments were served under the direction of Miss Rich and her committee.

MR. AVERY DEAD

Mr. John Avery, one of the oldest members of the Boston leather trade, whose association with this industry dated from before the Boston Fire, died Friday night at his home, 45 Perkins street, West Newton. Mr. Avery was born in Boston, April 8, 1841, and was the son of Addison and Sylvia Moseley Avery. He early began business life and after becoming acquainted with the leather industry he was invited by the late Alexander Moseley, his uncle, who was one of the most prominent men in the trade in those days, to join him in business. The firm then was Alexander Moseley & Co. Subsequently Mr. Moseley retired from active business life and the firm in 1880 became Loring & Avery, Mr. Moseley associating himself with it as a special partner. This partnership continued until 1890, when it expired by limitation. The concern of Avery & Lowry was then formed, and this has continued until the present time.

Mr. Avery was a member of the New England Shoe and Leather Association, formerly a trustee of the Franklin Savings Bank, and a member of Dalhousie Lodge, A. F. and A. M., in Newton. He is survived by his widow, a son, John Avery, Jr., and a daughter, Mrs. Ellery Peabody.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon, in charge of Rev. Julian C. Jaynes of the Unitarian church, and the interment was at Mt. Auburn.

Many a fellow who is a light weight is really a heavy weight to his friends.

GLEE CLUB CONCERT

The Glee Club of Mount Ida School gave a most enjoyable concert Saturday evening in the Gymnasium, under the direction of the leader, Miss Love Hewins, who is also the vocal teacher at the school. At the beginning of the performance, the curtains were drawn aside from the stage on which thirty of the students were grouped, making a very effective opening scene. A quartet selection was admirably rendered by the violinists of the school, who comprise the Misses Magoon, Alexander, White and Pollard. Miss Marie Rohmer sang in a very pleasing manner three songs in French, by Werkellin. "A May Morning," by Denza, was excellently rendered by Miss Martha Moore of Kentucky, who has a soprano voice of exceptionally fine quality. The reading, "As the Morning Rose," was delivered in a finished manner, by Miss Norvell of Beaumont, Texas, and Miss Helen Libby of Fort Fairfield, Maine, pleased the audience exceedingly, with her rendition of the wedding scene from "Mary Cady." A violin solo melody was charmingly rendered by Miss Alexander of Lynchburg, Va. The selections by the Glee Club were splendidly given, the training and tone being of excellent quality. The entire program reflected great credit on both pupils and director. It was the last concert of the season and was thoroughly enjoyed by a large attendance of friends of the students including the teachers at the school. The entertainment closed with informal dancing.

Repairing Cuts in Envelopes

Just now when the roads are being repaired motorists frequently have to drive over stretches of crushed stone, and tire treads are likely to suffer from many small cuts unless great care is taken to drive slowly or "coast" over the repaired parts of the road. Those cuts, unless properly cared for, will prove injurious. Dirt will work into and under the tread, raising blisters and separating the rubber from the carcass of the tire while moisture will attack and rot the fabric. Once the fabric is affected, says the Michelin expert, disintegration follows rapidly. The best protection is the proper and timely use of Mastic.

Immediately upon discovery cuts should be cleaned to their full depth with gasoline, the edges being kept apart by a match. All dirt or other foreign matter should be removed with a stiff brush or splinter of wood covered with waste. After the gasoline has evaporated and the cut is absolutely clean, its interior should be coated with liquid cement. After this has dried, a second coat must be applied and while the cement is still "tacky" a sufficient quantity of Mastic should be forced into the cut until it is completely filled. A little excess Mastic is best as it contracts somewhat in hardening. If the edges of the cut are now held down a few moments while the Mastic sets, the repair is complete. The tire should not be used, however, for five or six hours, so that the Mastic may harden properly.

NORUMBEGA PARK OPENS 16TH SEASON MAY 19TH

The 16th season of Norumbega Park will begin Sunday, May 19th, when this delightful resort, which, situated as it is, on the banks of the beautiful Charles River, and surrounded by scenery that is not to be surpassed in New England, will be opened to the public. Manager Carl Alberte has been busy all winter and spring with a force of workmen in improving and enlarging the Zoological Gardens and a number of new cages have been erected for the housing of the many new animals that have been procured for exhibition in addition to all the old favorites that have delighted the patrons in seasons past. Needless to say Felix, the "Methusalem monk," more grey than ever, will be on hand to greet his many admirers.

Excellent facilities for canoeing and boating are offered by the three boathouses that the management of the park maintains and already the river has been dotted, on fair days, by many festive canoe parties. Many new and novel effects have been carried out in the landscape gardening and the natural freshness of it makes a strikingly beautiful picture.

In the magnificent open air theatre daily afternoon and evening performances of vaudeville and musical comedies will be continued while the restaurant with its excellent cuisine and service will continue to delight. Ample provisions have been made this year for the parking of automobiles to accommodate the many automobile parties that have made Norumbega their rendezvous during the past few seasons. Other attractions such as the Casino, Chalet of Wonders, Swing Court, Rifle Range and the Children's Playground will be just a little better this season than ever before.

We cordially invite you as customer or friend to inspect our New Woolens and Silks for Spring and Summer Wear, styles designed and fitted under the personal supervision of Mr. Wm. S. Brodil.

THE POP CONCERTS

Two big College Nights will be the feature of the third week of the Pops in Symphony Hall. Monday is the annual "Harvard Night" and Tuesday the biennial "Tufts Night" and both of these evenings Symphony Hall will be crowded to its utmost capacity. On "Harvard Night" the Harvard Glee Club will be in attendance and will sing songs during the intermissions. Moreover, Mr. Strube has arranged a special programme for this occasion. On Tuesday night the greater part of Tufts College will be transferred to Symphony Hall and the music will be partly under the direction of Professor Leo Lewis, Professor of Music in Tufts College. On that evening, also, there will be Glee Club singing.

LUCY JACKSON CHAPTER, D. A. R.

On Monday afternoon the Lucy Jackson Chapter, D. A. R., held its annual meeting at the Neighborhood Club, West Newton. The hostesses were: Mrs. John N. Eaton, Mrs. Clara L. Eddy, Mrs. Albert L. Flanders and Mrs. Arthur P. Friend.

The reports of the officers were read and accepted, and showed the society to be in a very prosperous condition, with a membership of one hundred. The Chapter has lost, by death, two valued members, Mrs. Charles W. Leonard and Miss B. A. Alexander. A very entertaining account of the last Congress was read by the Regent, Mrs. Charles Meserve, and an enjoyable piano selection was played by Mrs. Arthur Friend. Delicious refreshments were served during the social hour. The officers for the coming year are:—Regent, Mrs. Charles D. Meserve; Vice-Regents, Miss Lucy E. Allen, Mrs. Francis Newhall; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Henry V. Jones; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Fred M. Lowe; Registrar, Mrs. Frank W. Pray; Treasurer, Mrs. Frank M. ## EDITORIAL

For President

The favorable action by the city government on the proposed alterations and enlargement of the Newton Free Library building, will commit the city to the plan recommended by the library trustees, of emphasizing the branch libraries, with the present main library, as a store house and distributing centre for books. For a city as scattered as Newton, with its several villages, there can be no question, but what this is the best possible plan. While it might be a matter of civic pride to have a fine new library building for the entire city, it is evident, that only a small proportion of our citizens would make actual use of it, and would depend, as now, upon the branch libraries for their books. If each village of the city would undertake to provide its own branch library, and if such buildings could be somewhat uniform in value, say $20,000 or $50,000, the city would soon have a group of public buildings, in which each village would collectively and separately, have just cause to be proud. In addition these buildings might well be erected as memorials by some of our wealthier citizens, who desire to emulate the example set by Mr. Carnegie. By all means, let us approve the branch system of libraries.

The most casual observer of the railway situation in Nonantum square will be convinced, first, that Nonantum square is undeniably certain to become an important railway centre, and second, that it is the duty of the city government and the street railway companies interested to provide ways and means to insure the safety to every person and vehicle using that square. I have many times sounded a warning that present conditions in that square will lead, sooner or later, to serious accidents, and from the many plans proposed for relieving congestion, it would seem as if one could be found to be practicable.

The proposition to establish a metropolitan bath-house on the Charles River at Waltham, does not seem to be a matter in which the rest of the metropolitan district has very much interest. Waltham should follow Newton's example and maintain its own bath-house, and not ask the park district to bear a portion of the expense.

The announcement from the State House of the danger of a state tax of $7,500,000 should make our tax payers sit up and take notice, as Newton pays about 2 per cent of the entire state tax. An increase of nearly $50,000 in this one item this year would seriously affect our finances and tax rate.

The name of President Taft, our candidate for the presidency, was inadvertently removed from the top of this column last week.

WEST NEWTON POPS

A pop concert is to be given Tuesday evening, June 4th from 8 to 10.30 in a large tent on the grounds of Mr. Henry B. Day, for the benefit of the West Newton Day Nursery. Teel's Band of Boston will furnish the music. Tables seating six people can be secured by sending $5 to Mrs. Edward F. Woods, Berkeley street, West Newton, while the tables last, but the number is limited, reservations should be made at once. Mr. Day kindly puts the dressing rooms in his garage at the disposal of guests, and ample parking space will be arranged for automobiles.

CLAFIN CLUB

At the annual meeting held Wednesday in the vestry of the Newtonville M. E. Church the work of the year was interestingly reviewed by the president, Mr. W. T. Rich. The following were nominated and chosen officers for the season of 1912-1913: President, Wm. T. Rich; Vice-President, James H. Rand; Treasurer, Walter Stevens; Secretary, W. H. Dell; Executive Committee, the above with Messrs. D. M. Leonard, H. D. McIntosh, E. F. Pillman and W. H. Timble.

The members enjoyed a banquet, furnished by a committee of ladies of which Miss Carrie Gilman, Prof. L. V. Allen of the state board of chemists at Westfield, made a number of interesting experiments on the adulteration of food products. His lecture showed how little "real food" is frequently found in packages put up under high sounding label. Evidently the large package at a low price is to be shunned, if purity of product is desired.

Auburndale

—Mrs. Heustis of Kaposia street is recovering from her recent illness.
—Concrete walks are being laid this week on Ware road and Winona street.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Thorndike have opened their residence on Islington road.

—Mrs. Walter L. McCammon is ill with diphtheria at her home on Central street.

—Miss Elizabeth McLeod of Owatonna street is spending a few weeks at Milton.

—The ladies of the Church of the Messiah will hold a cake and candy sale Saturday, May 25th, in Society Hall.

—Mrs. Hegan of Auburn street left this week for a visit with friends in Marblehead.

—Mrs. Harold O. Cook entertained Mr. Davidson's Sunday School class last evening at her residence on Melrose street.

—Miss Gertrude Morris of Florence, Italy, was a guest this week of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Beasley of Melrose street.

—Mrs. W. Franklin Spooner will entertain her class at a May Party tomorrow afternoon at her residence on Aspen avenue.

—Mrs. Royal R. Heuter will entertain the Acquaintance Club on Tuesday afternoon at her residence on Woodbine street.

—Mr. and Mrs. Dexter of Allston are moving this week into the new house recently built by Mr. Robinson on Central terrace.

—Mr. and Mrs. George E. Keyes of Howe street leave Monday for a week's stay at their summer cottage at Bustin's Island, Maine.

—Mr. Christopher Flye of Auburndale avenue is building a new house on the corner of Beaumont avenue and Hull street, Newtonville.

—Miss Gertrude M. Aldridge who has been a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Willis F. Hadlock of Lexington street has returned to her home in Jersey City, N. J.

—The regular meeting of the Foreign Missionary Society was held Wednesday afternoon in the chapel of the Centenary Methodist Church. Miss L. M. Packard led the meeting and the subject was "Africa—Its Day-break."

—The Federation of Women's Missionary Societies of the Episcopal churches of Newton, will hold a meeting Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Church of the Messiah. Deaconess Hart of Hankow, China, will deliver an interesting address.

—There will be a service of Holy Communion Sunday at 9.45 A. M. at the Church of the Messiah. Morning service and sermon at 10.30. The Gethsemane Commandery, No. 35, Knights Templar, will attend in uniform, it being the annual Ascension service.

Auburndale

—Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Johnson have moved into the new house at 75 Woodland road.

—Mr. Edward Grantham of Rowe street has returned from a two weeks' trip to Bermuda.

—Mr. R. R. Heuter of Woodbine street has purchased the W. H. Trott bungalow on Duffield street.

—Charles W. Curtin, a member of the senior class, N. H. S., and editor-in-chief of the High School Review, has been forced to abandon the majority of his lessons because of poor health. Curtin will spend the summer on an island far off the Maine coast in the hope that he will be recovered enough so as to go to the Massachusetts Agricultural College this fall.

—Mr. John Bean, a conductor on the B. & A. R. R., had a narrow escape from serious injury Thursday morning at the Riverside station. He had signalled for his train to start and missed his footing while getting aboard and was dragged several feet and when he finally let go was thrown heavily to the ground. His injuries necessitated his removal to his home on Melrose street and tho he was badly cut and bruised, it is hoped that no bones were broken.

Those who have heard Prof. Duxbury in previous years will be glad to learn of another opportunity to hear him at the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, next Sunday afternoon, May 19th.

At the four o'clock service Prof. Duxbury will read selections from the story of "Jean Valjean" in Victor Hugo's masterpiece "Les Misérables."

This recital has been enthusiastically received in the larger cities of Canada and the United States, where Professor Duxbury has given it in crowded auditoriums. It is expected that a large audience will hear him in Newtonville.

RECEPTION TO NEW PASTOR

The lines of the Rev. George S. Butters, formerly of Newton, are evidently "cast in pleasant places" in his new pastorate of the Centenary Church at Auburndale. Dr. and Mrs. Butters, stood in the receiving line Tuesday evening by members of the parish. A brilliant assemblage thronged the parish house which was particularly inviting with its attractive decorations of spring flowers. Professor and Mrs. H. C. Sheldon, Miss Marion Butters and Mr. Edgar Butters, stood in the receiving line with the pastor and Mrs. Butters. An address of welcome was delivered by Dr. George A. Bates and was followed by short addresses by Rev. John Matteson, rector of the Church of the Messiah, Rev. William C. Gordon, pastor of the Auburndale Congregational Church, and Professor Sheldon. During the receiving hours a delightful program of music was rendered and later an elaborate collation was served.

GORDON MISSIONARY SCHOOL

Commencement exercises of the Gordon Missionary Training School of the Newton Theological Institution were held last evening at the First United Presbyterian Church, South End.

The awarding of the diplomas by President Horr of the Newton Theological Institution was followed by an address to the graduates by Dean N. B. Woods of the Gordon School. There was singing by the Gordon School Choir and the audience.

Public examination of the graduates was held yesterday morning in the vestry of the church. The candidates were examined in church history, the Old Testament and modern Sunday School and Christian work by Prof. Miles, Mrs. A. J. Gordon, Prof. Peterson and Rev. Dr. McElwain.

Today the annual outing and reunion will be held at Revere. The company will leave Boston about 9.30 and return at 5.

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain Mortgage Deed given by Eugene C. Andres to the West Newton Savings Bank dated July 24, 1911 and recorded with Middlesex South District Registry of Deeds, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at Public Auction on Monday the tenth day of June, 1912, at four o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said Mortgage Deed and therein described as follows:

A certain lot of land with the buildings thereon, situated on the corner of Waverly Avenue and Kentworth Street, in Newton in said County of Middlesex, and bounded and described according to a plan by E. S. Smith, Engineer, dated June 2, 1884 and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds at the end of Lib. 1671 as follows, viz:—Beginning at the South-west corner of said land on said Waverly Avenue, and thence running Northeasterly on said Waverly Avenue, one hundred fifty-six and 68-100 (124.88) feet to said Kentworth Street; thence southeasterly on said Kentworth Street one hundred eighty-five and 47-100 (185.47) feet to land now or late of William H. Emery; thence Southwesterly on said land of Emery one hundred sixty-five and 44-100 (165.44) feet to land now or late of said Emery and others; and thence Northwesterly on said land of Emery and others, two hundred twenty-three and 60-100 (223.60) feet to the point of beginning—containing according to said plan 34,616 square feet, more or less, and being the same premises conveyed to me by deed of Lucy E. Howland and Otis N. Howland dated October 10, 1910 and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 3556, Page 128.

Said premises will be sold subject to any and all unpaid taxes and assessments, if any there be. Five hundred dollars in cash will be required to be paid by the Purchaser at the time and place of sale, and the balance within ten days thereafter.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

MISS GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

Those who are planning to attend the annual meeting of the State Federation of Women's Clubs to be held at Templeton in June should engage their rooms early to insure being well provided for and those who have not yet considered going should cast about in their minds and see if it is not possible to do so. Only those who have attended these gatherings in former years know exactly what they are missing in not going. It is worth all it costs and more, too. Rooms should be secured from Miss Grace E. Blodgett, Templeton, Mass. Let there be a good delegation from Newton.

The Executive Board of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs will meet at the New Church parlors on Monday morning, May 20, at 10.15.

The annual reports of the chairmen of the Social Service and Education committees of the Newton Federation were unavoidably crowded out of last week's issue of the Graphic, but will be found below in this number.

Remember the production of "The Philanthropist" to be given on Saturday evening, May 18, at 8 o'clock in Players' Hall. This is a double opportunity, to find out what Newton women can do as playwrights and to assist the Newton Federation in securing money for the establishment of the Bureau of Newton Activities. Incidentally, you will be spending a most enjoyable evening.

Report of Social Service Committee

The chairman of the Social Service committee of the Newton Federation hesitates to bring to you again the sound of her voice since that voice has seemed to flow almost without break during the last club season. Perhaps our ears are over sensitive to comments from the outside. We have heard a rumor that we are talking without satisfactory evident results. How glad we should be were it possible to inform and interest the community and to obtain the where-with-all to proceed with all the good work undertaken with fewer words and less expense of time and effort. There may be some present today who do not quite understand the efforts proposed—the purport of that work beyond its physical results. A local paper has recently suggested that if the "society women" of Newton—the "club women"—would enter the homes where there is need of aid and sympathy, it would be much more desirable, than to be talking of centralization. The work of that kind which our club members, our Federation committees, are doing all the time is not published, only touched upon in hurried reports. Were we to make public the way in which those needs are met in the homes of the needy and the love and sympathy freely given, with substantial material aid, there would be great surprise.

While much of the proposed larger, newer effort under direction of the Social Service committee has come to a halt, to wait for the possibility of concerted action, yet the growth of Federation effort and power has been remarkable.

Care of tuberculosis patients has gone steadily on. Tents are in use in Newton, Newtonville, West Newton and Newton Centre. Patients have been entered at Newton Hospital, waiting removal to larger institutions, several have been sent to convalescent homes, to country boarding places, or to their own friends at a distance. One whole family was assisted in returning to a little farm in Canada. We have received and responded to numerous calls for aid from the Massachusetts General Hospital, State Sanatoria, Boston Dispensary, Women's Educational and Industrial Union of Boston and several private institutions. All work which demands immediate attention is promptly met by members of this committee who stand ready to respond to "quick calls." We have met most satisfactory cooperation from the Newton Board of Health. We have some surprising and amusing experiences.

During the first of the season the Social Service committee had no meetings. The chairman, however, was kept very busy trying to make clear the proposed centralization of all philanthropic social and charitable efforts of the city. She was called to speak on that subject to the various clubs of the Federation and to other organizations. She has given eighteen such talks, of more or less length, and wishes to take this occasion, to thank again those to whom she spoke for their attention and encouraging interest.

Since the first of January meetings of this committee, of special portions of it, and of the committee with the Education committee and presidents of the clubs have been frequent. The local papers have printed frequent reports of our work. On February 28 the Federation through its Social Service committee held a conference to which invitations were sent to officers of all Newton organizations liable to be interested and the public at large was cordially invited. In spite of very inclement weather a good audience assembled in the hall of the Newton Club. Through the courtesy of the Club we were offered the use of that hall. After opening remarks by our president, Mayor Hatfield took the chair. Your chairman and Mr. C. C. Carstens of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children gave talks concerning methods and good results of establishing central offices or bureaus of information in other cities. Several of those in the audience spoke. At the close a vote was passed to appoint a committee for further consideration of the establishment of a Bureau of Newton Activities. Before and since that meeting most active work has been carried on for the purpose of raising sufficient money to allow the Federation to take the initial steps to finance the establishing of a central office. Here we may be able to turn as to a clearing house, to meet and to supply needed advice or aid for all manner of demands. With the opening of that office we plan to open the long postponed dental clinic and in various other broad ways to cover present gaps, to prevent duplication of help, and to make possible all manner of assistance, with a minimum waste of time, strength and money; to establish the confidential bureau and to prove its value. We are confident the Bureau will make a place for itself.

It is hoped to establish this without any new organization, but rather place it under a governing board whose members are chosen from already existing organizations.

Recently a meeting of the committee appointed for the centralization plan was held. The members of that committee are: W. C. Brewer of Newton Centre, Fred H. Tucker of Newton, Rev. J. Edgar Park of West Newton, Harry W. Bascom, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., Mrs. Mary R. Martin of the Associated Charities, Mrs. G. H. Wilkins of the Federation and Mrs. B. E. Taylor of the Social Service committee. After a long and thoughtful evening decision was made to engage rooms for the office and to proceed to interview applicants for the office.

Much of the work formerly relegated to the Social Service committee, has been this year most ably met by the Education committee. The chairman of the Social Service committee is confident that all large undertakings should stand in the name of the Federation as a whole rather than in that of a special committee. There is great cause for satisfaction in the year's work.

HELEN C. TAYLOR, Chairman.

Report of Education Committee

At the first meeting of the Education committee the subjects presented for consideration were Playgrounds, Gardens, Boys' and Girls' Good Government clubs and the matter of Sex Hygiene. We looked up playgrounds and conditions all over the city and from a conference with Mr. Bucknam, the City Forester, we learned that playgrounds have been established almost all over Newton and that in many localities directors have been provided by private subscription. He said that he was anxious to see a playground director for the city.

In March when the Board of Aldermen announced a hearing on the question of a playground supervisor, the education committee sent a letter to the board advising them that the appointment of such a director was endorsed by the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs. The chairman attended the hearing as well as our president and a number of other ladies. As you all know the request for a supervisor was granted and our president asked to serve on a playground commission. With regard to School Gardens, Mr. Bucknam stated that the city is ready to plow and fertilize any garden plot provided for the use of school children.

The matter of boys' and girls' good government clubs was taken up because of the anxiety heard from our young boys with regard to the power of the police and the judge. They have been heard to say, "The judge can't do nothing to us. He only talks to us and sends us home!" We read and inquired and found that in many public schools all over the country there is an organization of the children into what is called a School City. Upon inquiry we found that its success depends greatly upon the enthusiasm of the headmaster of the school and decided to drop that phase of the matter. The chairman consulted with Judge Kennedy and learned that there is but one paid probation officer for the whole city, that his work is supplemented by a successful volunteer officer in Nonantum who is the friend of every boy of the village. As a result of this man's work the Judge said he had never had any trouble with boys from that district. It seems to the Education committee that Newton needs more probation officers and of the same stamp as the one in Nonantum. Judge Kennedy also spoke of the need of some woman upon whom the court could call who would act as probation officer for the very few girls who are called into court, to go into their homes and make an attempt to influence them for good.

The committee has investigated the luncheon at the classical High school. Several members went unexpectedly and lunched with the children at their recess hour. We found things clean, cooking apparatus, etc., all seemed very clean. A few suggestions were made as to increasing the nourishing character of the cocoa and the providing of more substantial sandwiches. In connection with this interview with Mr. Adams the need of a rest room for the girls of the Classical High School was spoken of, as at present the only place is the one belonging to the teachers. A petition was drafted, signatures obtained and sent to the school committee, asking that such a room be provided. Reply has been received from them to the effect that while such a room in the High School is desirable it is hardly possible to equip it with the finances in their present condition. Certain complaints have been adjusted between parents and teachers.

The last matter of which the committee has made a study this year is sex hygiene. It is our belief that a deal of the so-called social evil is due to ignorance of the full meaning and beauty of the most wonderful and beautiful of all nature's processes. Our physiologists teach every use and function of every part of our bodies, leaving out this beautiful story, utterly ignoring it as if it did not exist. Why? Because parents and teachers are too apt to see the lower side and fail to appreciate the beauty of it. They forget that the child's pure vision sees only the wonder and the glory.

A little boy asks his mother where baby sister came from. "The doctor brought her," or some other fairy tale is too often the only reply he receives. A little later some child with whom he is playing tells him things that perhaps send him home with more questions to be answered with. "When you are old enough, Mother will tell you," or more fatal still he does not go home. He ponders, "Did mother tell me a lie? Why did she?" Some one else whispers, "They all do it, they are ashamed," thus putting into the little fellow's mind, the first tiny sense of guilt and wrong in connection with this wonderful truth. As he grows older, perhaps his father makes hesitating efforts to teach him some of the truths of life. But by this time the boy feels that he knows all. The hesitancy of his father only confirms his belief that this God-given desire for procreation is a desire which has to be gratified at any cost. If he would retain his manhood, but everybody is ashamed to admit it. Physicians who have had to do with college boys tell heart rending tales of unhappiness and disease brought on by this sort of ignorance and false beliefs.

Another little boy asks the same question, "Where did baby sister come from?" "From an egg which grew in mother's body just under her heart. The little egg was nourished by mother's blood until it grew into baby sister. Now, this is a dear little secret mother has told you, just for you and father and me. Don't tell any one else. Let it be our secret." The little boy has learned a wonderful fairy story and has a dear secret with his mother. This boy hears tales from his playmates, but he does not hesitate to come to mother. She tells him which is true and which is false, and reminds him again that it is their secret. The boy's curiosity is fully satisfied and the matter passes from his mind for the present. And what if, bright-minded boy drops a subject till his curiosity is satisfied? Curiosity is the gate to wisdom, and one of the most important assets of childhood. As this boy grows older, with no secrets from his mother and with full and free and pure instruction from his father he comes to manhood with a wonderful conception of his responsibilities. He knows that he desires that God has given him are not to govern him, but that they can be controlled by him and should be if he is to do his duty to himself, to his children, to the State and to that ideal of womanhood, which in the dim recesses of his heart, is awaiting her who will fulfill it.

I have used the boy as an example but this full and free instruction is just as important for the girl as for the boy. She is in this free and independent country throwing off one after another of the rules of convention, which had been raised for her protection and yet she is still launched into the world with the same teaching which was given her carefully guarded and chaperoned grandmother in the days when utter ignorance of life and its problems was called innocence.

The Education committee have carefully studied this matter during the past year and it is their unanimous belief that more instruction should be given, especially to young mothers.

The suggestions which the committee would like to make for next year's work are:

- 1st, Concerted action with regard to school gardens, with the establishment of such a garden in every village under uniform direction.
- 2nd, Another petition to the school committee for a rest room at the Classical High School.
- 3rd, An attempt to open some of the school buildings in the evening for social purposes with volunteer matrons or chaperons.
- 4th, Some definite instruction on sex hygiene, perhaps a course of lectures for mothers and young women.
- 5th, An attempt to put more women on the school committee.

The Education committee would also like to ask parents of school children to bring complaints of any matters relative to the schools to this committee. We find the teachers very glad to hear our complaints and explain or adjust matters for us. The Education committee should be a clearing house for difficulties between parents and teachers wherever such is needed.

HISTORICAL PAGEANT

Some 200 residents of Newton Centre were present in the Mason School Hall Tuesday evening, when the possibilities of having a historical pageant on the Newton Centre Playground were discussed. The speakers were Prof. George P. Baker of Harvard University, Miss Lotta A. Clark, organizer of the Boston 1915 pageant and Mr. Frederick G. Melcher of the Playground League. William C. Brewer, president of the Newton Playground Commission, was the presiding officer.

The meeting was called in connection with the annual meeting of the Newton Centre Playground and Social Service League. This organization, formed to advance social and athletic activities on the playgrounds, has taken an active interest in preparing a pageant and this meeting was called for the purpose of considering the possibilities. Other meetings to which the public are invited will be announced later.

Prof. Baker, a recognized authority in this country on this subject, spoke on "Pageants" and their advantages to both the older and the younger folk. He was followed by Mr. Melcher, who told of the possibilities of such an affair in Newton Centre, and urged those present to help in promoting such a movement. Miss Clark spoke of her experiences in conducting pageants which she considered "A Festival of Thanksgiving to God, of the present, the past, and the future." The pageant program is now being prepared by Mrs. Alfred E. Burton, wife of Prof. Burton of the Institute of Technology. It is planned to hold this affair a year from the coming June and in which several hundred children of the village may participate.

PIANOFORTE RECITAL

On Saturday, May 11, at 731 Washington street, Newtonville, the pupils of Edith M. Russell gave a very successful pianoforte recital. An interesting feature of the program was the illustration of the Faellen System, showing the ability of the pupils to transpose their pieces in any key called for by the audience. Mrs. Russell is a graduate of the Faellen Pianoforte School and through her pupils shows the good training which she herself must have received. She was assisted by Master Arthur Russell, who rendered an xylophone solo in a very artistic manner. The solo players were as follows: Gertrude M. Gunning, Isabel F. Lynch, Ruth J. Sauerma, Eunice F. Stockmer, Edna J. Oppenheimer, Mildred L. Allen, Inga Martell, Mary R. Kane, Mildred E. Ross.

MAY PARTY

Middlesex Court, No. 60, M. C. O. F., held its annual May party Thursday evening, May 9th, in Dennison Hall, Newtonville.

It was a very pretty party and reflected much credit on the committee consisting of Mary E. Blake, Elizabeth Dunne, Nora Enegess and Katherine M. Murphy.

Dancing was in order all evening and was in charge of Albert L. Moore, Chief Ranger.

Whist was enjoyed from 8 until 10, and was in charge of Edward H. Powers, assisted by Mrs. Frank McLucas, Mrs. John Mulligan, Mrs. P. H. O'Brien, Irene McGrath and Gertrude C. Cox as aids. Whist prizes were won by Gertrude Mulcahy, 1st lady's and Mrs. Julia Delaney, 2nd. George Hannon, 1st gentleman's and John Delaney, 2nd.

Lower Falls

—Officer Seaver of Grove street has returned from a brief vacation at Manomet.

—Mrs. J. Malloy and Mr. Thomas Malloy from New York are staying at the home of Mr. Philip Kerr.

—The Ladies' Auxiliary of the A. O. H. will present "The Pursuit of the Parson" in the hall on Friday evening. The play will be followed by dancing.

—Mr. Thomas Purcell, for many years a resident of this place, died quite suddenly last week of pneumonia. Funeral services were held on Friday.

—Miss Mary J. Colliton of this place and Mr. J. J. Kennedy of Waltham were married last Thursday afternoon by the Rev. Fr. P. H. Callanan at the parochial residence.

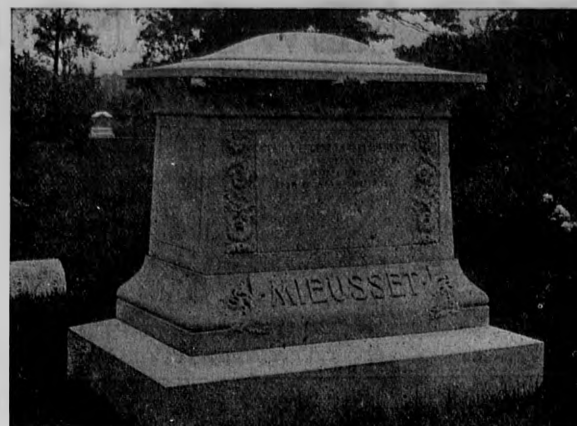

—The Community Club held its last regular meeting of this season on Tuesday evening. There was a large attendance and music and recitations were enjoyed. Various games were played and light refreshments were served.

—At the playground last Saturday afternoon the Lower Falls A. A. defeated Needham, 9-5. It was a fast, well-played game, marked by good team play on the home team. The batteries were Perkins, Connolly and Doherty; Sullivan and Vahey.

ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Newton Equal Franchise Association was held Thursday, May 10, 1912, 2:30 P. M., at the home of Mrs. Arthur P. Gay, 110 Highland street, West Newton. The following officers were chosen for the coming year:

President, Mrs. Mary Atherton Howe, vice presidents, Mrs. Katharine L. Stevenson, Mrs. Annie L. Eaton; recording secretary, Mrs. Clara E. Birdsall; corresponding secretary, Miss Jeannette Grant; treasurer, Mrs. Fred E. Young; auditor, Miss Anna Whiting; directors, Mrs. Fred A. Wetherbee, Mrs. C. W. Helzer, Mrs. Frances Burt, Mrs. Arthur P. Gay, Miss Jessie Fisher; program committee, Mrs. Fred A. Wetherbee, chairman, Mrs. Henry Collins, Mrs. S. L. Eaton.

Annual reports of secretary and treasurer were read, followed by the statement that the signers of the Woman Suffrage Cards in Newton numbered over 200.

Tea was served and a social hour enjoyed.

NEWTON PRIZES

The annual extemporaneous debate by members of the senior class for the City of Newton Alumni annual prizes took place Friday evening in Dartmouth Hall at Hanover, N. H. The first prize of $30 was won by Conrad E. Snow of Rochester, N. H., and the second prize, $20, by Daniel B. O'Connor of Taunton, Mass.

The question was: "Resolved, That any bona fide student under 24 years of age, who has completed one year's work in any American College, should not be debarrd from representing that college in athletics on account of his having previously received compensation for athletic activity." The prizes were awarded purely on the merits of the men as debaters, Mr. Snow being on the affirmative side and Mr. O'Connor on the negative.

The judges were Dwight B. Rich, '00, of Newton; Thomas W. Kreter, '04, of Boston, and James B. Brown, '07, of Boston. The presiding officer was Prof. James M. O'Neill, head of the oratory department of the college.

HURDY GURDY DANCE

Temple Hall presented a gay and brilliant appearance on Saturday evening the occasion being the annual Hurdy Gurdy dance, which was, as usual, a thoroughly enjoyable affair and participated in by about 75 couples. The decorations were in general the same as those used at the May party in the afternoon, the hall being attractively decorated with American flags tastefully arranged. A pleasing program of dance music on the hurdy gurdy, was furnished by Marie Grose, who also gave an interesting tambourine exhibition. The Daffodil Dance by Mrs. Paul Revere Knight and her six crazy "Daffy Dills" was repeated by request, and was received with tremendous applause. A feature of great interest was several German figures, which were led by Mrs. Flora Walters, the most attractive being the Moonlight and Firefly figures, during which the hall was darkened and by the light of a full moon which appeared in the east, the dancers, carrying lighted joss-sticks, were grouped in some extremely pretty figures, making a very beautiful scene and giving a decidedly fire-fly effect. The dance was arranged and carried through entirely under the direction of Mrs. J. L. Atwood, who has for several years made it a custom to give a dance for the grown people, following the annual May party of the children of the First Universalist Church.

CHILDREN'S MAY PARTY

The annual May party for the children of the First Universalist Church was held Saturday afternoon in Temple Hall, Newtonville. A large company of little people arrayed in May Day costume assembled in the hall, and an afternoon of rare pleasure was enjoyed, dancing the hours away to the strains of Marie Grose's hurdy-gurdy. A large number of the parents of the children were present as spectators. The most interesting and enjoyable feature of the afternoon's entertainment, was the Daffodil Dance by Mrs. Paul Revere Knight, assisted by her six crazy "Daffy Dills," who were carefully drilled in stage dancing and performed some wonderfully clever "stunts," which were greeted with enthusiastic applause. They were dressed in clown costumes profusely decorated with newspaper clippings of daffodils culled from a Boston daily, and presented a ridiculously funny appearance dancing to the accompaniment of daffodil singing by Mrs. Knight. Another feature which came in for a generous share of applause was the Colonial Dance which was gracefully performed by the Misses Elsie and Lillian Harrington of Newton Centre. Both dances were loudly applauded and encored by the large audience. The success of the party was due to the efforts of Mrs. Knight, who spent much time in training the "Daffy Dills," who comprised the following young ladies: Misses Pauline Chellis, Ruth Pierce, Marguerite Anderson, Marjorie Boden, Mollie Westcott and Marguerite Barnburgh. Refreshments were served under the direction of Mrs. F. E. Proctor and Mrs. Albert Hammett.

MINSTREL SHOW

An audience that taxed the capacity of the hall witnessed the performance of the Minstrel Show and dramatic sketch by members of Grace Church choir on Thursday evening of last week at the Hunnewell Club. The sketch, a good representation of southern life among the darkies, was written expressly for the occasion by Mrs. George W. Roope, and Mr. Fay Roope and was well staged, the characters being admirably portrayed. Mr. Henry P. Curtis made a decided hit with the audience as "Ann Eliza Jones," arrayed in feminine costume, especially in his singing of "Gone Are the Days When I Was Young and Slim." Mr. Azel Collins, who appeared in the role of "Moses Jones," husband of "Ann Eliza," was equally clever and both characters merited the applause they received. Messrs. Fay Roope, Elmer Bennett, Harold Bennett and Bradford Story, who appeared as members of the Jones family, were justly popular with the audience, and had ample opportunity to display their dramatic ability, as well as their vocal talents. Howard Armstrong and Warren Blue played the parts assigned them in an exceedingly clever manner, and the solo singing by Messrs. Pickernell and Roope, both tenor voices of exceptionally fine quality, was received with much enthusiasm. Messrs. Harold and Elmer Bennett, Bradford Story and Kenneth Tucker, also sang with excellent effect. One of the most interesting and mirth-provoking features of the evening, which was not on the program, was the entrance of a handsomely gowned lady in opera cloak and picture hat, who seated herself directly in front of two of the most interested spectators, completely obstructing their view of the stage; she was politely requested to remove her hat, but refused most emphatically, and was thereby subjected to harsh criticism, which finally created so much disturbance that the performance was interrupted. When asked for an explanation as to the cause of the disturbance, Mr. Ford complained that the "lady" had refused to comply with his request to remove her hat, whereupon Mr. Roope came down from the stage and offering his arm to the lady, escorted her up the aisle and commenced singing "Oh, You Beautiful Doll, You Great Big Beautiful Doll," much to the surprise and amusement of the audience. When they reached the stage, they were so loudly applauded that they were obliged to respond to several encores, after which the "lady" (Mr. Pickernell) removed her feminine costume and disclosed his identity. The show was replete with good singing and bright local hits and was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. The musical numbers were finely rendered by the following: Messrs. Harold Bennett, Fay Roope, Albert F. Pickernell, E. Warren Blue, Henry Curtis, Kenneth Tucker and Azel Collins. The success of the entertainment was largely due to the efficient management of Mrs. George W. Roope, under whose direction the rehearsals were conducted, but the fact remains that their is splendid talent among members of the choir. Mr. Howard Armstrong was the inter-locutor and the tambos were Fay Roope, Warren Blue, Azel Collins and Henry Curtis. Much credit is due Mr. William G. Hambleton, the organist of Grace Church, and Mr. Charles N. Sladen, the musical director, for the excellent work of the chorus which comprised the following: Geoffrey Baker, William Barber, Harold Bennett, Elmer Bennett, Harold Campbell, Richard Cazmay, Charles Davenport, Albert Edwards, Theodore Edwards, William Fawcett, Cyril Forbush, Raymond Ford, Howard Fairweather, Clark Hodder, William Hewitt, Theodore Jewell, George Owen, Jr., Kenneth Peterson, Erving Plummer, Henry Pinkham, Bradford Story, Malcolm Thompson, Herbert Tussell, Edward Wheeler, Lyman Babbitt, William Blandy, Frederick Burrows, Louis Young, Irving Clark, Richard Clark, James Townsend, Thomas Cutler, Walter Hollingsworth.

GRANT SATURDAY HALF HOLIDAY

City Laborers Favored in Close Vote of Newton Aldermen

By a vote of 10 to 8 the aldermen on Monday night turned down the adverse report of the Finance Committee and passed an order authorizing a Saturday half holiday during July and August to all city laborers, based on 45 hours for the weeks work. This result is due to the clever work of Alderman Murphy, who introduced the order and has fought for it through all its stages.

Another important matter was the report of the commission appointed last fall to revise the building ordinances. The report of the commission will be found in full on another page, and the ordinance reported will cover many pages.

President Gray was in the chair, and Aldermen Bemis, Cox and Pratt were the only members absent.

Mr. Gould appeared for the Edison Co. on its petition for poles on Mt. Vernon street, and protests were made by Mr. W. L. Puffer, Mr. W. H. Whitcomb and Mr. E. C. Johnson to the effect that the desired service could be obtained from a rear street.

At the hearing on laying out of Dunster road, a letter was read from Mr. G. C. Warren asking for conference with the committee in charge.

Mayor Hatfield sent in the report of the Commission on Revision of the Building Ordinances, expressing his gratitude for the valuable work done by the commission, and later a committee consisting of President Gray, Aldermen Miller and Williamson was appointed to recommend suitable recognition of their work.

The Mayor also sent the request of the City Clerk for money to cover cost of a new edition of the ordinances, the request of the Public Buildings Commissioner for a transfer of $200 to his automobile account and a recommendation that $7,600 be advanced from the treasury for forestry work.

Petitions of W. E. Jones for sewer in Kenrick street, of F. A. Horne for sewer in Beacon street, of James T. Trefry for concrete sidewalks on Cherry street, of Bernard et al for sprinkling on Shaw street, of J. W. French for building permit on Water-town street, of Frederick Plummer for building permit on Auburn street, of Alfred Katz for minor's license, of Edison Co. for attachments on Warren street, of the Telephone Co. for attachments on Albemarle road and Ellis street, of R. L. Davidson for special grade for sewer connection on Gibbs street, and of Bond et al in aid of liquor permit for Domenico Guzzi, were received.

Petition of J. J. Delany for an auctioneer license was granted.

On recommendation of committees $25,565.63 was granted for city expenses, $1,687 for sewer construction purposes, $4,000 for purchase of road oil, $3,000 for concrete work, sewers ordered in Cypress street and Centre street, $41,000 voted for alterations and enlargements on the library building, of which $33,000 was authorized in serial bonds, hearings ordered for June, three for sewers in Adams avenue, the Ledges road, Plainfield street, Upland road, and Lewis street, at the same time on laying out of Waban hill road and Waban hill terrace, the Norumbega Park Co. was granted a special grade for sewer in Commonwealth avenue, extension of time for ten years was granted A. E. Murphy on sewer assessment on Cemetery avenue, leave to withdraw was granted on petitions for laying out and for concrete sidewalks on Owatonna street, the Edison Co. was granted pole locations on Washington Park and Cabot street and permission to remove poles on Concord street, and the Telephone Co. was given underground conduits on Boylston street and attachments on Florence street. Leave to withdraw was voted on Edison Co. petitions on Richardson and Pelham streets, and on petition of Hyman Melman for a junk license.

Permits to keep gasoline were granted Harry C. Wiggins on Marlboro street, A. M. Boothby, Crafts street, Miss Marian Raymond, Otis street, and George Deffen, Park street, to John Deal to keep second hand articles, Peter Jones and Walter Burns for wagon licenses and Teresa Harrington for an intelligence office license.

An order for $32,611.79 for equipment at the Technical High school was referred to the Finance Committee.

An order was adopted for $200 for preparing an index to the proposed building ordinances.

When the report in expedient on granting a Saturday half holiday for 45 hours work during the week, to all city laborers during June, July and August was reached, Alderman Miller, for the Finance Committee explained that the committee feel that such a holiday is desirable, although the Street Commissioner would rather have it come at some other time than Saturday on account of cleaning up the streets for Sunday. The statute allows the half holiday for 48 hours work during the week, and to grant this request would mean a loss of $3,600 in work or an increase in appropriations of that amount to make it up. As the men claim that they do not get enough work now, having only 240 days work during the year, they do not need this holiday for vacation purposes.

Alderman Murphy said that to require these men to work 81-2 hours a day in order to make up the additional time would be a step backwards. In addition to other good reasons, this half day is needed for recreation by men who need it when they can enjoy it with their families. He moved to substitute his original order for the report of the committee. At Alderman Moore's suggestion, Mr. Murphy accepted an amendment to include only July and August.

Alderman Blakemore said that this was not a question of granting a Saturday half holiday, as that could be done under existing law by the Mayor, and he felt it would be injudicious to act under those circumstances. He warned the board that if we kept adding to the amount of pay and cutting down the hours of labor, the city would be certain to follow the lead of Boston and have its street work done by contract labor. And if the laborers wish to force Newton to a similar position they do so to their own detriment. Newton is giving better schools, a technical school education, places for recreation, four of the city playgrounds being in or near Nonantum, and Newton is treating its laborers fairly.

Alderman Miller offered an amendment to substitute 48 hours for 45 named in the order, and it was defeated by a rising vote of 8 to 9 and Alderman Murphy's amendment was then adopted. Aldermen Cabot, Early, Higgins, Jamieson, Jones, Moore, Murphy, Sullivan, Williamson and President Gray (10) voting in favor and Alderman Barker, Blakemore, Calkins, Chadbourne, Gordon, Hatch, Heard and Miller (8) voting against.

Later a point was made that this order should receive a majority vote of the whole board under the charter, but City Solicitor Slocum gave his opinion that the order had been properly passed.

The board adjourned at 9:14 P. M.

For Wedding and Anniversary Gifts a selection of a beautiful Gas or Electric Table or Floor Lamp as shown by McKenney & Waterbury Co., No. 181 Franklin St., corner Congress. The largest display of these goods in the world may be seen all lighted to show effect in detail.

PET STOCK SHOW

Waban to Hold a Unique Exhibition On Saturday

Everybody in Waban is earnestly invited to enter anything they may have in the line of pet stock in the "First Annual Pet Stock Show" of the C. C. C. to be held May 30 at Angler's Farm, Waban, Mass. Mr. Herbert W. Hayes will judge the poultry and pigeons. Mrs. W. L. McCammon of Auburndale, assisted by Mrs. W. M. Buffum, will judge the cats. Mr. George M. Angler will judge the dogs, and Mr. F. C. Hodgins, assisted by Mr. H. R. Lane, will judge the miscellaneous class. There will be seven classes, divided as follows:

Class 1. Dogs. All breeds. Special prizes for largest and smallest dogs.

Class 2. Cats. Angora and smooth coated. Special prize will be awarded for the largest display of kittens not over two months' old.

Class 3. Poultry. Roosters and hens will be judged separately.

Class 4. Pigeons.

Class 5. Any four-legged animals other than dogs or cats.

Class 6. Birds other than poultry or pigeons.

Miscellaneous Class. Any pet not mentioned above, such as snakes, toads, mice, woodchucks, skunks, etc.

Entries may be made with Sherwood Smith, secretary of the club, from whom also may be obtained copies of rules and regulations. There will be prizes for all classes and a special prize of a silver cup to the one making largest, most interesting and best entry.

SUCCESSFUL ENTERTAINMENT

Members of the Young People's League of the New Church Society, scored an unqualified success on Tuesday evening in their musical entertainment and sketch, and in spite of the thunder storm, the entire capacity of the church parlor was taxed by the large attendance, and the utmost enthusiasm was shown. "The Separation of Mr. and Mrs. Brown," a comedy sketch, was cleverly presented by the Misses Margaret Kempton, Anne Kimball and Mr. Kenneth Kempton. A program of an unusually high order was arranged, consisting of musical selections and dancing. Two selections on the violin were beautifully rendered by Miss Rosalind Kempton, and the Misses Lillian and Elele Harrington contributed a waltz which was extremely pretty and graceful. Mr. Osgood Perkins made quite a hit in his clever impersonations of Harry Lauder, and was the "star" of the evening in the opinion of many. An Italian Tarantella was gracefully performed by the Misses Elizabeth Upham, Marguerite Brant and Messrs. Fay Roope and Clinton Willey. It was preceded by an Italian selection by Miss Upham, who sang with admirable breadth and expression, and was accompanied by Mr. Roope, who sang the tenor part. One of the many pleasing features of the entertainment was the singing of two Irish songs by Miss Alice Sampson, arrayed in Irish costume, and her rendition of "The Old Plaid Shawl," a selection descriptive of Irish sentiment, was warmly applauded. The entertainment closed with a duet and novelty song and dance by Miss Upham and Mr. Roope, assisted by the Misses Anne Kimball, Rosalind Kempton, Helen Brant, Marguerite Brant, and Messrs. Ralph Somers, Raymond Carter, Louis Washburn, and Clinton Willey, dressed in summer costume, who came in on the repeat of the chorus, joining in the dancing, and called forth the most enthusiastic applause and encore. Following the entertainment refreshments were served under the direction of Miss Eleanor T. Hooper.

Sidney Smith once said, speaking of the prosy nature of some sermons, "They are written, as if sin were to be taken out of man like Eve out of Adam—by putting him to sleep."

THE SILENT CITY

The Second Article on the Newton Cemetery Written Expressly for the Newton Graphic

"The place of death is no longer in our eyes, a place of gloom, desolation and sorrow, at the bare idea of which we shudder with horror and dismay. It is an agreeable resting place to which we retire at the close of life, still to be visited and gazed on and cared for by those we hold dear."

June 10, 1857, after passing thru a trying financial experience. The exercises included an historical address by Dr. Bigelow, original hymns by Mr. S. Jennison, Jr. and Rev. Samuel F. Smith and an address by Rev. Mr. Huntington of Cambridge. The Soldiers monument was authorized by the town in 1863 and the ton Cemetery can have no fear as to the future resting places of their dear ones. The Perpetual Care fund now amounts to $180,668.62 and the Perpetual Renewal Fund to $1,466.75.

The price of lots is most reasonable single graves, costing $25, and lots for two or more graves, (27 square feet to a grave) costing from $1.50 to

CHAPEL AND RECEIVING TOMB AT NEWTON CEMETERY

The above quotation from some unknown author, aptly describes the Newton Cemetery. It is very doubtful, if all of our citizens are aware of the natural beauty and loveliness of the one hundred and fifteen acres, in the very heart of the city, which compose the Newton Cemetery.

Nearly sixty years ago, our forefathers realizing that the existing church yard burial grounds would soon become inadequate for the needs of the town, formed the Newton Cemetery Corporation, the exact date being April 5, 1855. About thirty acres of land were first purchased with an entrance thru what is now known as Cemetery avenue, off Homer street, the present Walnut street being unconstructed at that time. A portion of land purchased was owned by the father of the late Rev. James Freeman Clarke and on it was an old moccasin factory owned by him. The name of Grove Hill Cemetery was first selected when the project was suggested but changed to its present name when the corporation was organized. Dr. Henry Bigelow, for whom the Bigelow school was named, and one of the most influential men of the town, and Marshall S. Rice, for many years the town clerk, were prime movers in the matter and the first board of trustees was composed of Rev. Barnas Sears, president, J. S. Clark, Seth Davis, Rev. Jonathan E. Woodbridge, John D. Towle, Mr. Rice and Dr. Bigelow. Joseph W. Plimpton was clerk and Joseph N. Bacon, treasurer. Rev. Mr. Sears resigned as president in November, 1855 and Dr. Bigelow succeeded him, serving until his death in 1866.

In 1856 Walnut street was laid out south of Homer street and the main entrance planned for that street, but it was not until 1869, at the suggestion of Mr. Warren P. Tyler, that the present beautiful gateway, was designed by Mr. George F. Meacham, the architect, and erected at a cost of $4500.

The cemetery was consecrated total expense of about $5200 was partially raised by 1100 school children who gave a dime apiece and popular subscriptions of $1.00 each, by which about $1200 was raised. The monument is a shaft of Quincy granite, 28 feet in height and was dedicated July 23, 1864. It was the second Soldiers monument to be erected in the state. On the same lot is a tablet containing the names of soldiers from Newton killed during the Civil War.

The beautiful chapel given by the late John S. Farlow, and recently endowed with a gift of $10,000 from his children, is a memorial to Dr. Bigelow. It is a heavy Gothic structure with open timber ceiling and terra cotta tiling dado. At the side and opening into the chapel is the conservatory filled with tropical and flowering shrubs artistically arranged in rockeries and flowing water. The chapel contains a tablet in memory of Dr. Bigelow and a bronze memorial of Mr. Farlow. It was dedicated Sept. 26, 1885.

A receiving tomb was erected by the town in 1861, but was removed in 1885 to make room for the Memorial chapel and the present tomb built at the joint expense of the city and Cemetery.

The Newton Cemetery was one of the first to require all work by private lot owners to be approved by the superintendent, the rule having been in force since 1859. Perpetual care has been required since 1873 and hedges, iron fences and stone curbing have been barred since 1876. There is only one lot in the cemetery having an iron fence about it.

In addition to the perpetual care which is included in the price of the cemetery lot, a new fund has been recently established, called the Perpetual Renewal Fund, which provides for the renewal of monumental work when it becomes broken or decayed. With the Perpetual Care Fund to properly maintain the lot and the Perpetual Renewal fund to maintain the stone work, the lot owners in the New-

$3.25 per square foot. The small sum of $10 is charged for the use of the Chapel for funeral services. The number of interments in the Cemetery at the first of the present year was 720.

Next Thursday we celebrate Memorial Day, a day, which, primarily dedicated to the memories of those who gave their lives that the Union might be saved, is now generally dedicated to the memory of our loved ones who have gone before. Let all of us, who appreciate the beautiful in nature, who revere the memory of father, or mother, son or daughter, brother or sister, set aside a few hours of that holiday and visit the Newton Cemetery and realize, as every one cannot help but realize, that the people of Newton have, indeed, a princely heritage for those who sleep in the Lord.

"Plant the green sod with the crimson rose,

Let my friends rejoice o'er my calm repose,

Let my memory be like the odors shed,

My hope like the promise of early red,

Let strangers share in their breath and bloom,

Plant ye bright roses over my tomb.

We find upon going over the 1910 census book, that there are now as many as eight towns of over 100,000 inhabitants in which we have not been broke!

—Mr. Albert Morse and family of Moffat road are moving this week to Walpole.

—Miss Gertrude Cook of Chestnut street has a broken wrist as a result of a fall on Saturday.

—Mr. William J. Dana is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Edmund Winchester, of Pine Ridge road.

—Mr. R. E. Bartels and family of Upland road went to Meredith, N. H., on Tuesday for a few months' stay.

—Mrs. L. A. Robinson and Miss Gladys Robinson of Plainfield street are to leave on Tuesday for a four months' trip to Europe.

—Mr. G. F. Smith and Miss R. H. Bryson of Springfield were married at the Church of the Good Shepherd Saturday, May 18th, at 5 P. M., by the rector, Rev. J. C. Sharp.

—The sale held by the children of the Roger Wolcott School on Saturday was a great success and a good-sized sum of money realized, any money left after the purchase of a Victrola will be used to purchase children's books for the Waban branch library.

—"Crowning the May Queen" is the title of a play to be presented by the wee tots at the lawn party to be held at the residence of Mr. Joseph Breck, Beacon street, tomorrow afternoon, beside which there will be a May Pole Dance and a Dramatic Farce by the young ladies.

—The Women's Guild of the Church of the Good Shepherd met on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William Saville on Windsor road. This was the last meeting of the season and the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Mrs. Toles; vice president, Mrs. Knott; secretary, Mrs. Wilson; treasurer, Mrs. Fearnside.

Newton Highlands

—Mr. J. E. Lewis is making alterations to his house on Hyde street.

—Call on Charles F. Atwood for pianos and Victor Talking Machines, 207 Tremont St., Boston.

—Mr. A. H. Brodick of Bowdoin street has plans ready for a new house he will build on that street.

—Everett W. Kirsch was slightly injured Monday night while riding a bicycle. He ran into the rear of an automobile and was thrown off.

—Rev. Harry W. Kimball was chosen a member of the Industrial Committee at the annual Massachusetts Congregational Conference held yesterday at Holyoke.

—Mr. George A. Adams of Walnut street died last week Thursday, following a long illness with tuberculosis. He was 35 years of age and unmarried. Funeral services were held Saturday at Fall River.

—Mr. Edward H. McCann of Upland road, died last Friday at the age of 74 years. He was born in Portland, Me., and is survived by a widow and one daughter. Funeral services were held on Tuesday in charge of Rev. Mr. Hodge and the interment was at Saco, Me.

—The Shakespeare Club and the Newton Highlands Literary Club joined for a day's "outing," May 17, visiting places of interest in Cambridge. A pleasing feature of the program was the visit to Prof. Palmer's home, who received both clubs cordially in his study, and showed us through Mrs. Palmer's reception room, study, and chamber, illuminating all with endearing memories of her. We then retired to the parlors of the Phillips Brooks House, where Mrs. S. L. Eaton read an inspiring paper on the life, character, and works of Alice Freeman Palmer.

CITY HALL

Forest Commissioner Bucknam is starting work to exterminate mosquito pools by taking care of the various pools of stagnant water. He will be grateful for information regarding any undue numbers of mosquitoes, or of conditions which would seem to encourage their breeding.

Newton.

—Mr. T. L. Rodden of Capitol street has taken a house at 11 Carleton street.

—Mr. Chester D. Morgan has taken a house on Franklin street, Watertown.

—Mr. Frederick H. Andros of Tarrington road, Newton Centre, has leased the house at 158 Newtonville avenue.

—Miss Claire MacGregor who has served so acceptably in the children's department of the public library, leaves Wednesday next for Poland Springs to take charge of the private library of the Messrs. Ricker (of Poland Springs House fame) maintained for the benefit of their guests.

—An interesting program of German and French was given at the residence of Mr. R. L. Chipman in Billings park, last Saturday afternoon before a delighted audience of parents and invited guests. The children, who are pupils of Fraulein Lewenthal, were Christine Chipman, Eleanor Stubbs, Anne Bruner, Marjorie Edwards, and Barbara Chipman and they were assisted by Miss Meriel Dimick, Miss Edith Kingsbury and Miss Harriet Marcy.

—Miss Jessie Wheaton Luther was a guest Thursday evening of Mrs. L. C. Kirtland, chairman of the program committee of the Malden Universalist Church at their monthly entertainment. Miss Luther graduates from the Curry School of Expression next month.

—In addition to a fine presence and wonderful powers of imitation, Miss Luther shows her admirable training. She has a happy faculty of correctly interpreting the authors she selects and the power of dramatically representing them.

—Miss Jessie L. Westlake celebrated her 20th birthday Wednesday evening by entertaining a large party of friends at her residence on Carleton street. The house was beautifully decorated in pink and white for the occasion, with pink and sweet peas. A May Pole formed the center piece of the table decorations; it was hung with favors and gold bon-bons formed the base. An attractive feature was a birthday cake, containing a ring, which was taken by Miss Harriet Perkins. Miss Westlake was assisted in receiving her friends by Mr. Cecil Lyette of the University of Maine, Mr. St. John Campbell of Harvard and Messrs. Lester and Elmer Dunklee, assisted at the table. Among those present were the Misses Bill Turner, Harriet Perkins of Newton, Miss Mazie Simpson of North Cambridge, Mr. Roy Hitchens of Hudson, Elmer Dunklee of Lynn, Lester Dunklee and St. John Campbell of Cambridge. Miss Westlake was the recipient of many beautiful gifts.

Soluble Glass.

In 1818 a German professor stumbled upon the discovery of soluble glass, which he made from silica with soda and potash combined. This is now extensively used for rendering wood-work incombustible and against atmospheric agents, as a vehicle for mineral colors, in a kind of fresco painting to be exposed to the weather, in the manufacture of artificial stone and in the composition of fireproof cements for stoves, etc.

About thirty years ago it was discovered that glass might be rendered exceedingly hard by dipping it in oil when at a certain degree of temperature. The particles, however, seem to be put in a state of high tension, and the whole may suddenly fly into a thousand pieces.

Heatstroke and Sunstroke.

Heatstroke and sunstroke are terms usually applied indifferently to either of two quite distinct conditions, to each of which only one of the names properly applies. Heatstroke, as its name implies, is a condition caused by the action of excessive heat, either the torrid heat of summer or the artificial heat of a foundry, a furnace, the stove-hole of a steamship, etc. It occurs with almost as great frequency at night as in the day, and its victims may be overcome on a cloudy day or without having ventured from their homes. The other form, properly called sunstroke, is due to the direct action of the sun—probably of its ultra violet or chemical rays rather than of its heat rays. Only those who have been long exposed to the direct rays of the sun, such as soldiers on the march, harvesters, ball players, etc., are the subjects of true sunstroke.—Dr. T. L. Stedman in Good Housekeeping.

The Magic Glasses.

The first field-class brought to the New Hebrides sorely puzzled the simple minded natives, who, of course, thought them the product of wizardry. In "Islands of Enchantment" Florence Coombs tells how one of the mission-ary clergy was walking along the shore, when a native at his side pointed out a tiny figure in the distance.

"There goes one of my enemies," said he.

The white man, drawing out his field-glasses and adjusting the focus, handed them to his companion, who, gazing through them in excited amazement, beheld his foe apparently close at hand. Dropping the glasses, he seized his arrows and looked again. The enemy was as far away as at first. Once more he snatched the magic glasses, once more exchanged them for his arrows and once more was baffled. To lose such an opportunity was hard indeed. A bright thought suddenly occurred to him.

"You hold the glasses to my eyes," said he to the missionary, "and I can shoot him."

Not Pure Parisian.

The landlord of the best hotel in the small western town was solicitous about the impression that his accommodations had made upon the distinguished visitor.

"I think we set a good table," he confided to the departing guest. "You easterners are awful finicky about your meals, and for a long time we had difficulty in getting a cook who could do anything more than slum ham and eggs and fried potatoes together. We have one of the best cooks in the country now—yes, sir, a regular Parisian chef. He worked in a lot of the best restaurants in Paris—told me so himself."

"Do you know this chef?" inquired the visitor.

"Certainly!"

"Have you any influence with him?"

"Naturally."

"Do you talk to him often?"

"Of course."

"Then tell him for me that he cooks with a Canadian accent."—Chicago Post.

He Guessed Right.

This story was told at a prominent club the other day by a man who had met Lord Deedes in one of his visits to London. Although Lord Deedes is an experienced and traveled man of the world, he does not believe in throwing away money in those extravagant tips that characterize Americans and that are very often mistaken generosity. The Englishman also is quite able to take his own part if his reasonable tips are taken unreasonably, as was evidenced one day when he had taken a cab to the club.

When he alighted and paid the driver cabby seemed to think his tip was too small.

"Wat's this 'ere for, my lord?" said the cabby, regarding with some contempt the coin he held in his hand.

"Drink, I should be inclined to think, judging by your nose," was the polite and effective reply of Lord Deedes as he vanished into the club.—New York Herald.

Five Dollar Cigars.

Who smokes the most expensive cigars? One would say offhand in reply to such a question American millionaires. According to the Munich News, this is incorrect. The best cigars are smoked in Heidelberg. A Havana manufacturer says that the fabrication of five dollar cigars is only sufficient to meet the demands of the famous German university town. The manufacturer has explained that these cigars are not of the ordinary size. They are just half a meter in length. The students meet for a smoker, and the cigar is placed in a nargile, and the tube is passed from hand to hand, or, rather, from mouth to mouth. The Munich News concludes that people who give themselves up to the luxury of a five dollar cigar are on the downward grade.

Petroleum Has Been Long Known.

The petroleum industry, which has made such great advances during the last fifty years, deals with a product which has been known in other lands from earliest days. In China it was used long before history was first written. The famous petroleum springs near Baku, on the western shore of the Caspian sea, have been known from the earliest times. Antiquarians say that P'liny and Herodotus each knew or had heard of petroleum.—New York Sun.

Gives Him Away.

Bilkins was sneaking into the house in his stocking feet at 2 o'clock a. m. The stairs creaked as he ascended to his room.

"Is that you, William?" Mrs. Bilkins called.

"No, dear," Bilkins replied, "it's the stairs."—Seattle Times.

Perturbed.

"Don't you want to leave any footprints in the sands of time?" "I don't know," replied Senator Sorghum. "There's so much sleuthing going on that a man gets shy of a thumb print, a footprint and even of leave to print."—Washington Star.

The Test of Society.

"Pa, how can you tell whether a man is in society or not?" "The man who is not in society, my son, is trying to get known, and the man who is in society is trying not to."—Satire.

Politeness With a Purpose.

"The doctor is such a polite man. He always sees his patients out right to the door." "Yes; he once had a magnificent fur coat stolen!"—London Opinion.

apartments in the Miller block on Auburn street.

—Mr. Hans L. Tange and family have moved into their new residence on Hancock street.

—Mr. Hazelton Spencer, Boston University, '14, has been chosen associate editor of the Beacon.

—The Gamma Sigma Fraternity
held a very successful dancing party
Friday evening in Norumbega hall.

—Mr. and Mrs. James I. Wingate of Oak Ridge leave this week for their summer home at Berlin, Mass.

—The Junior League of the Centenary Methodist Church held their last meeting and social for the season,
this afternoon in the parish house.

—A cake and candy sale under the auspices of the ladies of the Church of the Messiah will be held Saturday afternoon in the Society Hall, Taylors' Block.

—About twenty members of the Acquaintance Club were delightfully entertained Tuesday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Royal R. Heuter of Woodbine street.

—Mr. Edward Edmonds, Jr., is recovering from a surgical operation performed recently at the Massachusetts General Hospital and was able to return this week to his home on Melrose street.

—On Tuesday evening the Church school will give an entertainment in the parish hall of the Church of the Messiah, after which ice cream will be served and candy will be on sale.
The proceeds will be for the benefit of the school.

—At the Massachusetts Congregational Conference held yesterday at Holyoke, Rev. Dr. Gordon was chosen a member of the committee on nominations for 1913, and Mr. Frank F. Davidson, a member of the committee on evangelistic work.

—Sunday, being Whit Sunday, services of Holy Communion will be celebrated at the Church of the Messiah at 7.30 and 10.30 in the morning. A service of evening prayer, with special music will be held at 4.30. This will be the last evening service for the summer.

—On Tuesday evening the ladies of the Church of the Messiah entertained about thirty of the members of the choir at a supper in the parish hall,
after which an entertainment was furnished which consisted of magic and sleight-of-hand performances by the well-known magician, Mr. Springer of Boston.

—The Epworth League social which took the form of a cob-web party, was held Tuesday evening at the Centenary Parish house and was a very successful affair. The parish house was attractively decorated for the occasion, the League colors being red and white. Mrs. Lyman Fletcher was chairman on the committee in charge.

—The Federation of Women's Missionary Societies of the Episcopal churches in Newton, met Monday afternoon at the Church of the Messiah.
Representatives were present from seven of the Newton parishes. Dea-coness Hart of Hamkow, China, gave a very interesting address on the work that is being done by Medical Missions, nurses, teachers in the Mission schools and colleges, and the staff of clergy. At the close of the address
Mrs. Lowell, president of the Woman's Auxiliary of the diocese of Massachusetts, said a few words congratulating the ladies on the success of the year's work and showing the importance of greater effort for Missions, after which the ladies were invited into the parish hall where tea and cake was served and a social hour enjoyed.

—About one hundred members of the Auburndale Brotherhood attended the supper and social held Wednesday evening in the chapel of the Congregational Church. An attractive program was arranged for the entertainment, consisting of music
by a male quartet; readings by Mr.
R. S. Sisk and interesting war stories by Mr. C. S. Ober. Mr. H. A.
Wentworth, president of the Brotherhood, gave a lecture on his trip to Colorado, illustrated by stereoscopic views. He spoke graphically of the beauty and grandeur of that country

Crawford Boilers

heat where others fail

The only Boilers that are guaranteed to do what they are rated to do; you don't have to get the "next larger size."

To those who want
heat at the least cost of care and money we offer these Boilers with a guarantee that means something;—a warm
house in zero weather,
heat perfectly control-
able, simplicity of operation, a saving in fuel,
trouble and repair bills
and a great gain in satisfaction.

We know the boiler troubles;
we have made boilers for 30
years and in these radically
new and scientifically correct designs we have produced
heating apparatus better than anything heretofore offered.

OLD RESIDENT DEAD

Mr. David S. Farnham, for many years a resident of Newton Centre, passed away at his home on Lake avenue last Monday.

He was born June 20, 1834, at West Lebanon, Maine, and his early education was received at Lebanon Academy. After a year at Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., he entered Amherst College in 1860, graduating in 1864. He selected teaching as his profession, and taught at first in Medway, Mass. On January 31, 1867, he married Mary C. Shapleigh of West Lebanon, Maine, and made his home on Lake avenue, Newton Centre. After a few years of teaching in the High School at Wellesley, Mass., he took charge of the schools on the South side of the City of Newton, holding this post for twelve years. He was then chosen Principal of the old Ward School in Brookline, and of the William H. Lincoln School which replaced it. Here, in collaboration with the late Dr. John D. Runkle, he was largely instrumental in introducing manual training into the schools of Brookline.

In 1894, after thirty years of teaching, he retired from educational work and became an operator in real estate. His first activities in this direction were in Newton Centre and Newton Highlands, Mass., and Kennebunk, Maine, where he erected many dwellings and summer cottages. He also traveled extensively in the west and had, for a time, large holdings of farm and ranch lands. During late years, however, he disposed of the greater part of his holdings both East and West, and enjoyed the quiet life earned by over half a century of activity.

A man of quiet tastes, he lived a life free from ostentation, yet rich in kind deeds. He delighted in extending help to all who were in need, yet executed his beneficence so quietly that few knew of them. Both in private and in public life he was a man of strict integrity and a force for righteousness; a loving faithful husband—a kind and helpful father—a loyal and a generous friend.

He is survived by a widow, Mary C. Farnham, M. D., of Worcester, M. W. Farnham, M. D., of Worcester, Charles S. Farnham, of Newton Highlands, and Frank R. Farnham, of New York.

Funeral services were held from his late home on Wednesday afternoon, in charge of Rev. Edward M. Noyes, D. D., of the First Church and the interment was at the Newton Cemetery.

"I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith."

POSTAL PUZZLES.

They Were Easy Reading For Uncle Sam's Clever Officials.

A letter with the addressee's face roughly drawn on the envelope and the words "Baltimore, Md." following wasn't too great a puzzle for the men who decipher mail addresses for Uncle Sam. The letter was sent from Clarksburg, W. Va., by J. M. Crouch. When it reached the Baltimore post-office the postmaster said it had to be delivered. Several of the experts were puzzling over how that trick could be turned when the mail carrier in whose district a big hotel is walked up to a group around the man holding the letter and said, "Why, that's Sam Hoover, chief clerk of the hotel." And it was for Sam, who opened it and learned that his friend wished to engage a room for that night. When Crouch arrived at the hotel the room was ready for him.

About twenty years ago a European peasant mailed on the other side of the Atlantic a letter the envelope of which bore this sort of address:

HANS SIEGLICH,
 First House in America.

It was easy for New York postoffice men, the first house in America to immigrants being Castle Garden, where they were then received. In Castle Garden Hans was found without delay.—New York Press.

Odd Marriage Notices.

Here are some quaint old time marriage notices that have been dug up by the Springfield Union:

In Norrah, August, 1810, Mr. John Bate of Williamstown, Mass., to Miss Mary Ann Bass of the former place, after a courtship of one hour.

Is not this angling well, I ask,
 Such tender bait to take?
 He caught in one small hour a Bass.
 The Bass, though, caught the Bate.

Married, at Bridgewater, Dec. 10, 1788, Captain Thomas Baxter of Quincy, aged sixty-six, to Miss Whitman of the former place, aged fifty-eight years, after a long and tedious courtship of forty-eight years, which they both sustained with uncommon fortitude.

In Boston, April, 1821, by the Rev. William Sabine, Joseph Whitcut to Miss Susan Whitmarsh, after a tedious courtship of thirteen days, and but thirty-five days after the death of his former wife.

The best way, it seems, a deep sorrow to smother,
 For the loss of a wife is—to marry another.

WEIGHED THE ELEPHANT.

A Problem Which a Hindu Prince Was Able to Solve.

There is a story often told in India of Shajee, a Hindu prince, who on a certain occasion showed himself almost as clever as Archimedes.

A high official had made a row that he would distribute to the poor the weight of his own elephant in silver money. But the great difficulty that at first presented itself was the mode of ascertaining what this weight really was. All the learned and clever men of the court seemed to have endeavored in vain to construct a machine of sufficient power to weigh the elephant.

At length Shajee came forward and suggested a plan which was simple and yet ingenious in the highest degree. He caused the unwieldy animal to be conducted along a stage specially made for the purpose by the water-side into a flat bottomed boat. Then, having marked on the boat the height to which the water reached after the elephant had weighed it down, the latter was taken out and stones substituted in sufficient quantity to hold the boat to the same line. The stones were then taken to the scales, and thus, to the amazement of the court, was ascertained the true weight of the elephant.—Exchange.

FIGHTING FISH.

In the Rage of Battle They Turn From Dull to Brilliant Colors.

In the gardens of Singapore it is the custom to stock the ponds with all manner of queer fishes, many of them of the fighting variety so dear to the heart of the orientals. This species of fish is so combative that it is only necessary to place two of them near each other, like fighting cocks, and perhaps to irritate them a little to bring on a lively conflict.

They at once charge each other with fins erect, at the same time changing color in their excitement from the dull of gray greens to brilliant reds and blues. Indeed, confinement in close quarters is not deemed to arouse their combative propensities.

Place two glass jars close together, with one of these fighting fish in each and they will at once swim round and endeavor to charge each other through the interposed glass.

Even a single fish seeing himself reflected in a mirror will dart at his own image and, irritated all the more by his failure to reach his supposed enemy, will assume the most brilliant hues. Seeing his reflected antagonist do the same, he will redouble his efforts to reach him.—Exchange.

Photographs For Lawsuits.

One call for services a professional photographer dislikes above all others and that is to get an order for a picture that is to be used as evidence in a lawsuit. The photographers who are most in demand for this purpose are the busiest ones, those who make a specialty of taking pictures of news events for the papers and magazines. When any one wants photographic evidence he is likely to remember the name of some firm of professionals that he has seen often in print and asks them to do the job.

"We wouldn't mind that sort of work so much if taking the picture was all that there was to it," said one of these picture men. "We get $3.50 for the picture. Later we get a subpoena, and we have to send to court the man that took it, to swear that he recognizes his work, that he took the picture, that he never was arrested and a lot of other fool stuff that uses up a day's time. 'Therefore we never touch such a job knowingly.'—New York Sun.

How Kangaroos Fight.

Kangaroos are distributed over all parts of Queensland. The "old man," or fully grown male, is mostly found on downs and in open forest country. An "old man" sometimes grows to the height of six feet and when hunted into a rocky gorge or corner will turn and face its pursuer. It is a formidable adversary at close quarters. Its mode of fighting is to clasp its enemy in its arms, hug him to its breast and then with its powerful hind claws rip him open.

Turn About.

"Papa says if I give up my singing lessons he will present me with a pair of diamond earrings."
 "You have never worn earrings, have you?"
 "No; I should have to have my ears pierced."
 "Ah, yes! I see his idea. He wants to pay you back in your own coin!"

A Curious Locomotive.

The Darjeeling-Himalayas railway is one of the most curious in the world. It is of two foot gauge and on account of the steepness is full of loops, curves and spirals, many of the curves having only seventy feet radius. Some of the gradients are as high as one foot in twenty-eight. A special type of locomotive, the Garratt, had to be made for it at Manchester. This locomotive was required by the specifications to be able to travel on reverse curves not exceeding sixty feet radius, with only twenty feet of length of tangent between the curves. The engine consists of a frame supported at each end by four wheeled bogies, each of which is described as a miniature locomotive without boiler. The boiler is carried on the frame between the bogies.—Youth's Companion.

Both Wrong.

Sandy and his master drove up to the small station as the train approached. "Here's yer train, sir," said Sandy. "That is not my train," replied the master, who had his own ideas about correct speech. "But it's the train I am going by." But it happened to be a special train and didn't stop at the station, whereupon Sandy exclaimed, "We're both wrong, for it's neither your train nor the one ye're gaun by, but it's the one that's gaun by you."

Betrayed.

"Say, mamma, can Anna see in the dark, like a cat?"
 "Why, child, what makes you ask such a question?"
 "Oh, last night when Cousin Carl was here I heard Anna say in the dark room, 'You must really shave oftener, Carl.'"—Exchange.

Better.

"Your wife never sings any more. Did she lose her voice?"
 "No; she found her senses."—Toledo Blade.

Self indulgence deprives a man of everything that might make him great.

The Horse's Comment.

The mule, being in a temper, kicked a few boards out of the side of the barn.
 "One of those fresh air cranks," commented the horse to itself.—Buffalo Express.

NEWTON SCHOOL GARDEN

Ex-President Lowell says, "The most valuable living laboratory of any dimension is the school garden. The time is coming when such a laboratory will be as much a part of good school equipment as blackboards, books and charts are now."

The producing of vegetables and flowers gives great pleasure to the children, but that is but a part of the wholesome results gained by the children in their patient efforts under a wise director. Bigelow School has no summer session at which the stay-at-home children may spend some of the long hours. The school garden is a blessing to those children. In past years the expense of the garden has been met by the generosity of the Newton people. Let us not this year overlook this opportunity to do a real service to our future citizens.

Contributions may be sent to Mrs. L. S. Drake, Acting-Treasurer, 24 Brook St., or to any member of the committee: Mrs. I. U. Townsend, Mrs. P. N. Kenway, Miss Fannie Adams, Mrs. J. F. The campaign which the Board of Health has been waging for some months to prevent overcrowding in tenements resulted last Friday in the conviction of Constanzo Ruffo of Quirk court who was fined $20 for exceeding the regulations of the Board.

EDITORIAL

WILLIAM H. TAFT

There can be absolutely no doubt
as to the ability of Congressman John W. Weeks to fill the place in the United States Senate from which Senator Crane will retire next March.
Mr. Weeks, during his service in the House of Representatives has shown a capacity for work of the highest order and his selection as House Chairman of the important committee on Post Offices and Post Roads, and as a member of the National Monetary Commission indicate his standing in Congress far better than words.

We, who know his sound judgment,
his splendid executive ability, his capacity for work, and his charming personality, believe that in his selection as Senator, Massachusetts will still maintain its high station in the national senate and that the Commonwealth will be honored by his service.

Notwithstanding the cheap talk which has been floating around the state in regard to Senator Crane, I believe the real sentiment of the Commonwealth is one of genuine regret that he will retire from the public service at the end of his present term.
Few senators in such a brief space
as eight years, have reached the position of power and influence maintained by the junior senator from Massachusetts, and no matter how able his successor, the interests of the state will suffer by his retirement.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts owes a deep debt of gratitude to Senator Crane for his valuable and efficient work at Washington.

A hint of the kind of public service
given by citizens of Newton can be found in the report of the commission on revision of the building ordinances just made to Mayor Hatfield. When busy men will devote a full day each week for a period of six months to the dryasdust work of revising building laws, with the knowledge that they are doing a public service as their sole reward. It is convincing evidence that devotion to the public weal is not a glittering generality, but is based on true patriotism. The members of the Commission on Revision of the Building Ordinance deserve the heartfelt thanks of the city for their public spirit as well as for the results of their work.

With warnings from Alderman Murphy that strong efforts will be made by various classes of city employees
for annexation to Boston, and less demands for more pay and less hours
of work, are granted, and other warnings from Alderman Blakemore that the increased cost of work, due to granting these demands, will soon
lead to contract work in this city,
the other members of the board are due for some serious thought.

In granting the Saturday half holiday without loss of pay to the city
laborers, the city government, again,
as in its action in granting one day
off in fifteen to the police force, evades the real point at issue. More money and not more time is what both these classes of city employees really want. The grant of more time simply sidesteps the real issue.

Two Newton residents, ex-representative E. B. Bishop of Newton Centre and Mr. Robert S. Gorham of West Newton are signers of the letter requesting the Roosevelt delegates at large to resign.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The Senate has adopted the House resolution ratifying the amendment to the national constitution providing for the direct election of the United States senators, and thus, Massachusetts, said to be one of the most conservative states, has the honor of being the first to record approval of this apparently radical legislation. As it will take some time for the other states to act, it is possible that the proposed amendment will not become a part of our organic law for two years. In the meantime, there is a strong feeling, intensified this week
by the unexpected declination of Senator Crane, to accept another term, to enact some form of preferential voting this fall, to determine the choice of the state for his successor. It is doubtful if the Oregon plan, which makes it mandatory for the legislature to elect the direct choice of the people, will be acceptable, but some method, by which the two leading parties may select their candidates at the September primary,
and have their names on the state ballot in November, appears to be the correct solution.

The redistricting bill to provide for sixteen Congressional districts which was first adopted by the House last week by a small margin, had another close squeeze on Tuesday when it was reconsidered. The "insurgents" amendment was again defeated by a vote of 107 to 120, Mr. Ellis voting with the majority and Mr. Bothfeld and Mr. White voting with the "insurgents." The bill was finally passed by 134 yeas and 94 nays, with a slight amendment and sent to the Senate.

The Senate was successful in its efforts by a conference committee to reduce the appropriation for Metropolitan band concerts from $25,000 to $20,000. Mr. White was a member of this committee on the part of the House.

The compromise suggestion of the Metropolitan Affairs committee on the various Metropolitan planning propositions, for a continuance of the old planning commission for another year, struck a snag in the Ways and Means committee, which reported adversely on the bill which carries $10,000 for expenses. There will be few mourners.

The omnibus bill from the same
committee carrying a million dollars
for various purchases of park lands
and for construction of parkways, was favorably reported by the Ways and Means committee, with four dissenters, Mr. White being one. Notwithstanding the fact that this bill carries over $100,000 for the Hammond Pond
project, it would be mighty good business to let the matter go over until another year. With the state facing the possibility of a state tax of $7,500,000 the Metropolitan district cannot afford to add anything to its financial burdens.

All three of our representatives
were recorded against the Butler statute bill which passed by a margin of four votes.

The Senate adopted in concurrence
the resolutions amending the Constitution so as to allow a state wide referendum, and also adopted another amendment to authorize a tax on incomes, which was then sent to the House.

The Senate acted wisely on Monday in substituting the Ellis milk bill for the adverse report of the committee, Senator Mulligan voting in favor. As the House has emphatically voted against this bill, there is very little hope for its passage this year, or indeed, for any milk legislation at all.
When the members of the legislature will take time enough to study the milk situation from the view point of the consumer, and refuse to follow
the selfish interests of certain influential producers, and place hunters,
then, and not until then, will there be hope for sensible milk legislation.

The Senate, after fooling around a little with the bill to merge the New Haven and the Boston and Maine railroads, and incidentally to require electrification for the metropolitan district, has finally killed the whole matter. There is still hope that the electrification measure may get through in some fashion, but as the Governor announced his determination to kill all merger bills, unless his pet scheme (and incidentally an opportunity to fill some high salaried position) for a Public Utilities commission was adopted, no one can really tell what the final result will be. It can be assumed, however, that the electrification plan will come,
either this year or next, and Newton,
in common with other suburban cities
will be relieved from the nuisance of smoke.

The Senate had a good chance to get at the Governor on Tuesday when it passed, by a vote of 30 to 2 over his veto, the bill to increase the salaries of members of the executive council. In his veto message the Governor paid his respects to the value of the Council, hinting that the services rendered was not worth the salary of $1,000, provided in the bill. This measure was fathered by Representative White, who wanted salaries of $1,200 established, but accepted the figure as finally reported.

Governor Foss went in a veto yesterday of the bill to readjust the salaries of all county commissioners,
under which those of Middlesex county will receive an increase of $500, making the salary $2,500 a year.
The Governor takes the opportunity to score the existing system of county administration.

J. C. BRIMBLECOM.

than it is to sing one.

BASE BALL CONTEST

On account of the lack of interest in the voting contest the offer of a season ticket to the Boston American ball games at Fenway Park to the winner has been withdrawn.

PARAGON PARK

Paragon, that most brilliant gem in the collection of seaside parks, famous for seven seasons for its Palm Garden, the heaven of the automobilists, the trolley tripper, the beach
excursionist, and the steamboat joy rider alike, and made more notable than ever last season as introducing the first genuine European "Cabaret"
in America, will open its eighth season on Decoration Day, next Thursday. It has hitherto been Manager Dodge's policy not to open the park
until the Saturday before the 17th of June, but so many have already moved into their summer homes at Nantasket and so many requests have come from all sides for an early opening of at least the Palm Garden and "that delightful Cabaret" that he has decided to inaugurate his season
on May 30, and while the season will not be in full swing, as far as all the attractions in the park are concerned,
the Palm Garden and its Cabaret
every evening from 8 to 11, with band concerts on running full blast.

ing, Mrs. Edwin S. Webster's Charin won fourth place in the saddle horse
and saddle and road horse classes,
and E. S. Webster's pony won first place in the combination pony class.

—The death of Miss Eldella Augusta Leighton occurred last Monday morning at her home on Centre street
after a very short illness. The deceased was sixty-eight years of age
and a resident of this city for many years. Miss Leighton was an earnest worker in the First Baptist Church,
of which she was a member for forty two years. Funeral services were held last Wednesday morning from her late home, and the Rev. John M.
English was the officiating clergyman.
The interment was in Mansfield.

—A new "white hope" was discovered in this city last Tuesday morning. A teamster was driving his horse along Centre street, when it was discovered that he was intoxicated, and so a call was put in for a patrolman to arrest the man. Policeman Henry Mariner was summoned;
but when he appeared he was in civilian clothes, and the man refused to be taken into custody. They gripped and the first round was in favor of the man. Mariner became excited and called upon Fireman Russell to assist him. With added strength they tried to subdue the man, but again he was successful. By this time Patrolman Bartlett arrived and with the united force of the police and fire department the unlucky man was overcome. He was still "game," however, and as he was being led into the patrol wagon, he gave a parting kick
to Bartlett in the stomach, and then he rode away conquered, but not vanquished.

BASEBALL

Waltham Wins

Inability to hit the ball at opportune times, cost the Newton High School another victory last Saturday at Newtonville, being downed by their old rivals, Waltham H. S. to the tune of 5 to 2. Although the boys from the "Watch City" were outbatted, their hits came when men were on bases. The visitors were accompanied by several hundred followers, all showing the customary enthusiasm that is given the players in their home city, while the few scattered fans of the local team sounded somewhat to a whisper.

Whitney once more was forced to take the short end by the ragged support that was given him, the 3 errors behind him helping the visitors to pile up a lead which the local boys were unable to overcome.

Easy Win From Cambridge

Cambridge High and Latin nine,
members of the Preparatory League,
were easily defeated by the Newton
H. S. team last Tuesday on Claffin Field, in a preliminary game before the league begins by the score of 14 to 1. The game was too one-sided to be interesting, the local boys clout-
ing out 16 safe hits, while the visitors were lucky to connect for 4.

During the eight innings that Spalding pitched, the home plate was never threatened, their lone tally being scored after Higgins relieved him in the ninth. Besides pitching an effective game, Spalding was also strong with the stick, scoring three hits in as many times at bat. Tapley's work at short was glit edged,
accepting five difficult chances without a slip-up. Capt. Nash and Beal also played a strong game.

Beal, the opposing pitcher, only lasted two innings and McCarthy, who succeeded him, fared little better, the home team getting to him for 10 safe hits.

Freshmen Beat Grammar

Newton High School Freshmen defeated the All Grammar School nine
yesterday afternoon on Claffin Field, 9 to 5. The latter nine was the pick of the best players from the ten grammar schools of the city, and although they played good ball, the High School boys were stronger with the bat. The battery for the winners was Armstrong and Beecher, while Riley and McHugh performed for the grammar school boys. Both teams batted the ball hard, the former team registering 10 hits, while the losers connected for 8 safe bingles.

Fine Game With Somerville

An unsuccessful squeeze play cost Newton High School team a victory
yesterday afternoon on Claffin Field
in its annual game with Somerville.
The Newton boys had been blanked
until the ninth, when King opened with a beautiful double to centre and scored on Warren Tapley's single to left. On the throw in, Tapley advanced to second, and Spalding batting in place of Wellman, binged a pretty single to left field, Tapley coming home from second. DeRusha batting for Hyslop dropped a Texas
leaguer back of second, advancing Spalding to third, DeRusha going to second on the attempt to nail Spalding to third. Kye popped to Mitchell, making one down and the order for the squeeze play was given.
When the pitcher started winding Spalding started for home, and the best Hyatt could do was a little pop
fly to Mitchell, who tagged third,
completing a double play unassisted,
before Spalding could get back to the base.

The game was witnessed by the largest gathering of rooters that have assembled on the field this year, due to the fact that previous to the big game, the All Grammar School Nine, composed of the players from the ten grammar schools of the city, were defeated by the Newton H. S. Freshmen in a well-played contest, 9 to 5, and the followers of these teams were admitted free.

Wilmot Whitney can be justly termed the "hard luck pitcher" of the team. He pitched brilliant ball throughout the contest, keeping the hard hitting visitors to 6 scattered hits and forcing 8 to swing wildly at his curves. The three runs scored by the visitors were in the form of gifts, the two in the third being scored when Norton led off with his second single and Mitchell hit.

A new "white hope" was discovered to Hyslop forcing Norton at second,
threw the sphere into center field,
Hyatt misjudged Whitaker's hit to left, which dropped safely, going for a double, pushing Norton and Mitchell across the plate.

Somerville scored its last run in the eighth, when Whitaker binged out a double to center. Leland put up a fly for Kye in deep right and when Whitaker attempted to go to third, threw the ball several feet over Beal's head, sending Whitaker in with the winning run.

Outside of the two errors, the Newton team played a brilliant game.
Capt. Henry Nash, Wellman and King accepting several chances without an error. The Somerville team also contributed some brilliant fielding, Robertson making a wonderful stop of Whitney's hard hit grounder with one hand and relaying the ball to first in time to catch the speedy pitcher.

The local team came very near scoring in the sixth, when Nash led off with a single, stole second, Beal
was given a free pass, and Whitney
hit a hard grounder to Robertson,
who threw to Norton, forcing Beal
to second, and Norton threw the ball
to first in time to get Whitney.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

MISS GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

The representatives of the clubs of the Newton Federation have taken hold of the plans for the pageant with great enthusiasm. The pageant which is to be given on June 13 and 15, must not be confused with one which is being planned by Newton Centre people and has recently been widely advertised. This latter one is not to come off until 1913, if the Club Editor is not mistaken. In the meantime let us make the Newton Federation affair a great financial success. Miss Shipman, who has the arrangements in hand, was present at the Executive Board meeting of the Federation on Monday morning and explained to the delegates many of the plans and met the committees to give them assistance in regard to costumes, etc. The theme of the pageant is to be the Boyhood of the American Patriots and the scenes will present incidents in the lives of the men of different periods. The prologue will be danced and the affair will close with a Liberty Dance bringing five different nations.

Those who are going to Templeton for the annual meeting of the Massachusetts State Federation will be glad to know that arrangements have been made whereby baggage will be forwarded from Gardner directly to Templeton Inn. It should be checked to Gardner and marked "Templeton Inn." If sent by express, it should be sent to Gardner via National Express and should be marked "Templeton Inn." If possible, it should be sent Saturday afternoon, but early Monday morning will do. On its arrival at the Gardner station it will be taken directly to the Inn by the street railway baggage and express cars. A request has come from Miss Grace E. Blodgett, chairman of the hospitality committee, that those who intend coming by automobile and will need accommodations for chauffeurs will notify her at once, as quarters must be secured for them outside of the Inn.

At the Executive Board meeting of the Newton Federation last Monday the following dates were fixed for the meetings of the Federation for next year: Thursday, Dec. 12, at 2.30, Wednesday, Feb. 26, at 2.30, and May 6, at 10.30. The clubs' officers were urged to include these dates in their new year books so that the members may plan for these meetings in advance. Much time was spent in arriving at these dates to avoid regular club and church appointments and it is hoped that the officers of these organizations will endeavor to co-operate with the Federation in this matter.

Players' Hall was well filled last Saturday evening for the performance of "The Philanthropist," the original play presented by the Auburndale Review Club under the auspices of the Newton Federation for the benefit of the Bureau of Newton Activities. Much interest had been manifested in the affair owing to the fact that the play had been written by three members of the Review Club, Mrs. Arthur C. Farley, Mrs. Theodore W. Gore and Mrs. Guy M. Winslow. It is a clever piece of work and was well put on. It presents the girl just home from college with her aspirations and enthusiasms, filled with a desire to serve, yet hardly knowing how to go to work. She is dumb to the attentions of the young lover until at length she realizes that her methods of serving have failed and then she succumbs. The parts were well sustained and one of the charms of the performance was the complete naturalness and ease of the actors. Little Polly, the wife, who acted "to belong" won all hearts and Ellen, the maid, amused the audience every time she appeared. The cast was as follows: Theodora Brown, Miss Miriam Fuller; Pamela Brown, her aunt, Mrs. Charles A. Brown; William Winterbourne, Mr. Robert J. Slak; John Wood, his nephew, Mr. C. Lathrop Tower; Doris Makepeace, Miss Marion E. Knowlton; Polly, Miss Emily Farley; Ellen, Mrs. Joseph H. Draper; a troublesome client, Mr. John Gore. Music was furnished during the evening by Mrs. Nelson Freeman assisted by Miss Miriam Herron, violinist.

It is not possible to announce the proceeds for the money is not all in yet, but it is safe to say that a substantial sum was netted.

GOULD-SPENCER

One of the most fashionable weddings of the spring season was that of Miss Anna Katherine Spencer, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Caleb S. Spencer of Hunnewell avenue and Mr. Richard Hartshorn Gould of Newton Upper Falls, which took place Wednesday night at Grace church, Newton.

The church, which was decorated with palms and Easter lilies was completely filled with the many friends of the young couple, and the ceremony, which took place at eight o'clock, was performed by Rev. Laurens MacLure, rector of the church.

The bride, who wore a gown of ivory tulle, trimmed with shadow lace and pearl embroidery, carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley, and her veil was fastened with a pearl cap. Miss Mary Whitmore of Altoona, Pa., was the maid of honor and Misses Rachel Gilmore of Waban, Bertha Whitney of Newtonville, Elizabeth Bowker of Brookline and Eleanor Lynch of Boston were the bridesmaids. They were in pink chamoise with shadow lace jackets and carried lilies and roses. The little sister of the groom, Margaret Gould, was the flower girl.

Mr. Allen A. Gould of Cleveland, Ohio, brother of the groom, was the best man and the ushers were Messrs. Gordon Wilkes of Buffalo, N. Y., Carl Rowley of Jackson, Mich., Theodore Parker of Wellesley and Edwin C. Vose of Newtonville.

A largely attended reception was held immediately after the ceremony at the Hunnewell club. Mr. and Mrs. Gould were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Spencer, parents of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. John Allen Gould, parents of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Spencer, who were recently married at Lima, O.

Mr. and Mrs. Gould left that evening for New York, where they sailed yesterday on the steamer Pennsylvania for Essen, Germany, where they will reside for the next year.

The bride, who is a graduate of Wellesley, is well known in Newton society, and the groom, a graduate of M. I. T. of last year, has a responsible position in the municipal government of Essen, Germany.

Lower Falls

—Mrs. Nathaniel Brewer of Washington street left Thursday for Harwichport, where she will spend the summer.

—The Young Men's Club of this place held their annual banquet at the last meeting held on Friday evening, May 17, at the Parish House of St. Mary's Church.

—The game of Saturday last between the Lower Falls A. A. and the Newton Y. M. C. A. resulted in a sweeping victory for our home team, the score being 21 to 8.

—The small park in front of Hamilton school is beginning to show results of good care and is rapidly becoming a thing of beauty as the newly-planted shrubs grow and come into blossom.

—An extremely well-attended mission is being held in St. John's Church by Passionist Fathers. This week the services are all for the women of the Parish and the church is taxed to its utmost seating capacity at all the evening services.

—It is gratifying to our citizens to see the improvements and additions which are being made on the playground in this village in the way of seats, swings, etc. It makes us feel that we are having for our children what other sections of the city have and we appreciate that fact. The playground is becoming the centre of much activity that is beneficial to old as well as young.

MEMORIAL DAY

Full Details of Observance by Charles Ward Post, 62, G. A. R.

The plans of Charles Ward Post 62, Grand Army of the Republic, for its annual observance of Memorial Day, which comes next Thursday, include the choice of Captain John Ryan of the Newton Police department as chief marshal of the parade which will start about one o'clock in the afternoon from Newton Highlands square. The parade will consist of the veterans of the civil war on foot and in automobiles. They will be escorted by the Clafin Guards, or Co. C, 5th Regiment M. V. M., J. Wiley Edmonds Camp, Sons of Veterans, Thomas Burnett Camp, Spanish War Veterans, Mrs. A. E. Cunningham Tent, Daughters of Veterans, the Butler Boys' Brigade and Mayor Hatfield and the city government. The line will be reviewed by the mayor at the Congregational Church, Newton Highlands, and by the Chief Marshal at the Clafin School, Newtonville. It will march thru Lake avenue, Lakewood road, Walnut street, to the Newton Cemetery where the usual exercises will be held, and will then proceed to the post hall at Newtonville for the banquet.

Mr. Charles W. Sweetland will be adjutant general, Col. Walter E. Lombard, chief of staff, and these military aides, Brig. General William B. Emery, Col. A. V. Warren, Lt. Col.

The Post will further observe the day by decorating the graves in the Newton Cemetery, and other burial places in the city, special details having charge of each. The usual exercises will take place at St. Mary's Church yard, Newton Lower Falls in the morning, where Rev. A. C. Jones will make a short address and where the impressive tribute to those who died at sea will take place on the banks of the Charles River.

The Newton Highlands Improvement Society has arranged a luncheon for the post at Lincoln hall, previous to the parade.

There is always need of contributions for flowers and our citizens are earnestly requested to leave contributions as follows:

Newton, residence John Flood, 405 Washington street.
Newtonville, Post Hall, Masonic Building.

MAY PARTY

One of the prettiest and most successful affairs of the season was the children's May Party given by Mrs. W. Franklin Spooner on Saturday afternoon at her residence on Aspen avenue. The festivities opened with singing and from 4 until 6.30 the lawn was crowded with a gay and brilliantly arrayed company of young people who passed an afternoon of rare enjoyment. A delightful program of music and novelty dancing around the May Pole, was arranged, consisting of a waltz by Esther Searles Smith and Robert Hammond Stowell; a rag-drill and sailors hornpipe, by Earle Conn; a Hungarian dance and Highland Fling by Bessie Ellice and Addie Robbins; Spanish dance by Ruth Allen; Irish dance, by Ethel Hunt; Italian Tarantella and Huguenot polka by Muriel Matteson and Dutch dance by Covens Otterson. The dances were all extremely pretty and very gracefully performed. Miss Esther Smith made a charming May Queen and Muriel Matteson and Lucile Robbins were equally charming as maids of honor. At the close of the dancing a dainty collation was served under the direction of Mrs. Morey. There was an attendance of about 175.

OFFICERS REELECTED

The annual meeting of the Newtonville Trust Co. was held on May 13, at the company's office, all the officers were reelected for the coming year. A prosperous year's business was reported. Deposits in the company show an average increase of 100 per cent in the last two or three years.

MR. HAYNIE BURIED

Funeral services for Henry Haynie, author, Civil War veteran and former newspaper correspondent, were held Friday afternoon in Trinity Church, Newton Centre. There was a large attendance of friends, including the members of Charles Ward Post No. 62, G. A. R., of Newtonville, of which Mr. Haynie was a past commander. The Episcopal service was conducted by the rector, Rev. Edward T. Sullivan. It was the wish of Mr. Haynie that the church choir sing at his funeral and that the selections include two of his favorite hymns. The vested choir of the church sang "Lead, Kindly Light," "Abide With Me," "For All the Saints Who From Their Labors Rest" and "Jesus, Lover of My Soul." Mrs. D. Bradlee Rich was the organist.

The body was taken to Mt. Auburn, where it was cremated, and the ashes were buried in Grove Hill Cemetery, Waltham. The pallbearers included George M. Fliske, Charles W. Sweetland, John Flood and A. J. Beal, representing Charles Ward Post; Isaac

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE—The plot and the dialogue of "A Night Off," which Mr. Craig will present at the Castle Square next week are brimful of mirth.

The plot of "A Night Off" centres around a professor who thinks he has the ability to write a play, and who having written one, finally secures its production at the hands of a strolling manager. His wife is dead-set against his theatrical aspirations, and the play is a continuous conflict between the two. The professor especially has a hard time of it to secure its production unknown to his wife. When it is produced, everything goes wrong, and the climax of all comes when all the personages in the play assemble in the professor's home after the performance is over.

Some day the man who hears himself described as a "live wire" will not imagine that he has to talk every body to death to prove it!

NEW BUILDING ORDINANCES

Interesting Report of the Commission on Revision of Building Ordinances

The following report has been made by the Commission on Revision of the Building Ordinances, consisting of Mr. Christopher M. Goddard of Newton Centre, chairman; Mr. James D. Colt of Chestnut Hill, Mr. Lewis H. Bacon of Waban, Alderman Willard S. Higgins of Newtonville and Mr. William J. Gannon of West Newton.

The destruction of property by fire in the United States in the first two months of this year was nearly $52,000,000, or about $900,000 a day. As compared with a loss of $31,000,000 for the first two months of 1911 this shows an increase of 70 per cent. If this ratio should continue throughout the year, the total loss by fire for

At the outset the committee met evenings at City Hall, but it developed after two or three meetings that more time was needed, and since early in November the committee has devoted an entire day each week to the work, in addition to the thought and attention of the individual members between meetings.

Your committee desires to record its great appreciation for the constant attendance and the cheerful and valuable assistance of City Solicitor Slocum, City Engineer Rogers and Buildings Commissioner Forbush, who have been present at practically all its meetings, also for the advice of Chairman Curtis of the Board of Health, who was present when the

NORUMBEGA PARK

If the attendance at the opening of Norumbega Park last Sunday may be taken as a criterion then this delightful resort on the banks of the Charles River bids fair to be more popular this season than ever before. Situated as it is on the Charles, commanding a view of the surrounding country and with the many new effects that have been obtained in the landscape gardening, Norumbega at this season with its fresh green appearance makes a strikingly beautiful picture. With its rustic benches and leafy bowers this beautiful spot affords ample opportunity for its patrons to rest from the hustle and bustle of the city. With a seating capacity of 3500 and presenting the best in vaudeville and musical comedy as the case may be the magnificent open air theatre is giving daily afternoon and evening performances. A vaudeville bill of exceptional strength has been arranged for the coming week. Other attractions of the park are the Casino, Chalet of Wonders, Rifle Range, Swing Court, and the Children's Playground.

CAPTAIN WEEKS MENTIONED

In discussing possible dark horses for the republican nomination for president the Boston Herald has the following:

"In John W. Weeks, member of Congress from the 12th district, Massachusetts has a man who would render service of a high order in any position to which the country should call him. If the Republican convention finds it necessary to look for a nominee beyond the present list of candidates, it would make no mistake in selecting for its candidate for President this safe, sane and able congressman."

the year would reach $323,000,000, a figure exceeding any previous year, with the exception of that which included the San Francisco conflagration.

The Census Bureau shows that out of 48,500 violent deaths which occur annually, 4927, or more than 10 per cent, are due to burning buildings, while only 3,200 are homicides, and less than 1,000 are from automobile accidents. If our legislatures and municipalities spent half the time and thought in endeavoring to ferret out the causes, punish those found responsible and provide remedial legislation for the 4,900 burned to death, as they do for the 4,200 killed by man and automobiles combined, we should see results that would show a great saving in life and, incidentally, an enormous saving of property. Why is not the reckless builder as guilty as the reckless "joy rider"?

A Boston paper in commenting on the excessive loss by fire this year, said, editorially, that by far the largest part of this loss was caused by the failure of municipalities to enact proper building laws, and by the lax and incompetent enforcement of those which were enacted.

It would therefore seem that the adoption by a city like our own of a sane, temperate and yet progressive building ordinance should command the hearty support of every citizen.

It cannot be said that we have no need to exert ourselves in this particular, for Newton contributes its share to the annual fire loss, and it may possibly be a surprise to some to know that only three cities in this country have more alarms of fire per capita than Newton. That our loss per capita is somewhat less than the average is due largely to the fact that this is a city of homes rather than a commercial city with large values congested in restricted areas, and it also fairly leads to the inference that our fire department is prompt and efficient in responding to these many alarms. However, Newton burns up $1.43 per capita every year, as compared with an average of 33 cents in European countries.

It is not indicative of sound common sense that we should remain passive while this tremendous fire waste goes on, resting in the belief that because Newton has not burned it, of course, will not burn and therefore there is no need to take precautions against such a calamity. The same false feeling of security, we know, prevailed in Baltimore, San Francisco, Chelsea and Bangor, and it is the same false trust in the possibilities of safety through water-tight bulkheads that provides only life-boats enough for one-third of the passengers and crew, and allows the effort for a record trip to end the ship racing at high speed through waters known to be full of dangers. The time eventually comes when those who continually run risks have cause to regret it.

The regulation of the construction of buildings to safeguard them from fire is no new thing, for in Jackson's History of Newton we read as follows:

"In 1631 a thatched house in Boston took fire from the chimney and was burnt down, whereat Deputy Governor Dudley observed: 'In our 'New Town', intended to be built this summer, we have decreed that no man there shall build his chimney with wood or cover his house with thatch.'"

Possibly, some day, we shall place a similar ban on the ever present shingle roof.

When your Honor appointed this committee of five to suggest a building ordinance for Newton, it was probably fortunate that none appreciated the amount of time and study which would be needed to bring the work to a successful conclusion, otherwise, its members might have preferred to pass the honor along to someone else.

plumbing regulations were under consideration.

The chairman of your committee has found it a pleasure to take charge of the meetings on account of the courtesy extended to him by the other members, as well as because of their earnest work, and feels it is due the other members to state that each and every one has been constant in attendance, and evidenced their deep interest in the subjects considered, each urging, of course, his own ideas, but ever ready to yield to the majority. This resulting in a report which has our unanimous and hearty approval.

It has not been a light task, and that busy men should devote more than twenty-five entire days out of six months to such work certainly shows a commendable interest in the affairs of our city. Your chairman feels that he may properly call attention to these facts, for he alone of the committee may be supposed to be even indirectly interested in such work from a commercial or business standpoint.

In framing the accompanying regulations, it has been the constant effort of your committee to place only such restrictions on the individual as seemed necessary for the welfare and safety of the whole, and to arrange these restrictions so that, while they should be in the line of progress toward a better and safer city, the disturbance in existing conditions might be as small as possible. No such ordinance can be drafted, however, so as to improve conditions without upsetting the plans and going contrary to the ideas of some.

It therefore should be studied from the standpoint of the welfare of our city and not of any section of any individual.

It has been suggested that the best answer to criticism of any building ordinance would be to require the critic to produce a substitute that would be satisfactory to all interested.

It may not be amiss to note some of the principal results of the work as follows:

First: The establishment of restricted fire limits in Newton, Newtonville, West Newton, Newton Centre and Newton Highlands, in which no frame buildings shall be allowed.

Second: The restriction outside of those fire limits of frame buildings to three stories or forty feet in height and a non-hazardous occupancy.

Third: Fixing the minimum distance between frame buildings at ten feet.

Fourth: Requiring brick construction where an independent family is domiciled above the second floor.

Fifth: Requiring a public hearing before a permit may be issued for the erection of certain structures such as bill-boards, and also imposing certain restrictions as to their construction and location.

Sixth: Providing for a Board of Appeal, to be appointed by the Mayor, who may pass on any interpretation or application of the ordinance by the Commissioner which may be questioned by any interested party.

That the law is perfect is not expected, but it is believed that if it is adopted by the city authorities and given a fair and impartial trial it will prove a benefit and a step in the right direction.

Your committee recognizes the fact that an ordinance covering so many different subjects, covering from the nature of the work cannot be grouped with requirements for each subject by themselves, needs to make it valuable to those whom it will affect, a very exhaustive and complete index; and further, your committee is of the opinion that such index can only be successfully made by a combination of some one familiar with the work of both the architect and the builder, and also having some knowledge as an expert indexer.

Your committee therefore rec-

Those Unnecessary Questions.

The damage suit was on, and Bill-dad's chauffeur was testifying for the plaintiff.
"Now, you say," said the pompous lawyer for the defendant, "that at this point the two cars traveling at the rate of thirty miles an hour came together head on. Then what did you do?"

The witness gazed wearily at his questioner.
"Why," said he, "I turned to my wife, who was brushing the baby's hair in the tonneau, and I said that I thought the dumplings must be done
by this time."

"Bang!" interrupted the judge's gavel.
"Stenographer," said his honor, "strike that fool answer from the record."
"And doesn't the question go with it,
judge?" asked the witness meekly.
"Sure!" said his honor, forgetting the dignity of his calling for the moment.—Harper's.

Using a King as an Advertisement.

When P. T. Barnum invited the king of the Sandwich Islands to show in the city of New York he was not attended with that, which was itself an advertising card, but he managed by advising the king to step with him in one of the chariots—so as to see better
a certain part of the performance—to bury it up in a moment of confusion and sweep the king around the entire circuit of the track. The papers the next day had a notice of the king of showmen and the king of the Sandwich Islands in a chariot race. He could not have written as good an advertisement as the race news item made. It was a neat exploit, for, small as the king's kingdom was, his sense of his dignity as a monarch was not small, and only by indirection and on behalf of a supposed different motive could he have been induced to become part of such a spectacle.

Shark Sparing.

Shark sparing is a profitable industry in Malaysia, though attended by an element of danger and no end of excitement. The chief value of the fish is its liver, which yields an oil that is refined in Europe and sold as cod liver oil. In October the ocean sharks come into the lagoon, between the barrier reef and the atolls, to pair.
At this time they can be speared in large numbers by people skilled in catching them. There are several species of these sharks, and they ordinarily run from seven to fifteen feet in length. The liver of a shark of this size gives about five gallons of oil.
The sharks are found in pairs, and the barpooners try to kill the male first,
in which case they are able also to spear the female, as it does not desert
its mate.—Argonaut.

Warding Off Old Age.

A famous French general when asked how it was that he had such an erect carriage replied that it was because he bent over and touched the floor with his fingers thirty times
every day. If he had acquired rigidity of the spine so that he could not do that he would have had with it weak abdominal muscles, which result in portal congestion. This portal congestion interferes with stomach digestion and with the action of the liver. The poison destroying power of the liver is lessened, auto intoxication results, and arteriosclerosis and old age come on at a much earlier day. But by keeping the spine flexible and the abdominal muscles strong and taut the portal circulation is kept free, and old age is held off.

Returned Empty.

"Why had that boy so long to wait,
Jane?" asked the mistress of her servant, who had just taken in a siphon of soda water.
"Please, mum, he waited for the bottle," cheerily replied Jane.
"Bottle! What bottle?" queried her mistress.
"If yer please, mum, he asked if 'e
could 'ave a returned empty, so I asked
'im to wait until I drewed it all off into a jug, and then I give 'im 'is bottle back," was the reassuring reply.—London Ideas.

Tooth Powder.

Here is a good tooth powder recommended by a professor in a dental college: Mix together in a fine powder
one and a half ounces of precipitated chalk, half an ounce of powdered orris,
one-eighth of an ounce of powdered cuttlefish, one-eighth of an ounce of borax and one-eighth of an ounce of sugar. All these should be ground to a fine powder, especially the cuttlefish.
Flavor with six drops of wintergreen.
New York Tribune.

Restless Nature.

Nothing in nature is absolutely permanent. Changes are going on slowly, but steadily, every moment, parts of the earth being elevated above the sea,
parts sinking below it, the ocean wearing away the coast in one place and building it out in another, and so on to infinity.

A Use For It.

Young Hardfax—But, dad, there can't be any real harm in sowing a few wild oats. Old Hardfax—Mebbe not. 'Cause
if you're as much of a doukey as I think you are you can eat the crop.
—Chicago News.

Or Seem To.

"I suppose even a rich man has his troubles."
"Yes, but he can always find somebody to take an interest in them."
—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A vigorous plant cannot be raised without sunshine, nor can any nature be truly strong and helpful without cheerfulness.

The Great Siberian Refrigerator.

To appreciate the severity of the climate of northern Siberia it is only necessary to understand the practical purposes it is made to serve. The entire country is used as a refrigerator for the preserving of articles of food. One day a traveler, dining at Tomsk on a plump fowl, asked how long the bird
had been killed. The landlord evidently softened his reply as much as possible, knowing the repugnance of most foreigners to any food not quite fresh.
"Two months only," he said; "not a day more."

No precautions are required for the preservation of beef, for it takes care of itself. Nearly all butchers kill at the beginning of the cold weather a sufficient number of animals to furnish provisions for the entire winter and allow the meat to freeze. There is no fear of any food changing in such a temperature. Fish become so solid and stiff that they are set up on their tails against the walls of the market.—Exchange.

A Curious Species of Birds.

Among the curious birds of the East Indies is a species that is nearly extinct. These birds always travel in pairs that are hardly ever separated.
The beak of the male is short and strong, while that of the female is long, long and curved. The male's work is to break with his strong bill the tough
bark of trees in order that his mate
may introduce her pointed beak into the holes dug into the trunk by insects and so extract food. When the male detects an "insect haunt" he lays it bare, and the female pulls forth the prey with her beak, divides it in two,
gives the male his portion and eats the other, continuing the process until both have had enough. Consequently the death of one or the other means starvation to the survivor, the female being unable to break the bark of trees
and the male to take out the prey
when its presence is exposed.

"Hard" Drinking Water.

Many persons have long believed that it is injurious to the health to drink
"hard" water. Medical authorities now assert that there is no foundation for the belief, and some maintain that hard water is even superior to soft water for drinking purposes. They point out the fact that ordinary food contains a great deal more lime than is to be found in even a larger quantity of water than any one would be likely to drink. Gout is said to occur alike among those who do and those who do not drink hard water. According to the statistics quoted in the London Engineer, the death rate in "hard water towns" is actually less than in "soft water towns." It is also the fact that most of the natural waters that have proved valuable in treating diseases attributed to the drinking of hard water themselves contain no small proportion of lime salts.

Bothering a Duellist.

Brantome, a French author, in "Duelling Stories of the Sixteenth Century," tells of the code then in vogue. It was allowed in the challenge to stipulate as many different weapons as one pleased without specifying the particular ones with which one would actually fight. The antagonist was bound to provide himself with all. One duellist insisted "on the provision of no less than thirty different kinds of armament, for foot and horseback; nay, he even specified the kind of horse-coursers, blood horses from Spain and Turkey, thoroughbreds, cobs, some in harness, with ears and tail clipped,
some saddled in jennet style, some
with heavy plated armor and so on.
The object was not only to take his adversary by surprise, but to put him
to enormous expense and exhaust his resources."

A Frank Critic.

Louis XIV., who, like many humble
rimesters, somewhat overrated his potential powers, showed a copy of verses to Boileau and asked his candid opinion of them.
"Ah, sire," said the poet, "I am more convinced than ever that nothing is impossible to your majesty. You desired to write some poor rimes, and you have succeeded in making them possibly detestable!"

James Gow, Pirate.

The original of Captain Cleveland in Scott's novel "The Pirate" was James Gow, who for many years terrorized
the Orkneys and who was finally captured by a trick and was hanged in June, 1725. Defoe, by the way, wrote a conscientious account of his exploits and execution, the sole known copy of which is now in the British museum.

He Knew Him When—

"Why do you hate him so? Has he ever done anything or said anything to injure you?"
"No, but, confound him, I can remember when he had nowhere near as much as I had—when, as a matter of fact, I didn't always care to recognize him."—Chicago Record-Herald.

In the Cause of Freedom.

"I told the lawyer I wanted an absolute divorce," said Mrs. Filmgitt.
"And what did he say?"
"He told me he was an old friend of my husband and as a favor to him he would take the case."—Washington Star.

Not That Kind.

"A man should strive to be satisfied with his lot."
"That's a hard thing to do when his lot happens to lie under a suburban frog pond."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

No man gets rich whose pocket is a flag station instead of a terminal.—

THE FOURTH WEEK OF THE POPS

Next week, the fourth, of the Pops brings to an end Mr. Strube's term of conductorship and the following week he will be succeeded by Mr.
Andre Maquarrie. For his last week
Mr. Strube has arranged for Monday night the annual "Italian program" and this concert will be attended by a large number of members of the Circolo Italiano. The program will be entirely of Italian
music and of course largely operatic,
with Rossini, Puccini, Wolf-Ferrari, Ponchielli, Mascagni, Verdi and Donizetti as the principal composers represented.

For Thursday night which is Decoration Day, Mr. Strube has arranged a Soloists' program. The soloists will be Mr. Brooke, flute; Mr. Schu-ecker, harp; Mr. Hoffmann, violin.

premises hereinafter described on Monday the tenth day of June, 1912,
at four o'clock in the afternoon, all
and singular the premises conveyed by said Mortgage Deed and therein described as follows:

A certain lot of land with the buildings thereon, situated on the corner of Waverly Avenue and Kenilworth Street, in Newton in said County of Middlesex, and bounded and described according to a plan by E. S. Smilie, Engineer, dated June 2, 1884 and recorder with Middlesex South District Deeds at the end of Lib. 1671 as follows, viz:—Beginning at the Southwest corner of said land on said Waverly
Avenue, and thence running Northeasterly on said Waverly Avenue, one hundred fifty-six and 68-100
(156.68) feet to said Kenilworth
Street; thence southeasterly on said Kenilworth Street one hundred eighty-five and 47-100 (185.47) feet to land
now or late of William H. Emery;
thence Southwesterly on said land of Emery one hundred sixty-five and 41-100 (165.41) feet to land now or late of said Emery and others; and thence Northwesterly on said land of Emery and others, two hundred twenty-three and 60-100 (223.60) feet to the point of beginning—containing according to said plan 34,415 square feet, more or less, and being the same premises conveyed to me by deed of Lucy E. Howland and Otis N. Howland dated October 10, 1910 and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 3556, Page 128.
Said premises will be sold subject to any and all unpaid taxes and assessments, if any there be.
Five hundred dollars in cash will be required to be paid by the purchaser
at the time and place of sale, and the balance within ten days thereafter.

A DULL MEMORIAL DAY

Usual Exercises by Charles Ward Post. One Veteran Taken Ill While Marching

Charles Ward Post, 62, G. A. R., observed Memorial Day in its usual manner, yesterday, notwithstanding the lowering clouds. The day was fine for marching, and the occasional showers did but little harm.

In the morning the principal event was the service at St. Mary's churchyard, Newton Lower Falls, where the graves were decorated, under the direction of Senior Vice Commander Joseph O. Perkins and a short address was made by Rev. A. C. Jones. The impressive ceremony of casting flowers on the water was then carried out on the banks of the Charles river.

During the morning special details visited the various cemeteries in Newton and adjoining towns and honored the memory of their deceased comrades with flowers and flags.

At noon the post was given a luncheon in Lincoln hall, Newton Highlands, by the Newton Highlands Improvement Society and the parade was formed in that village about one o'clock, passing in review before Mayor Hatfield and members of the city government at the Congregational church.

Captain John Ryan was chief marshal, Charles W. Sweetland was adjutant general, and Col. Walter E. Lombard, chief of staff. The military aides were Brig. General William B. Emery, Col. Albert C. Warren, Lt. Col. Robert B. Edes, Major Walter L. Sanborn, Major Frederic P. Barnes, 1st Lieut. Joseph G. Holmes, Lieut. Gardner I. Jones, Lieut. Chas. S. Dole, Sergt. D. A. Lakin, George M. Fliske, Charles B. Fillebrown, Henry J. McCammon and James M. Williams.

The parade moved in the following order: Detail of Police, Sergt. B. F. Burke in Command, Chief Marshal, Chief of Staff, The Adjutant General, Aids and Associate Members, Orderly, Orderly, Clavin Guard, Company C, 5th Infantry, M. V. M., Capt. Geo. F. Guilford, Commanding, Swift's Band of Waltham, J. Wiley Edmonds Camp, No. 31, Sons of Veterans, Daniel B. Burnett, Commander, Charles Ward Post, No. 62, Grand Army of the Republic, Charles Ogden, Commander, Thomas Burnett Camp, No. 19, Spanish War Veterans, James H. Kivell, Commander. In carriages—Members of Charles Ward Post, No. 62, Grand Army of the Republic, Mrs. A. E. Cunningham Tent, No. 2, Daughters of Veterans, Mrs. Grace A. Keefe, President, Butler Boys' Brigade, E. E. Forknall, Commander, Battalion United Boys' Brigade, His Honor, the Mayor, Charles E. Hatfield and the City Government.

The route was through Newton Highlands square, Lake avenue, Lakewood road, Walnut street to the Newton cemetery.

The various organizations gathered around the Soldiers monument and the markers dressed in white with shoulder ribbons of national colors were Mrs. Alice Burns, Miss Frances Fitzgerald, Miss Alice Cunningham and Miss Frances Bancroft. The exercises were in charge of Commander Charles Ogden. The orders of the day were read by Comrade C. C. Patten, followed by reports from the various details. Comrade W. A. Wetherbee then read the Gettysburg address in his usual fine style. Prayer was offered by the Post Chaplain, S. P. Putnam, followed by several rounds of music and the sounding of taps from various parts of the cemetery. After the playing of America by the band the benediction was pronounced by the chaplain. The procession then reformed and passed through Walnut street, to the post headquarters at Newtonville, being reviewed at the Clavin school by Chief Marshal Ryan and staff. A sad feature of the day took place as the parade left the cemetery grounds, when Comrade George Hill was overcome with a shock of paralysis and was taken home in an automobile.

The exercises at Temple hall were preceded by a banquet at which covers were laid for 275. Commander Ogden presided with Mayor Hatfield and Marshal Ryan as guests of honor.

Telegrams were read from Miss Katherine R. A. Flood from Los Angeles, Cal., and Comrade William T. Shepherd of Evanston, Ill.

Mayor Hatfield brought the greetings of the city and noted the fact that there were just a few less of the veterans than last year. He quoted a few lines of "Just away in" for you" as suggestive of the feelings of the veterans for their comrades. But he also found a note of gladness in the observance of the day—a feeling that a well spent life had left a heritage to us and our children—a love of country and of the stars and stripes to be taught to our children. The Mayor suggested that the fine collection of relics of the post ought to be placed in some public building, preferably in a school, and handed down to posterity. He also suggested some active work to increase the associate membership of the Post.

Chief Marshal John Ryan called attention to the fact that of the 2,800,000 men who enlisted in the Civil War, less than 500,000 were now living. That of the 160,000 men from Massachusetts, less than 13,000 were alive and that of the 600 members of Charles Ward Post but 119 now answered to their names.

Representative Thomas W. White said that the present day was filled with amiable patriots who went about the state telling the people how to destroy the demagogue, dissolve the trusts and create an improved political Jerusalem. But he had a feeling that such an ideal state would not be complete unless certain men were kings and princes in the new order of things. He said that he revered the men of the Grand Army, not alone for what they did in 1861, but for the high standard of civic excellence which they have made since the war and which is the admiration of all the nations of the world. Your devotion to your civic standards, he asserted is necessary now to save the nation from being crucified upon a cross of public confusion.

President B. F. Gray of the board of aldermen said that the need today is for men of character and worth as much as in 1861 and we owe a service to strive to bring about those things which will make our land better for liberty and brotherhood.

Mr. Samuel Ward said that it was fifty years ago that his brother had laid down his life at Gettysburg, and we have been highly honored by your naming your post after him. Mr. Ward then told how his children had been impressed by this act of the post and how his grandchildren were being trained in equal loyalty and to observe the real meaning of Memorial day.

Rev. Harry Lutz spoke briefly but eloquently, saying that he had too much gratitude and reverence to express it adequately, but that our mission was to uphold what you have passed on to us. To carry this reverence to the dead to the rising generation. The time still demands for devotion to the public service, for manliness and upright character, and that we must stand firm and protect what you have saved.

Rev. S. C. Seaboyer, chaplain of the Boys' brigade said that he had had about 250 boys in the parade, some coming from Dedham and Dorchester. He believed that notwithstanding the immense cost in men and treasure, the Civil war paid. It saved this Union as it was, as it is and as it shall be. Young America will always turn with grateful memory to the graves of those who stood by the nation in its darkest hours, as these mean liberty and union to every nation. They are not dead. They live in our glorious liberty, in all this

GIRL ATHLETES

Out Door Games at the Newton High School

The annual outdoor meet of the girls of the Newton High schools was held Tuesday afternoon at Clavin Field and was as enthusiastic and successful as any one could wish. The contests were well arranged and consisted of field hockey, volley ball, obstacle relay race, base ball and finals in the school tennis tournament.

Large delegations were present from each of the classes, and the cheer leaders kept things moving with class songs and parodies which were under the direction of Miss Mabel Rand and Miss Ruth Howell and broke up the monotony of the cheering.

The obstacle race provided great fun. Each team was made up of four members, each carrying a dress suit case, and making a 50-yard run. Then a stop was made, the case opened and the girls began a quick change, putting on a sweater, hat and gloves and running another 25 yards back again, then taking off the sweaters and gloves and carrying the case back to another member, who went through a similar stunt. The girls in their rush to be first back, took their sweaters off regardless of the trouble that was in store for the next competitor, several finding one sleeve inside out, and others the gloves in a like condition. In this race, the freshmen defeated the sophomores and the seniors beat the juniors. In the final round between the freshmen and the seniors, the latter were victorious.

In the volley ball contests, the freshmen defeated the sophomores 20 to 16, the juniors beat the seniors, 13 to 11, and in the final round the freshmen beat the seniors, 16 to 6. All three contests were hotly contested, the strong wind making the serving extremely hard.

The sophomore team won in an exciting game of field hockey from the seniors, 2 to 0.

The baseball game, which attracted several hundred spectators from the tennis match, was the real article, the work of the girls in throwing, batting, catching and base running surprising the crowd. The Juniors, after a spirited three-inning battle, beat the Sophomores, 8 to 1. Both pitches used the overhand ball with much effect, three batters on each team striking out. The teams were made up as follows:

Junior—Miss Zinderstein, c; Miss Dewey, p; Miss D. Brewer, 1b; Miss Russell, 2b; Miss Blanchard, 3b; Miss Hamilton, ss; Miss Leahy, rf; Miss Doucette, cf; Miss E. Brewer, lf.

Sophomore—Miss Brooks, c; Miss Fessenden, p; Miss Nash, 1b; Miss MacCullum, 2b; Miss Voe, 3b; Miss L. Elms, ss; Miss C. Jones, lf; Miss Broderick, rf; Miss Dowd, cf.

Miss Baxter was the umpire in the baseball contest, while Miss Wright refereed the hockey contest.

Miss Mary Robbins won two sets out of three at tennis from Miss Belle Allchin, closing one of the best tournaments on the school courts this season.

great human progress in our liberties and nobler aims.

Other speakers were Captain G. F. Guilford of Co. C, 5th Regiment M. V. M.; Mrs. Grace C. Keefe, president Mrs. A. E. Cunningham tent, Daughters of Veterans; Rev. F. B. White; J. H. Kivell, commander Spanish War Veterans Camp; Commander D. B. Burnett, J. Wiley Edmonds Camp, Sons Veterans, and Comrade R. E. Ashenden. Comrade W. A. Wetherbee, on request said that Saturday was to be a Tag Day to raise funds for the Army Nurses Memorial, which the Daughters of Veterans will dedicate soon in the Hall of Flags at the State House. The memorial is the work of Bela Pratt and will cost $13,500.

The singing of America closed the exercises of the day.

THE SILENT CITY

The Third Article About the Newton Cemetery Written Expressly for the Newton Graphic

"Lest We Forget"

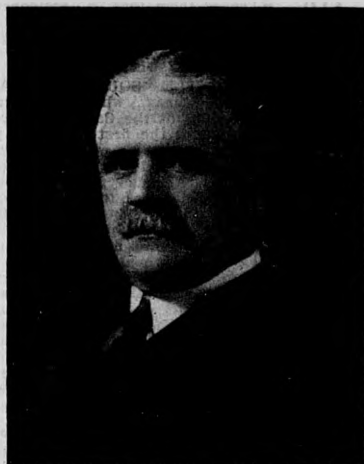

These words of Kipling are surely unnecessary to residents of this city, for the beauty and attractiveness of the Newton Cemetery, are a consolation and a benediction to the tender memories of our loved ones who have gone before. This sentiment must have been impressed upon the hundreds of visitors who were present yesterday at the Memorial Day exercises of the Grand Army of the Republic, as well as on those whom sorrow had brought hither, for never in its history has the Cemetery been so beautiful as now.

gratitude. But our chronicle would be indeed incomplete, without mention of the enthusiastic devotion and work of the executive officers of the corporation, to Mr. Henry Ross, its superintendent for nearly forty years, to Mr. Charles W. Ross, for many years his assistant, and to the present superintendent, Mr. H. Wilson Ross. Their work is shown in the enhancement of the natural beauty of the place, in the green of the grass, in the color of the flowers and in the arrangement of the shrubbery and foliage. Their work has been inspected by the American Association of Cemetery Super-

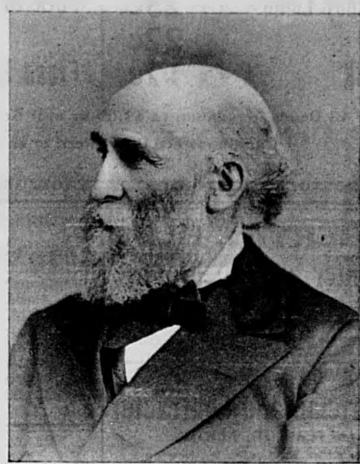

of the cemetery—an improvement which everyone admits is necessary and important.

They have established funds for perpetual care of lots and for perpetual renewals of monuments and stone work, and are constantly seeking for the best methods and finest results.

The present board is composed of Hon. George Hutchinson, an ex-mayor of Newton, as president, Mr. Warren P. Tyler, vice president, Mr. Francis Murdock, Mr. Frank A. Mason, Mr. Charles W. Ross, Mr. George M. Fliske, Mr. Henry B. Day, Mr. William M.

HON. GEORGE HUTCHINSON
President

MR. WARREN P. TYLER
Vice President

The Newton Cemetery is in itself a Memorial, not only to the veterans of the civil war, whose valiant services were the first reason for establishing a special day in their honor, not only to the thousands of hearts which mourn the loss of loved members of their family, but it is a Memorial to the men who, fifty years ago, were far sighted enough to make this beauty possible. Their wisdom was noted as early as 1873 when the annual report of the trustees referred to "that wise discrimination for which leading minds in the town have, in all its history been conspicuous, selected and purchased a tract of land beautiful for situation and in adaptability, remarkably favorable for such use."

The present day and generation will endorse that conclusion, and add eloquent testimony to the splendid work of men like Dr. Henry Bigelow and Mr. Marshall S. Rice, who made the first plans for the grounds, and to our own Mr. Warren P. Tyler, a trustee since 1884, a former president, and now the honored vice president of the corporation. To Mr. Edwin B. Haskell, president for 25 years, serving from 1882 to his death in 1907, to Mr. Otis Pettie, treasurer for 23 years and to Mr. Edwin M. Fowle, clerk for 29 years. To these gentlemen, and to their associates as trustees, the people of Newton owe a deep debt of intendents, and it was their unanimous opinion that the Newton Cemetery was the best kept and most artistically arranged of any they had visited. This professional opinion is shared by all of our citizens. We are proud of our beautiful city, proud of our city government, proud of our sense of civic duty, proud of our schools, proud in fact of all those essentials which refer to the living. Let us be equally proud of our care for the dead.

The Newton Cemetery is a corporation in which all the lot owners are stockholders, and have an equal share in its management. The actual work is in the hands of the president and board of trustees, elected at the annual meeting. It is not a money making corporation, and in that respect differs from most of the cemetery corporations in this vicinity. All profits received by the corporation are utilized in improvements, and this is really the secret of its tremendous success. With the elimination of all desire for dividends, the trustees have been enabled to plan for the future on the broadest lines. They have purchased large areas of land in their vicinity to protect the cemetery from proximity to inferior dwellings. They have urged important civic improvements, and are now at work securing the widening of Walnut street in front

Flanders and Hon. Seward W. Jones, trustees. Mr. George W. Auryansen is clerk and auditor and Mr. H. Wilson Ross is treasurer and superintendent.

TAG DAY

The Daughters of Veterans will revive the custom of Tag Day for the purpose of raising funds for a Memorial to Army Nurses, which is to be placed in Doric Hall at the State House in Boston. Tomorrow is the day selected for the event and all citizens are requested to respond to the appeal for help. Newton citizens have a special interest in army nurses for one of the best known, Aunt Pomroy, for whom the Pomroy Home was named, lived for many years in this city.

Lower Falls

—Mrs. Emma M. Dimond is on an extended visit with relatives in Buffalo and in the West.

—The M. E. church Junior League held a food sale on the church grounds last Saturday afternoon.

—A Newton Upper Falls team defeated the Lower Falls A. A. at Upper Falls last Saturday by a score of 19 to 1. The loss said the better.

—During the violent thunder storm on last Friday a tree on Concord street was struck and a bolt also entered and buried itself in the cellar of the home of Mr. John Heming on River Ridge.

—Mrs. Alice Porter, daughter of the late Allen and Mary Fuller Jordan of this place, died suddenly on a train at the South Station last Tuesday afternoon. Funeral services will be held at St. Mary's church on Saturday afternoon, June 1. Mrs. Porter was a teacher of special reading and had offices in the Pierce building, Copley square.

Newton.

—Hon. Walter Francis Frear, Governor of Hawaii Territory, arrived from Honolulu Sunday morning at Vernon Court Hotel, where his family have been residing for many months. They had started for Europe last summer, for the health of their youngest child, but the physicians assured them that a residence here would be quite as healthful as any in Europe. Mrs. Frear is a graduate of Wellesley.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.—"The Climax," which John Craig will produce at the Castle Square next week for the first time at popular prices, is a play with an original plot and new and original characters. It mingles drama, music and comedy, and it tells a story that is continuously entertaining. Its heroine is a young woman with ambitions and aspirations, and its plot involves a group of simple and artless people who live in New York's foreign quarter. The music and the songs are no small part of the entertaining qualities of "The Climax." In fact, "The Song of the Soul" would be sufficient to make the success of any play. If "The Climax" does not make a tremendous hit at the Castle Square, then all signs fail.

Famous Venetian Palace.

Vendramin is not only one of the most beautiful residences on the canal in Venice, but it is closely associated with the history of the city of the dogs. It was built in 1441. German princes occupied it at first. Then it passed into the possession of the Duke of Mantua, who purchased it for 50,000 ducats of gold. It was the scene of great social events under the Archduke Charles Ferdinand of Austria and his wife, Anne de Medici, in 1632, and through them the palace has come into the possession of the present owners through marriage. It was here that Richard Wagner died in 1883. The desk at which he wrote "Tristan and Isolde" is carefully preserved. Some years ago a plaque was affixed to the palace showing its connection with the great composer.—London Globe.

Shearing Sheep in Syria.

The manner of shearing sheep in Syria and all Asiatic Turkey does not differ materially from the ancient methods of the people as applied to practically every other vocation. While the sheep industry is one of the oldest in the country, having existed for centuries in the same pastures where the ancestors of the present herders also tended flocks, there does not appear to have been any improvement in the manner of shearing or breeding the sheep. Shearing is still accomplished in the crudest way, the workers always leaving a considerable amount of wool on the animal, while the fleece removed is cut most unevenly. The shearer frequently cut great holes in the skins of the sheep, which by the use of modern shearing machines could easily be avoided.

Writer's Cramp.

Those who have to do a great deal of writing are liable to get an attack of writer's cramp. The first indication of writer's cramp is a feeling of tiredness in the hand and arm. Then words are formed very slowly, and suddenly the pen will fly upward or outward. This is due to a sudden spasm of the muscles affected. Anybody who is attacked with writer's cramp should give writing up for a time, since paralysis of the muscles may follow. He should treat the limb with an electrical battery and generally lie up and keep quiet.—Pennyton's Weekly.

Curious English Well.

In the grounds of Livesey Hall, near Blackburn, there is a spring called "Mother Livesey's well." The curious thing about this well is that the water only flows during nine months of the year and is quite dry during the other three months—June, July and August—however wet the weather may be. The water always commences to flow on the same date each year and never freezes even during the hardest frost.—Leeds (England) News.

His Preference.

"It is a positive delight to meet a man you feel you can trust," remarked the individual with the high forehead.

"Oh, I don't know. I prefer a man who pays cash," replied the man who kept the grocery store.

Cause For Worry.

"You must take exercise," said the physician, "and by all means worry less. Play golf."

"Doctor," replied the patient, "you mean well, but a man who plays my kind of golf game can't help worrying."—Washington Star.

NEWTON MAN HONORED

At the May meeting of the National Fire Protection Association held in Chicago, Mr. C. M. Goddard of Newton Centre, secretary of the New England Insurance Exchange, was presented with a large serving tray and combination center urn, all of heavy Sheffield plate of handsome design and suitably engraved. The gift was a friendly tribute made in appreciation of the splendid services rendered by Mr. Goddard as secretary of the association from its inception in 1892 until it was merged with the National Fire Prevention Association, last year.

The following resolutions accompanied the gift:

Resolved, That at the meeting of the National Fire Protection Association in May, 1912, the long and efficient service of Mr. Goddard as secretary of the Underwriters' National Electric Association and the important part he has taken in all of its affairs be recognized and hearty thanks again extended to him.

Resolved, That he be assured of the high esteem and good will in which he is held by all who have attended the annual meetings of the Underwriters' National Electric Association or have in other ways come in contact with the secretary's office, including representatives from not only the underwriting boards and associations and insurance and municipal inspection bureaus, but also from manufacturers of electrical apparatus, electrical contractors, lighting companies, engineering societies, in fact, all classes affected by the requirements of the National Electric Code.

Resolved, That the best wishes of his former associates in the electrical work be extended to Mr. Goddard for his continued success and future happiness.

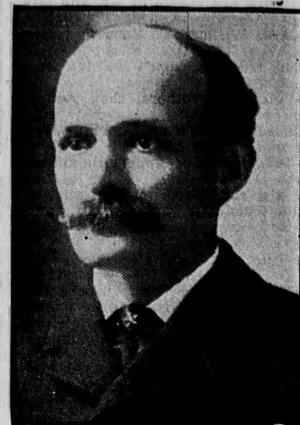

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be filed with the records of the Underwriters' National Electric Association, and a copy be engrossed and presented to Mr. Goddard.

CITY HALL.

The members of the commission on revision of the Building Ordinances will be given a banquet next Thursday evening at the Exchange Club, Boston, by the mayor and board of aldermen.

Oration

Members of the Catholic Order of Foresters celebrated the election of Mr. George F. James of Newtonville as the Grand Chief Ranger, with a fine oration, last week Thursday night, following Mr. James' return from the annual meeting in North Adams. The party was met at the Waltham station by 500 Foresters and red fire and a parade formed with the Messina band and delegations from the Foresters courts of Waltham, Newton and Natick. Mayor Duane extended congratulations to Mr. James at the Waltham city hall and then joined the procession, which marched to Newtonville, where it was joined by J. Wiley Edmonds Camp, Sons of Veterans, of which Mr. James is also a member. The march ended at Mr. James' home on Walnut terrace where a hollow square was formed and brief remarks made by Mr. James. Mayor Hatfield of Newton, Mayor Duane of Waltham, Past Grand Chief Ranger Mitchell of Arlington and Judge Slattery of Westboro. Mr. James expressed his gratitude for the oration given him and for the excellent standing of the order.

Mr. James has been associated with the order for some years and has been promoted rapidly for his loyal and efficient service.

LASELL SEMINARY

Principal and Mrs. Guy M. Winslow have sent out cards for a reception to the Senior Class on Saturday evening, June 8, from 8 to 10, at the Seminary.

The Senior Class will give a dinner on Friday evening, June 7th, at the Woodland Park hotel.

The girls rowing crews are training for the annual crew race which will take place sometime in June on the Charles river.

NORUMBEGA PARK.—Presenting just the sort of amusement that is suited to this season of the year and playing to capacity attendances at every performance. Norumbega's second vaudeville program of the season in the open air theatre has been delighting its patrons all this week. No better opportunity could be afforded for enjoying such a performance than in this magnificent covered auditorium, completely shielded from the sun or rain. On Sunday evening, June 2nd in the open-air theatre there will be given the second of the ever popular Sunday night concerts with a most interesting program. Still another excellent vaudeville bill has been arranged for the coming week in the open air theatre as the management intend that only the best obtainable acts will be presented.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE.—As the summer time is the popular period for relaxation, Mr. B. F. Keith has attempted to follow out this idea in the selection of his warm weather attractions. The two principal features are Trilix Friganza, and Dorothy Rogers & Co., both of whom are new to Boston vaudeville patrons. For her vaudeville tour, Miss Friganza has secured an exceptionally strong repertoire of new and original songs. Another strong laughing feature will be the first appearance of Dorothy Rogers and her company in a screamingly funny farce comedy entitled "Babes a la Carte." Still another feature will be Chick Sale, the impersonator, in his Country School Entertainment. Others will be the 3 Lyres, liveliest of musical acts; Klutings' Animals, with his trained cats, dogs, rabbits, and pigeons; Cummings and Gladys, novelty entertainers; the Flying Russels, two daring aerial wonders; and others yet to be announced.

"Vudor Porch Screens"

A FASTIDIOUS CAT

In the June issue of Suburban Life Magazine, Agnes Howard Butler tells of the "frivolous 'Bartender,'" a white Persian cat. "In her previous incarnation, she must have been a pretty woman—a Parisienne—white, dainty and with eyes the unfathomable blue of the grottoes of Capri. She still retains a coquette's love of clothes—hats especially. A new one fascinates her; she gazes at it critically with half-closed lids, as I try it on, and if she approves, she positively observes 'pur-r-mew.' In the tone, she uses to a favored kitten. Unusual or bizarre effects offend her fastidious taste. She also loves the shining folds of satin, and plink is of all shades the most preferred. She dislikes books and will place herself between you and the printed page, nibbling gently at your fingers until the book is laid aside."

POLICE NOTES

Among the five autoists in the Police Court last Friday morning on the charge of speeding along the Commonwealth avenue boulevard was W. Stirling Burgess, the aviator of Marblehead, who was fined $10. The complainant in all cases was motorcycle patrolman J. J. Sartwell. Theodore Rollins of Wellesley and Jacob L. Lawburg of Brookline were each fined $15 by Judge Bacon. Chester N. Morrison of Roxbury was found not guilty and the case against Raymond Lindsey of Boston was continued until June 1, for the purpose of obtaining more witnesses.

CAMP UTOPIA

Boyhood days must pass away.

Years of work must follow play.

But in the years that are to be

Our hearts, Utopia, will turn to thee.

Chorus:

Utopia, Utopia, thy sons in legion sing.

Utopia, Utopia, long shall thy praises ring.

At thy fair name our hearts shall beat.

Utopia, that knowest not defeat.

See, now beneath thy banner old.

Thy sons are forming true and bold.

And come what may on land or sea.

Our hearts, Utopia, will turn to thee.

And when we face life's bitter fight.

And when around us is the night.

Then thy fair banner ever bright.

And thou, Utopia, shall be our light.

Written at random by Robert Bassett Fitzgerald, 16-year-old son of our Advisory Director, M. E. Fitzgerald.

Principal of Oliver Wendell Holmes School, Dorchester, Mass.

Less Than Wholesale Prices

Here is a millinery opportunity, such as rarely occurs in Waltham and one that would be impossible but for the backwardness of the spring season, which has caused consternation among manufacturing milliners. One of the best, if not the largest manufacturers in Boston offered us his entire stock last week, consisting of sample and made up hats, derbies, sailors and outing hats at such a tempting figure that we could not resist buying.

The result is we're offering you millinery this week at the most sensational prices. Every hat is new, clean and ready to wear. Many of them are model hats used as show room samples, consequently but one of each shape. It will be worth a little extra effort on your part to get here early in the week if possible.

WILLIAM H. TAFT

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The Great and General Court is near prorogation, which will probably come either Tuesday or Wednesday of next week. Governor Foss has enlivened the closing days of the session with undignified messages, saying what he will do to certain bills
if his pet scheme for a public utilities commission is not passed. With the constitution marking a clear line between the executive and legislative bodies, the Governor's messages have not been received with much respect.
But what is the constitution to a governor like Mr. Foss. So little regard has the legislature for the Governor's vetoes that most of them have been passed over his objections by large majorities. Only one important veto was sustained, that of the increase in salaries of the county commissioners.
Mr. Bothfield and Mr. Ellis voted to sustain the Governor on this measure,
and Mr. White voted the other way.

The "pork barrel" bill of one million dollars for various metropolitan improvements has passed both branches and is now before the Governor. Our representatives voted against this bill, although it carries $100,000 for purchase of Hammond's pond. They object to the method of passing these bills in a "I'll tickle
you if you'll tickle me" spirit.

All three voted against the amendment to the constitution to authorize a tax on incomes, only nine members of the House being in favor of the same.

The bill to redistrict the state for members of Congress has been signed by the Governor and Newton is now in the 14th district, losing a large portion of Norfolk county and receiving Waltham and considerable of the southern part of Middlesex. The republican majority is somewhat reduced but is still ample to ensure the return of Congressman Weeks next fall.

The Senate gave a new lease of life
to the Ellis Milk bill last week by substituting it for the bill passed by the House. It was shortlived, however, as the House refused to concur by a vote of 127 to 88 and there will be no milk legislation this year,
in fact any other year, until certain active lobbyists are assured of a salary job.

The bill to establish a metropolitan bath house at Waltham—where but few residents outside of Waltham would ever use it—met a merited
death in the Senate, Senator Mulligan voting against the bill.

There is but little prospect of any legislation relative to preferential voting for United States senators.
The House passed a bill which provides for a party vote at the state primary and an advisory vote at the state election. The Senate substituted a bill for a primary vote only.
This the House has refused to accept
and it is so late in the session that no legislation is probable. Friends of Congressman Weeks can view this situation with equanimity as it will result in the Legislature of 1913 electing the next senator without the danger of a confused preferential vote throughout the state. Captain Weeks' availability as the next Senator is so generally recognized that his candidacy will have some substantial support by next winter.

The Senate has also killed the resolve to erect a statue to General Butler, which passed the House by a narrow margin last week.

The state tax for the year is now being estimated at $6,500,000, an increase of two million over last year.
Newton's share is $126,500, or about 30 cents increase on our present tax rate.

GRANDMA'S ALBUM

Grandma's Album was the title of an interesting entertainment given Tuesday evening at the Lincoln Park Baptist church, under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society. There was a finely rendered program, consisting of readings, recitations and vocal and instrumental music, which was enthusiastically applauded by the large audience. Among the solos worthy of special mention were: "The Skilpers of St. Ives," by Mr. Travis; "I Cannot Sing the Old Songs," by Mrs.
Sprague; "Rock Me to Sleep Mother,"
by Mrs. Burdison; and "Silver Threads

ELEVATED SERVICE EXTENDED

New Line to East Cambridge Opens Tomorrow

The opening of the East Cambridge elevated extension June 1st will be a boon to all patrons of the Tremont Street Subway in reaching the North Station. A new station has been built over Causeway street, called the North Station West, directly in front of, and connected with the Boston & Maine station to which numerous subway cars will be run. By the use of these cars the disagreeable and somewhat hazardous necessity of passing through the congested
traffic on Causeway street is avoided.
A covered passageway connects the platform of the new elevated station with the passenger platform of the Boston & Maine Station, thus providing a short, convenient and safe connection between the two stations.

In appearance and effective addition to the public's convenience and comfort the East Cambridge elevated extension compares with the Cambridge subway, opened a few weeks ago, and the Washington street tunnel, brought into service in December, 1908. It is the first elevated structure ever built for use of surface cars, the statutory prohibition of elevated trains in the Tremont street subway making this method of operation imperative.

The elevated extension consists of two main parts: an elevated structure running from the incline just north of Haymarket square past the North Union railroad station to the Boston end of the Charles river dam
and an arched concrete viaduct
crossing the river on the dam's harbor side and ending at Lechmere square, East Cambridge. The elevated construction is about one and a half miles long; the bridge has a length of about 1700 feet. The cost, exclusive of cars, power and incen-
dentals, has been $3,500,000.

The engineering work has been performed under the direction of George A. Kimball, chief engineer of elevated and subway construction for
the Boston Elevated Railway Company, who was likewise in charge of the Cambridge subway. The architectural features were designed by Robert S. Peabody, the company's consulting architect.

The viaduct, besides serving as an elevated roadway for the cars, is a conspicuous ornament of the Charles river basin. It is an imposing work, recalling the simplicity and magnificence of ancient Roman viaducts and aqueducts. The 11 large arches and massive piers are devoid of decoration,
the whole construction depending for its dignity upon fine proportions and pleasing surfaces. The lower part of the piers where they are exposed to sea water have been faced with granite.

To provide for such shipping as uses the Charles river basin the channel leading to the main lock is spanned with a Strauss trunnion
bascule drawbridge, electrically operated. By means of automatic interlocking devices, steel bumpers are raised from between the rails of each track, eliminating danger of the cars approaching an open draw. The bridge cannot be raised unless the signals are set at danger and the bumpers raised to the protective position.

The new North Station West is constructed of steel, concrete and copper in the massive and impressive style that marks so much of the Elevated Co.'s recent work.

Connection with the Boston & Maine Railroad terminal has been accomplished by means of an entrance from the trainshed platform
over an easy flight of stairs over the cabstand roof to a semi-circular ticket lobby, 65 feet in diameter,
whence, according to the direction
in which he is going, the passenger either directly ascends another short flight to the westbound platform, or traversing a passage on the mezzanine level under the elevated structure ascends a similar staircase to the eastbound platform. These platforms are respectively 210
and 240 feet long, and 15 feet wide,
and are attractively finished with ter-
razzo work and copper sheathing.

Flexibility and convenience of transfer for the company's patrons has been greatly increased by the connections established through North Station West. Passengers destined to the North Station trainshed
by way of Tremont street subway cars are no longer obliged to walk across Causeway street with its frequent congestion of traffic or through the station waiting room, since the cars of several lines now reach the west platform from which it is a short walk down to the trains. This arrangement means additional comfort, especially in stormy weather.

Passengers on cars coming from Cambridge or Somerville, if they wish to go to the South Station, stop off at North Station West and walk under the platform which brings them to the shuttle train.

The lines using the East Cambridge elevated extension's entire length are those originating respectively at Harvard square via Cambridge street; Clarendon Hill via Highland avenue and Medford street
and Clarendon Hill via Somerville avenue. The two former lines run through the subway to Pleasant street, and later on, it is stated by General Hancock, may be run still further south. The Somerville avenue cars will go only to Scollay square.

Four lines using the Tremont street subway in addition to those just mentioned run up the incline as far as North Station West for the convenience of passengers making connection with the railroad trains.
These are the Forest Hills-North Station via Jamaica Plain; Roxbury Crossing-North Station via Fremont
street; Lenox street-North Station,
via Tremont street, and Dudley street-North Station via Shawmut avenue.

The greatest time saving effected
by the East Cambridge elevated extension is in the improved running time between the North Station West and Lechmere square, East Cambridge. This is now three minutes in place of the previous running time of ten minutes. Diversion to this service of much traffic that used to go through Sullivan square station is a natural consequence of the improved running time.

The comfort of passengers has been greatly increased by installing
the new high speed semi-convertible prepayment cars on this service over the viaduct. Heretofore the sharp turns and narrow streets of the West End have made it impossible to use large modern cars. All the cars operated on this extension will eventually be of the prepayment type.
Prepayment cars will be run on the Harvard square and Highland avenue lines and semi-convertible cars on the Somerville avenue lines.

PET STOCK SHOW

Yesterday, from 10.30 A. M. until 4 P. M. the Waban Annual Pet Stock
Show, under the auspices of the C.
C. C. Boys' Club was held on the Angler Farm. The entries were varied and interesting. Over fifty dogs were entered and the competition was particularly strong in the Boston Terrier, Doberman Pinscher, and Collie classes. All breeds of dogs were judged by Mr. G. M. Angier who awarded the blue ribbon for the best Boston Terrier to Mrs. Squires "Sonny Boy";
blue ribbon for the best Doberman Pinscher to Albert Angier's Graf Rupert; blue ribbon for the best Collie
to Dr. McGee.

Mr. Virginia Mason, whose St.
Bernard "Major" was a splendid specimen easily won the first prize in that class.

Albert Angier's Graf Rupert won
the silver cup for the best dog of any breed in the show.

Class 2—Cats. There were twenty-five entries in this class and Mrs.
Smith won first prize for the best short haired cat and Mrs. Butterworth won first prize for the best long haired cat. Mrs. Butterworth won first prize for the best cat in the show.

The competition in this class was very strong and a great deal of interest was shown during the judging
by Mrs. MacCammon of Auburndale.

Class 3. Poultry and Class 4. Pigeons, were judged by Mr. Herbert
W. Hayes the noted poultry fancier.
There were about fifteen entries in this class and Mr. Hayes found it hard work to decide upon the winner,
but finally blue ribbons were awarded to Wm. Saville and Albert Angier.

Class 5. Animals not otherwise classified, was judged by Mr. Francis F. Smith. This class consisted of rabbits, mice, rats, monkeys, squirrels, a possum, two pony outfits and a donkey outfit.

Miss Mason won the blue ribbon
in the rabbit class and specials were awarded to the various other entries.

Class 6. Birds not otherwise classified, was judged by Mr. Gifford Le-Clear. This class consisted of golden pheasants, wild ducks, canaries, and a nest of tamed crows. Specials were awarded to these entries. In the miscellaneous class which was judged
by Mr. F. C. Hodgins and Mr. H. R.
Lane there was lots of interest displayed. This class consisted of turtles, snakes, frogs, toads, etc.

Sherwood Smith won the blue ribbon for the best display of turtles.
The balance of the entries received special prizes.

The Club offered a silver cup to the exhibitor making the largest and most interesting and in the opinion of the judges the best display. This was won by Sherwood Smith.

Over two hundred and fifty residents of Waban attended the show
and everybody voted it a great success and the C. C. C. Boys' Club has decided to make it an annual affair.

Caldwell and Mr. Ewart Caldwell of the Hunnewell motored down to North Scituate this week and were guests at the summer home of Mr.
and Mrs. William Hobart Emerson.

—Next Sunday morning will be observed at Channing Church as Children's Sunday. There will be baptism of children and special music
by the Sunday School and choir.

—The ball team of the N. & W. Gas Light Co. defeated the Newton Postal Clerks yesterday at Cabot Park, 8 to
2. Lynch played well for the winners and McBride for the Postal Clerks.

—Mr. George Hill of Hunnewell race, who was taken suddenly ill yesterday afternoon with an acute attack of indigestion, while marching in the Grand Army parade, had recovered sufficiently this morning to attend to business as usual.

A large company of friends were delightfully entertained Wednesday evening at the residence of Mr. Bert Cormier, on Walnut Park, the occasion being a celebration of his birthday. An enjoyable program was

WOMEN'S CLUBS

MISS GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

On to Templeton will be the orders for the club women of Massachusetts next week. Favorable weather is the only thing needed to make the annual meeting of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs one of the most delightful ever held. The hostess club is making every preparation possible and the program as arranged offers much of interest. The official train leaves Boston for Gardner at 4 P. M. on Monday and every indication is for a large delegation and then there will be many going by automobile. Monday evening will be given up to informal conferences and general sociability. The convention proper will open on Tuesday morning with greetings from the hostess club and its acceptance from the president of the Federation, Mrs. Henry Coolidge Mulligan. The morning will be filled with reports of officers and chairmen of special committees, while in the afternoon there will be greetings from outside guests including the president of the New Jersey Federation and Mrs. Harriet Bishop Waters, the editor of the General Federation Bulletin. Four of the departments will submit their reports and the session will close with a lecture upon "Folk Music" by Prof. John Patton Marshall of Boston University assisted by Miss Edith Bullard of Boston.

In the evening there will be an entertainment in charge of the hostess club, followed by a reception at Templeton Inn when the visiting delegates will have opportunity to become better acquainted. Wednesday morning the delegates will settle down to the business of the annual meeting, electing officers and attending to other matters which properly come up at that time, after which the remaining departments will submit reports of their work through their chairmen. It is expected that the convention will adjourn in time for the delegates to return to their homes that evening.

PATRIOTIC PAGEANT

More than 500 children of Newton will have part in the Patriotic Pageant to be given on June 13 and 15 on the Clafin Ground, Newtonville, under the auspices of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs for the Social Service Fund. There will be parking space for one hundred automobiles as well as a large seating capacity. If stormy on either afternoon tickets will be good for the following Tuesday afternoon, June 18. The scenes as arranged are as follows: Prologue, solo dancer, Miss Mildred Macomber, Princess Pocahontas and Captain John Smith; Pilgrim Interlude, the Spinning Lesson; Duet dance, The Indian and Puritan Maiden; Merry Mount Scene, The Maypole Dance; Ferry Farm Plantation, George Washington's Home and George Washington's Fortune; Daniel Boone, Patriot, a Frontier Scene; Benjamin Franklin on Boston Common and at French Court; Abraham Lincoln, the Rail Splitter; closing with Liberty Dance, Old World and the New. Music will be furnished by the Boston Orchestra. The affair is in charge of Miss Margaret W. Shipman and promises to be of much interest.

INFORMAL DANCE

Members of the S. E. K. Society entertained at an informal dancing party on Wednesday evening at Riverside. The large hall at the Recreation Grounds was brilliantly illuminated with Japanese lanterns and a large company of merry dancers participated in the well arranged order of dances. An excellent program of music was furnished by Cole's Orchestra. The delightful affair was under the direction of the following committee: Miss Edith Jacobs, chairman; Miss Caroline Herron, and Miss Eleanor Eaton. The matrons were Mrs. Fred N. Day, Mrs. Chauncey Reid and Mrs. M. E. Herron.

PARENTS' DAY

Last Friday was Parents' Day at Miss Ellis's Private School on Summer street, Newton Centre.

After general exercises by the whole school, the children of the two upper grades entertained a most appreciative audience with a series of beautiful living pictures representing famous paintings.

The landscape backgrounds by Miss Ellis aroused great admiration and provided appropriate settings for the wonderful posing of the children within a large gilt frame. The subjects ranged from Murillo's peasants to Watts' Sir Galahad and as the pupils had studied the artists and their work during the last term, the program both expressed and stimulated their interest in these masterpieces.

Considerable research was necessary to find authentic descriptions or topics of the original paintings, for it was desired to have the costumes approximately correct in coloring. So many have expressed a desire for a public repetition of the entertainment where a large audience may enjoy it that possibly it may be given next season in aid of some charity. After the performance a medal for the best essay on a patriotic subject was presented to Miss Dorothy Greene of Alden street.

SUPT. MORRISON DEAD

Mr. Philip Morrison, division superintendent of the Boston & Albany Railroad, a lifelong resident of Watertown, died of heart trouble yesterday afternoon at his home, Elliot street, after an illness lasting four weeks. His wife and two sons survive, the latter being Edward P. Morrison of Allston and Harold B. of this town.

Mr. Morrison was known as one of the best equipped railroad operating officials in the country and possessed a wonderful memory. He was born in Watertown, Dec. 11, 1855, but was educated in the public schools in Brighton. He entered the employ of the Boston & Albany Railroad as a brakeman June 27, 1872, and worked his way up. On March 8, 1888, he was made assistant station master of the Boston & Albany Railroad at Boston in the old Kneeland street Station. He became station master July 1, 1893, trainmaster in July 1899, and assistant superintendent Feb. 1, 1904. He had served only a short time in the latter position when he received an appointment as division superintendent.

ALICE IN WONDERLAND

On Tuesday evening, May 28th, in Stearns School Hall, a group of children from Stearns Neighborhood House, gave an excellent dramatization of Alice in Wonderland.

Three acts were presented. The first was the scene in the wood in Wonderland in which Alice having fallen asleep, finds herself, under the guidance of the White Rabbit, exploring a strange land, peopled by very queer folk. In the second act, the famous Mad Tea Party proved very lively, in spite of fruitless attempts to keep the poor little Dromouse awake, during the extended remarks of the Mad Hatter. The third act, in the Queen's Palace, presented the famous trial scene in which stern justice is meted out to the thief who stole the "tarts" and "with them ran away."

The acting reflected great credit upon Miss Stevens, Mrs. Mason and Mrs. Ober, who had trained the children. Alice, whose lines and acting required dramatic ability as well as concentration and memory, proved quite equal to the demands made upon her by a difficult part. The King and Queen of Hearts were altogether regal and stern as befitted their exalted station.

All the Court ladies and gentlemen displayed becoming elegance, and the Animals were most convincing; particularly the little Dormouse, who slept audibly, and declared warmly that he had "heard every word that was said."

The cast was appropriately costumed and was as follows: Margaret Considine, Manilla Champagne, Marlton Blakeney, Florence Budroit, Beatrice Sampson, Paul Wing, Dominic Lombard, Bernadette Ducharme, Larry Visco, May Wombold, Aldea Boudoir, Clifford Diamond, Margaret Gaudet.

A large and appreciative audience witnessed the performance, which was repeated on Wednesday afternoon before all the pupils of the Stearns School.

MT. IDA SCHOOL

Shakespeare's play, "As You Like It," was admirably presented Tuesday evening in the gymnasium, by members of the graduating class at Mount Ida School, before a large and appreciative audience. The success of the entertainment was largely due to the efficient management of Miss Bertha Everett Morgan, who conducted the rehearsals, but the fact remains that there is splendid talent among the members of the class of 1912, the lines being all well delivered and the parts nicely interpreted. The cast included the Misses Blake, Tuttle, Delecker, Burt, Magoon, Webster, Slavens, Berry, Bramhall, Elliott, Harwood, Higgins, Halleran, Pollard, Van Dusen, Whiting, Saylor, Vromwell, Wood, Hayes, Shackleton, Stevens, Huffaker, Deau, Yeager, Libby, White, Moore, Hennessy, Daisy Frye, Beatrice and Helen Woodman and Alice Frye.

FATHER TIME'S RECEPTION

The children of Grace Church gave an enjoyable entertainment last Friday evening in the Parish house, and repeated it on Saturday afternoon to delighted audiences. The program was in two parts, the first being the Festival of the Daisies, and the second, Father Time's reception. Those taking part were Doris Hubbard, Annie Mitchell, Blanche and Eleanor Leacy, Maise Bowren, Emily Bown, Ellen Edwards, Edith Gillis, Mildred MacNutt, Helen Cazmay, Malcolm and Gladys Thompson, Hilda Sadler, John Bennett, Alice Westhaven, Katherine White, Marie and Margaret Bown, Maud Hastie, Ethel Tynan, Frances Ford, Raymond Ford, Myrtle Lamprey, Esther Elliott, Clarissa Townsend, Gertrude Dacey, Grace Sutcliffe, Henrietta Thompson, Edith Nystrand, Gertrude Westlake, Alice Cronin, Florence White, Florence Hall and Ethel Lyman.

FRUIT AND FLOWER MISSION

The summer's work of the Fruit and Flower Mission of the Newtonville Woman's Guild opens on Tuesday, June 4th, continuing on every Tuesday and Friday morning throughout the season.

Contributions of flowers, fruit, eggs, vegetables, jellies and plants will be received at the Newtonville R. R. station on Tuesdays and Fridays before 9 A. M. If not convenient to send any of the above articles small sums of money to buy fruit, etc., to fill the hampers may be sent to Lizzie C. Allen, Chairman, 56 Central Avenue, Newtonville.

PLEASING RECITAL

There were 12 numbers on the program presented by the pupils in the recital given by Mrs. Norman Marshall Friday evening at her residence on Chestnut street, West Newton, and every number was well received, apparently pleasing the large gathering. The program comprised works by the well known composers, Schubert, Lehman, Brownell, Tosti, Donizetti, Rotoli, Rubinstein, Charniadine, Rogers and Pfitzer. The singing of the thoroughly enjoyable writing was excellent and reflected much credit on both pupils and teacher. Groups of songs were admirably rendered by Miss A. C. Royce, Miss Mabel Wilbur, Miss Grace Dickerson, Miss Margaret Baker, Mrs. Mildred Chase, Mrs. George H. Collyer, Miss Louise Dix and Mrs. Charles Gatewood. Mrs. Gatewood was also heard in a pleasing solo by Holman, with cello accompaniment by Miss Elchler. The program enlisted the services of Miss M. L. Felton as pianist, who played the accompaniment with marked skill.

COMMENCEMENT AT MOUNT IDA SCHOOL

Never before in the history of the school was there such a large company as that which assembled Wednesday evening in the gymnasium to attend the graduating exercises at Mount Ida School. The program opened with the singing of the processional hymn "Onward Christian Soldiers," after which Rev. Thomas Chalmers, D. D., offered prayer. The chorus singing by the school was delightful and the entire audience gave evidence that both numbers, the "Spring Song," and "Song of Thanksgiving," were appreciated to the fullest extent. President G. Stanley Hall, LL. D., of Clark University, gave an eloquent and forceful address on "The Feelings and Emotions; What they are, and how to control them," after which came the presentation of diplomas by the principal, Mr. George F. Jewett. The exercises closed with the Benediction by Rev. E. C. Pollard, D. D., and singing by the chorus of the recessional hymn, "On Our Way Rejoicing." Music was furnished by the Chadenp trio.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

Memorial service for the deceased members of Charles Ward Post 62, G. A. R., were held Sunday morning at the Channing Unitarian Church, Newton. Forty members of the post in uniform assembled at the Newton station at 10 o'clock and marched to the church. The Sons of Veterans, Daughters of Veterans and Spanish War Veterans attended.

The services were conducted by Rev. Harry Lutz, the pastor, assisted by S. P. Putnam, chaplain of the post, who read the Scripture and offered prayer. The sermon was delivered by Rev. Mr. Lutz. Special musical selections were rendered by the church choir, under the direction of W. B. Sturtevant, closing with the singing of "America." After the services the veterans, under Commander Charles Odgen, marched back to the station, where they disbanded.

BACCALAUREATE SERVICE

There was a large attendance at the Baccalaureate Service held Sunday evening in the chapel at Mt. Ida School. Professor Archibald Thompson Davidson opened the exercises with an organ prelude followed by a processional hymn by the seniors, after which there was responsive reading, Scripture and prayer. A vocal selection "Angels Ever Bright" and "Fair" was admirably rendered by Miss Hewins. Rev. Orlin Philip Gifford D. D., of Brookline, delivered the Baccalaureate sermon. The Benediction, recessional by the seniors and an organ postlude by Prof. Davidson concluded the service.

The growler is not wanted anywhere.

RECEPTION

The social event of the week was the charmingly appointed reception given by Mrs. Prescott Warren Tuesday afternoon from 4 to 6 at her residence on Hyde avenue. Members of society numbering several hundred were in attendance from Boston, Brookline and the Newtons. The large reception rooms, with their beautiful out-look were artistically adorned for the occasion with palms and a profusion of roses. In the living room were yellow marguerites and the hall was bright with crimson-rambler roses and ferns with a background of palms. In the dining room there was an effective arrangement of Aaron Ward roses on table and mantles. The reception room, with its handsome grown plants and palms, was attractively decorated with Killarney roses. Mrs. Warren wore a beautifully embroidered gown of white lace over blue and carried a large bunch of Killarney roses; she was assisted in receiving by her mother, Mrs. Frances E. Stanley, who was exquisitely gowned in golden meteor, embroidered in shades of blue, and carried Aaron Ward roses. Miss Mary Glover and Mrs. Edward M. Hallett served frappe in the living room; Mrs. Hallett wore a handsome gown of claret colored chiffon with large, black picture hat. On the enclosed piazza where punch was served Carl Behr's orchestra furnished a delightful program of music. Mrs. Gaston A. Scherer presided in the dining room and was assisted at the table by the following servers: Miss Emma B. Walker, Miss Sallie Cutler, Mrs. Clarence C. Smith, Mrs. F. O. Stanley, Mrs. John Ames of Boston and the Misses Elizabeth Van Tassel, Margaret Greener and Margaret Oldham. The ladies who poured were Mrs. Freeland O. Stanley, Mrs. Fred H. Loveland, Mrs. Harry B. Priest, Mrs. Francis Dana, Mrs. John E. Oldham and Mrs. Margaret Holcomb.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL BOYS MEET

Mason School Wins an Exciting Athletic Match

The annual field and track meet of the Grammar schools of the city was held on the grounds of the Newton Y. M. C. A. last Saturday and aroused much enthusiasm among the small army of youngsters who entered the various events and their strong lunged partisans.

The small boy who wanted to see everything was kept busy running from one side of the field where the track events were being run off, to the other side, where the field events were held. The crack of the pistol starting the dashes was the signal for a rush one way and there was a move in the other direction when the winner had been decided.

The Mason School boys led the field in the number of points, having 33 to 30 1-2 for Stearns, 23 for Bigelow, 20 for Peirce, 9 1-2 for Claffin and a solitary 1 for Horace Mann.

The winners were as follows:
25-Yard Dash for Juniors—Won by Hayes, Stearns; Meekins, Peirce, second; Diamond, Stearns, third.

50-Yard Dash for Intermediates—Won by Boudrot, Stearns; Mosher, Mason, second; McGrath, Mason, third.

100-Yard Dash for Juniors—Won by Diamond, Mason; Berry, Mason, second; Meekins, Peirce, third.

220-Yard Dash for Intermediates—Won by Garrity, Peirce; Reed, Bigelow, second; Nutting, Mason, third.

100-Yard Dash. Seniors—Won by Weeks, Peirce; Joyner, Peirce, second; Quinn, Stearns, third.

440-Yard Dash. Seniors—Won by Jacobson, Bigelow; Weeks, Peirce, second; Spencer, Bigelow, third.

Junior High Jump—Won by Daniels, Claffin; Marsters, Mason, Berry, Mason, tied for second.

Junior Broad Jump—Won by Diamond, Stearns; Berry, Mason, second; Daniels, Claffin, third.

Intermediate High Jump—Won by Warren, Mason; Covinton, Claffin, second; Briggs, Mann, third.

Intermediate Broad Jump—Won by Warren, Mason; Baker, Bigelow, second; Murray, third.

Senior High Jump—Won by Jacobson, Bigelow; Adams, Mason, second; Macomber, Claffin, and Boudrot, Stearns, tied for third.

Senior Broad Jump—Won by Doherty, Stearns; Adams, Mason, second; Spencer, third.

Shotput—Won by Jacobson, Bigelow; Quinn, Stearns, second; Adams, Mason, third.

A special event was a relay race between Mason and Claffin, which was won by the Claffin team.

The meet was in charge of Dr. A. D. Browne of the High School, Mr. William Macpherson was the starter, Mr. C. W. Waldron, scorer, and Messrs. Van Buskirk, Litchfield and Rogers were the judges. The field events were in charge of Mr. C. R. Reed.

NEWTON Y. M. C. A.

First Outdoor Athletic Meet a Success

The first outdoor athletic meet held by the Newton Y. M. C. A. was conducted Saturday afternoon on the local field. The attendance was small, but competition was good. The results are as follows:

Running High Jump—Won by T. H. Morton, height 5 ft. 2 in., 2d Hodgson, 3d Jaquith.

Running Broad Jump—Showed some good performance, especially that of T. H. Morton who cleared 21 ft. 2 in. and Chamberlin who was second with a jump of 20 feet 3 1-2 in., 3d was John Irving.

100-Yard Dash was won by L. Van Buskirk, time 10 4-5 seconds, 2d was A. Craig, 3d Ellison.

300-Yard Run was won by Van Buskirk in the fast time of 35 seconds, C. V. Moore was second and A. Craig third.

800-Yard or 1-2 Mile was won by Wright, time was 2 min. 13 seconds, Snow was second and C. V. Moore third.

12-lb. Shot Put was won by Jaquith, 36 ft. 5 in., C. V. Moore, second, 34 ft. 2 in., Wansker, third, 32 ft. 4 in.

The Association is planning to give instruction to every school boy in the Newtons who cannot swim. Mr. Macpherson is receiving co-operation of the principals and already one school has recorded 80 boys who cannot swim. The instruction will be free. The officers of the Association are planning the details of the campaign. The following days have been set aside for the instruction: June 6, 7, 8, 10, 11, 12.

This has been carried on in many cities by the Y. M. C. A. with great success. In Columbus, Ohio, 1500 boys and men were taught to swim during one of these campaigns. In Bellingham, Washington, 500 were taught. In Omaha, Nebraska, the school board thought so much of the swimming campaign that it considered a knowledge of swimming equal in value to a knowledge of arithmetic and allowed the boys time off during the morning in which to get their instruction. 2,000 school boys in this city were taught how to swim. It is expected that at least 400 boys will be reached by the Association.

When it is considered that nearly 5,000 lives are lost each year through accidental drowning the importance of this instruction can readily be seen, especially in our own city where the boys frequent the Charles River so much.

Mr. Macpherson addressed 250 sailors on board the Battleship Virginia last Thursday evening. His subject was "Recreation and its Relation to Morale."

Trouble always runs to meet the man who goes out to hunt it.

Love never has to be watched to see that it does a full day's work.

AN OUTING FOR THE POOR BOYS OF BOSTON

Arrangements have been made whereby three hundred and twenty different boys from the slum districts in Boston will be given an outing during the hot months of July and August.

It will be a real outing. The boys will have the green athletic field at the Y. M. C. A. to play baseball and other games.

They will be given a swim in the pool and lunch will be given to the boys.

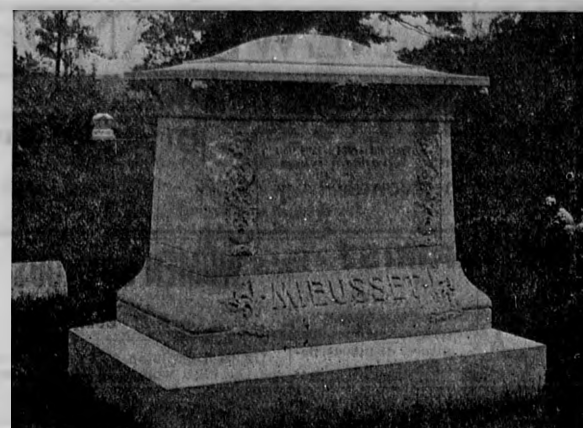

To make this possible, one hundred dollars is needed to pay for lunches and carriages. One-fifth of the amount has been subscribed. Eighty more friends are asked to give one dollar each to Mr. J. W. Blaisdell, treasurer, Newton Y. M. C. A., Newton, Mass.

FIFTH WEEK OF THE POPS

The second half of the pop season in Symphony Hall begins next Monday evening, June 3rd, with Mr. Andre Maquarre as conductor for the rest of the season.

Two Special Nights are scheduled for next week. On Tuesday night is the annual "Tech Night" when the house is sold out to the Institute of Technology and there are no seats placed at the disposal of the general public. Williams College will celebrate its third "Night" at the Pops on Wednesday evening and this promises to be one of the best of the College Nights of the year. Other special features will be announced from time to time.

The rent in the clothes will not pay the rent of the house.
